DREDGING THE HARBOR

hat diffident way it is true, that the inister of public works has not dredg-t the harbor of St. John, according ed the harbor of St. John, according to his promise. There are certainly Telegraph is out by a couple of years at least in regard to the time when Col. Tucker secured from Mr. Tarte dredged and that right speedily Four or five years have passed and still these improvements have not been made. At the time the promise was great work done by the member for in the course of this highly eulogistic article that Col. Tucker had obtained during his first term what conserva tive members had been unable to get quickly. Col. Tucker has had the promise for some years, but the subdowy distance.

mplaint, quite correctly goes on to remark:

"Soundings were taken by the en"gineers of the public works department showing some 23 feet of water
'at the lowest spring tides, which in 'years past was quite sufficient for 'all practical purposes, but which is 'today insufficient owing to the larger
'type of deep draught steamers em'ployed in the trans-Atlantic freight 'trade." But thas is all that was done. Despite the fact that the proper maintenance of the port is one of "national importance," the government has allowed this state of affairs to exist, for four years, after a promise was given that the matter would be attendby Mr. Blair's paper that the dominion dredges were too busy to allow their being sent to St. John and the work was delayed to give time for a suitable dredge to be constructed is oo absurd for belief. While the government dredges may have been busy part of the time, yet similar work to that needed here has been farmed of a suitable dredge for the St. John mprovements is still a thing of the future. Had the promise given by the minister of public works to the membeen for any other save political effect long ago. But Mr. Tarte knew the nen with whom he was dealing. The will be made only when the matter is tion. So long as the representatives from this city and county are satisfied y promises, just so long will the worl of dredging be delayed, and the effiiency of this port impaired. A PESSIMISTIC PROPHET.

The Annexation of Canada is the subject of an article by William T. which occupied a page and a ly. Mr. Stead, in a former article predicted the ultimate union of the English-speaking world, and the transfer of the central power from London to Washington. His view was that the colonies would gradually themselves from the rest of the empire to link their fortunes with those of the republic, Canada being the last to so, and that eventually the British Isles would be compelled by force of circumstances, if they did not do it from choice, to seek entry into the great union. In his latest article Mr. Stead deals exclusively with Canada and the United States, declaring that union is inevitable. The forces which will bring it about, in his opinion, are commerce, emigration, the investment litical complications arising out of fishery and boundary disputes, the presence of a compact French population in one part of Canada, the similarity of the two countries, and some mine influences.

Mr. Stead pays a very high tribute to the character of the Canadian people, and frankly admits their passionate loyalty to the empire, in which he offects to see "something almost pathetic." But his point of view is that of a pessimistic Englishman, who is a pronounced pro-Boer. Moreover, he is not careful to be accurate. He tells us that the Vanderbiit railway combination has got a grip on the Nova. us that the Vanderbilt rativary com-bination has got a grip on the Nova Scotia coal and iron industry, and he locates the Dominion Iron and Steel Co. at Sault Ste Marie. He is much impressed by the increasing trade be-tween Canada and the United States, but does not appear to recognize the steadily growing sentiment toward a closer union of mother country and contents. That the idea of annexation.

TO HUNT UP ALDERMIN

Order to Pass the Resolution Exempting the Cotton Mills From Taxes.

The regular monthly meeting of the common council was held yesterday afternoon. Mayor Daniel presided, afternoon. Mayor Daniel presided, and all the members were present at the opening of the session, although towards the close there were several absentees, which fad led 4a the lengthening of the meeting, it being impossible till Ald. Tufts was recalled to the chamber to get a two-thirds vote for the resolution extending to the Cornwall and York Cotton Mills Company the exemptions it was agreed by the council to give them in November on their compliance with certain requirements. Ald. Hilyard and Waring refused to vote for the resolution granting the concessions, and vember on their compliance with certain requirements. Ald, Hilyard and Waring refused to vote for the resolution granting the concessions, and Ald. Robinson declined to cast his vote on account of his having acquired an interest in the mills. This left but nine aldermen to vote-for the resolution, whereas it required a two-thirds vote, which means the mayor and ten aldermen. The return of Ald. Tufts was sufficient to carry the resolution. The council decided by a slim majority to restore the salary of Chief Engineer Kerr of the fire department to the old figure, $1,200. There was a large attendance of citizens early in the afternoon, but the majority of them departed when the safety board's report had been disposed of.

The motion to increase the salary of Chief Kerr from $1,000 to $1,200 per annum was carried by a vote of $1 to 7. Ald. Tufts, White, Waring, McGoldrick, Baxter, Colwell, Hilyard and Macrae voting in the affirmative, and Ald. Armstrong, Christie, Maxwell, Robinson, McMulkin, Milledge and Senton in the negative.

The report of the public works board, which among other things recommended that the new scale of rates be paid to the teamster's union, was adopted. The treasury board recommended that others be paid. They recommended that others be paid. They recommended the reasure to a so a deficiency to the extent of $5,000, a grant of $3,000 be given the 25,000.

This carried. Ald. Christic opposed the grant and moved in amendment that a plebiscite be taken at the next civic election to determine if the people wanted exhibitions. The only supporter of this was Ald. Armstrong.

The special committee appointed to look into the petition of the Cornwall and York Cotton Mills Co. for exemption from taxation and on water rates up to $2,000 a year for ten years, reported having found that the company had compiled with all the requirements, and recommended that the exemptions be granted, the same to cease in the event of the mills not being operated to the satisfaction of the Council They submitted a resolut eight months in each year to get these concessions.

A two-thirds vote was required to carry the resolution, and only nine aldermen voted for it, namely, Aldermen Macrae, Maxwell, Baxter, Colwell, Christle, McGoldrick, Millidge, Seaton and Armstrong—nine in all.

Ald. Waring and Hilyard, who were present, did not vote, and Ald. Robinson remained in the ante-room. He said he did not wish to vote, being interested in the mills.

Ald. Hilyard intimated that other comparies, including one in which he had an interest, would seek similar concess m, so he did not care to vote.

comparies, including one in which he had an interest, would seek similar concess vns, so he did not care to vote. Ald. V/aring said this resolution did not, cover the decision of the Council when the exemptions were agreed upon. He wanted to give the company a fair chance, but he wished to see the interests of the city guarded, and he was afraid the resolution did not do that. He wanted the number of operatives to be employed named in the resolution. Then the mills might pass into other hands. Where was the protection for the city then?

The matter was laid on the table for a few moments, when Ald. Tufts appeared.

The vote was taken and all present voted for and adopted the resolution. Those present were: The mayor and Aldermen Macrae, Maxwell, Baster, Coiwell, Christie, McGoldrick, Millidge, Seaton, Tutts and Armstrong.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—At a mass meeting held in Exeter Half tonight Gen.

of habitual drumkards with liquor endangered the publican's license, and that he intended to compile a drumkard's directory in each town and follow the habitual drumkards home and reform them there.

The Teamsters' Union met in Sutherland's hall last evening, 200 members being present. Fifty more joined before the meeting closed. The occasion was a happy one, as the City Council had accepted their advanced rates of $4.50 for single and $4 for double teams. The union adhered to its determination not to work for the St. John Ice Co. except at the fixed scale. It was reported that almost every reliable teamster in the city was a member of the union and that the small minority of good men yet outside would join at an early date.

Remarkable Function Planned to En tertain the Philanthropist, tertain the Philanthropist.

Andrew Carnegie will be the guest at a most remarkable function when he attends the dedication, next Thursday, of the new Carnegie Laboratory of Engineering, adjoining Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, for which he donated $65,600. Novettes of many kinds, prepared by the students, will be the distinguishing feature.

First, he will receive a handsomely engraved silver casket containing a piece of the first T rail produced. The rail was made at the works of Sir John Guest, in Wales, according to the design and under the personal supervision of Robert L. Stevens, of Hooken, in 1830. It will be accompanied by fac similes of the various documents connected with the production, such as the drawings and specifications, bills and letters.

President Henry Morton, of the faculty, will make the presentation on behalf of the Stevens Alumni Association in appreciation of Mr. Carnegie's gift to the institute.

After the dedication a collation will be served on the second floor of the new building. The table decorations will be novel.

THE OLD FOLK nutritious bread is absolutely essentia-for the preservation of health and the prolongation of life, and young people will do well to take a lesson from their elders. The bread we make will bring the glow of health to your cheeks, and is in every way conductive to long-evity, because it's first, last and all the time wholesome.
