FRANCE NEEDS KING SAYS PAUL BOURGET

His New Play Aims at Reawakening of the Saving Energy of the Upper Classes.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—Pataud, the Light King, has won a day's renown as a humorist. Some one had suggested that Paul Bourget had taken Pataud as the model for the strike leader in his new play "La Barricade." Pataud wrote in an ironical vein to Bourget, saying that he would like to see for himself whether he was really in the piece, and offering the author to return for an orchestra stall, a place at the end of his wooden bench at the next general meeting of the Electricians' Union.

M. Bourget was greatly amused by the letter, and sent Pataud two seats at the Vaudeville Theatre instead of one. At the same time, in amiable terms, he disavowed any intention of a personal portrayal.

Paul Bourget has been induced by various criticisms of his play to state the political conviction which inspired it. He declared himself a royalist, and believes that a king is needed to arbitrate between the conflicting classes of society, and a church to regulate the passions of men.

The question raised in "La Barricade," he says, is whether it is not urgent to prevent a second Reign of Terror in France by a reawakening of the saving energy in the upper classes.

"It seems still to be possible," he says, "that is all I have desired to indicate, without pretending to dictate for that energy its rule of action. At most I have emphasized certain conditions of its exercise: first, in association with the sound energy of the people; second, a large humanity in the struggle itself; third, a reform of the prevailing morality."

"I believe all this feasible, but if the General Federation of Labor arrives at the point where it will govern France, whatever social and political reconstruction there is will not change the real intimate life of the nation any more than did that which followed the great upheaval of 1789."

"Why not spare France the horrible destruction and waste of another Terror and another Commune?"

NO GAMBLING IN THESE PROVINCES

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—The Commons special committee on the anti-gambling bill this morning continued the hearing of evidence from the opponents of the bill. Mr. Spurgeon Gammon of New Glasgow, N.S., gave some details as to horse racing in the Maritime Provinces. He is a well-known starter, and has had large experience in breeding horses, and in racing in Nova Scotia. He said that race meets were connected in that province under the rules of the association, but that there was not much gambling at the tracks though pools were sold over night.

MRS. R. H. DAVIS WRITES FINIS TO LOVE STORY

Counsel to Arrange Domestic Settlement With Well Known Author

Living Apart for Nearly Three Years—Husband Also Engaged Lawyer, Who Will Present His Case.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Mrs. Richard Harding Davis, wife of the war correspondent and writer, has engaged counsel to represent her in matters relating to the conditions under which Mr. and Mrs. Davis will in future live. This fact became known definitely yesterday, although there was no intimation of the nature of the turn the personal affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Davis would take. Mrs. Davis has retained the law firm of Jerome & Hand to give attention to her part of a settlement that has been considered as inevitable for some months.

It is known that Mr. and Mrs. Davis have been living apart for almost three years. She is now residing at No. 33 West Sixty-seventh street, while Mr. Davis is making his home at the Hotel Webster. There has been no announcement as to their plans. Apparently aware of the action of Mrs. Davis in retaining counsel, Mr. Davis, it was learned, had the younger Mr. Davis, his side of the case to Mr. George Young Baugh.

The separation of Mr. and Mrs. Davis ends a romance that began with the days of childhood. She was Miss Cecil Clark, daughter of Mr. John M. Clark of Chicago, who was president of a telephone company. Miss Clark was one of the popular younger girls of her debutante days. She is a brunette of striking type and many accomplishments.

Mr. Davis was an impetuous actor. Detained in England at the moment when he had planned to give his fiancée her engagement ring, he employed a messenger in England and sent the ring to her in this country. Their marriage followed, May 4, 1889, at St. Gabriel's Chapel, Marlon, Mass. Miss Ethel Barrymore was bridesmaid and a distinguished company witnessed the ceremony. After the wedding their honeymoon by the sea became a romantic voyage.

Mr. Davis was born in 1864. His father, Mr. L. Clarke Davis, was an editor of note and the younger Mr. Davis was born into an atmosphere of letters. He did his first work while a student at Lehigh. Life published his first verses, and he said once that he earned his first $5 writing the story of a race run for the Evening Post. After a course at Johns Hopkins University, Mr. Davis went to Philadelphia, where he engaged regularly in newspaper work.

He went to the Philadelphia Press for two years and then to the Telegraph. New York then, dawned upon his horizon and he came to this city and became a member of the staff of the Sun. He developed marked ability as a magazine writer, and his first success in this field was with the selection as managing editor for Harper's, a post he held for three years. When he left the Sun, he devoted himself exclusively to his chosen work as a writer.

A number of books of adventure, of travel and of novelistic interest came rapidly from his pen. In the Spanish-American War he went to the front as a correspondent, making the entire Cuban campaign. From this work he absorbed material for more valuable literary productions.

The Deer was next engaged his attention. He went to South Africa as a correspondent and sent many graphic stories describing the operations at the front. The advance on Ladysmith was one of the notable descriptive articles telegraphed by him during the South African campaign.

DIGBY HOUSE BROKEN INTO

DIGBY, N. S., Jan. 20.—A bold case of burglary in broad daylight occurred here today, when the residence of Rose C. Smallie was entered. Fifty dollars was stolen and the upper part of the house ransacked. Smallie and his father were at his son's place of business at the time. Mrs. Smallie was calling on a neighbor, the children were at school, the hired girl at the store, the latter being absent only a few minutes. Chief Bowles suspects three foreign sailor men who have been hanging about Digby for several days and were seen loitering near Smallie's house just before the break. The night they struck down the summer residence of A. D. Bonham of New York was entered, but nothing molested. They are also suspected of this. Their capture is looked for by tonight.

A Handsome Woman

Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good points nature has given her. No woman need have sallow skin, dull eyes, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health. Where constipation, liver derangements, blood impurities and other irregularities exist, good complexion, bright eyes and sprightly movements cannot exist. Internal derangements reveal themselves sooner or later on the surface. Headache, dark rings around the eyes, sallow skin, constant tired feeling—mean that the liver and digestive organs are needing help and correction. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help. They work in a gentle way. They do not merely flush the bowels but tone up the liver and aid the digestive organs. So mild and gentle do they act that one hardly realizes that they are doing their proper function. Chamberlain's Tablets can be relied upon to relieve biliousness, indigestion, constipation and dizziness. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents.

SEARCHING FOR HELPLESS SHIP

Bengore Head Bound to St. John Floats About Disabled

Pomeranian Has Her in Tow But Was Forced to Leave Her—Thirteen Steamers in Search.

ST. JOHN, N. F., Jan. 20.—After towing the disabled Head Line steamer, Bengore Head since last Sunday, the Allan Line steamer Pomeranian left her prize seven miles off here this afternoon, when a third hawser broke. The Bengore Head is now adrift, helpless.

Three steamers left St. John's today, the Woburn, Beetham and Bonaventure, to cruise about the coast in search of the crippled freighter. The Pomeranian secured a new hawser here and then left immediately in an effort to save the helpless steamer also. The Pomeranian with a passenger and freight aboard for Havre and London, left St. John, N. B., of January 12, and sailed from Halifax two days later. The Bengore Head loaded a cargo of freight at Maryport, England, and sailed from that port on December 27 for St. John, N. B. She carries no passengers. Her crew consists of about forty men.

On Sunday when two days out from Halifax and off the Virgin Rocks on the Newfoundland coast, the Pomeranian sighted a steamer flying distress signals. The craft proved to be the Bengore Head, which had been disabled. The Pomeranian, although he had passengers on board attached a hawser to the helpless steamer. He knew that the Bengore Head should be drit much longer, would undoubtedly fetch up on Virgin Rock, in which vicinity the Bengore Head, which was meant to be certain death, was most on board.

The tremendous strain of towing and the continued buffeting by the seas was more than wovevasted and help could stand, and twice the Pomeranian was parted from her charge by the breaking of the tow line. When the steamers were seven miles off the entrance of this harbor, this morning, the third hawser—the last on board either steamer—this time being caught in the Pomeranian's propeller.

MURDER FEVER IN NEW YORK AND CHICAGO

Atrocious Triple Murder—Two Women and a Man

Young Girl Brav'ly Slain in Chicago—New York Man Shot.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—One of the most atrocious murders in the police history of Chicago was unceremoniously today, when the decapitated and revoltingly mutilated body of Anna Furlong, also known as Jennie Cleghorn, 24 years old, was found in a room on West 17th street. Little is known of the murdered woman except that she came here from St. Louis seven months ago and that she was married, but living apart from her husband. She had been an inmate of the resort several weeks. The head was evidently carried away from the body in an attempt to conceal the identity of the woman. The scalp with the hair and one ear hanging to it were found under a bed.

A long knife was found concealed beneath the mattress. On open trunk showed that perhaps the murderer made an attempt to conceal the body. A basin of bloody water and a newspaper stained with blood were also in the room.

The police have six persons in custody and it is said more arrests will soon be made. Those under arrest are: Willie Taylor, colored, proprietress of the resort; Lilly Dale and Lottie Wilson, said to be inmates, and William Anderson, a negro hanger-on. Gilda, a porter in the resort, and John Edwards, a half-breed Indian.

The Dale woman admitted that she and the murdered woman quarreled yesterday and that she struck the Furlong woman. The Dale woman, who was revealed in an obscure flat in the heart of New York's East Side at dusk today. Two women and a man were the victims and the manner of death was horrible. Gagged with silk handkerchiefs, and with their heads crushed with a hammer or an axe, they were left bleeding on the floor with a whimpering bull terrier as companion for the dead. Robbery was the motive, or else it is another case of the Black Hand.

Salvatore Scalpone, a well-to-do young Italian barber, who with a middle-aged woman, believed to have been Mrs. Scalpone's mother, were the unfortunate.

Scalpone's body was found in the kitchen, tied to the door, with the face battered beyond recognition and lying in a great smear of blood. Near his master stood the bulldog, cowering and blood-spattered. The animal had paced aimlessly from body to body, sniffing one and then another, staining the floor crimson with his hoof prints and wailing for human aid. In the next room were the corpses of the women, sagged, as was the man, the handkerchiefs being similarly knotted and the heads battered as if the same instrument were used on all three. But no implement with which such wounds could have been inflicted was found in the flat. Inspection by the officers revealed dire confusion; drawers were dumped out, cupboards ransacked, mattresses tipped open and every conceivable hiding place for money or valuable was pried open. In a little hallway last traces of the murderer or murderers were found. There, concealed under a potato sack was a basin half filled with bloody water, a blood-stained vest and a pair of overalls, also blood-spattered. The water to be administered by her to her husband, from the effects of which he died.

That the jury did not convict you of murder in the first degree must be attributed to the fact that the Commonwealth was compelled to call as a witness Mrs. Tracey, who was indicted jointly with you for the crime, and who made contradictory statements. This woman loved you better than her husband, and in part of the evidence showed in her a change of heart toward you.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Frederick Boettcher, a Brooklyn jeweller, was ransacked and fatally shot in his store today by an unknown man who ended his life by taking a capsule of carbolic acid, before he could be locked up. Boettcher identified his assailant as a man who came into his store not long ago and looked at some diamond rings. It was on this plea that the jeweller started to come from behind the counter, the stranger pulled a chain of his belt, filled with sand and shot from his belt pocket, and struck him a crushing blow on the head. As Boettcher reeled the man fired a shot at him which took effect behind the jeweller's left ear.

Do You Realize What it Means to be Able to Buy Oak Hall Overcoats at One-Half Oak Hall Regular Prices?

These overcoats are a few of a kind left from the heavy selling during the past four days of our mid-winter sale, and will be sold at One Half Their Original Prices. To fully realize the startling importance of this opportunity you must understand why half-price at Oak Hall! means so much more than half-price anywhere else.

As makers of the clothing we sell, we sell to you directly at practically the same prices other stores pay at wholesale. For instance a overcoat for which other stores pay $12 wholesale and for which they charge $16.50 to $18.00, at retail can be bought from us for $12.00 in the first place. Now, if any other store reduces this overcoat "half-price" its cost to you would be $8.25 to $9.00, but when we reduce it to "half-price" all you have to pay is half of $12.00 or $6.00. And so it goes right through the line. You can understand, therefore, why buying Oak Hall clothes at half-price generally means buying at 33 1-3 cents on the dollar, according to other stores prices. Plenty of wearing time ahead for the overcoats. So it will pay you handsomely to invest in this proposition now as to the overcoats themselves.
