WALL STREET IS DOING BUSINESS WITHOUT MONEY. This concern is considered perfectly solvent, but it has sustained, perhaps, the most terrific run in history, and is now hurrying to cash deposits just now. Every other bank and trust company is making an effort to withhold its cash, and the same news comes from all over the country.

Chicago, Cincinnati, Boston, Philadelphia, Omaha, Baltimore, Milwaukee and many other cities are issuing clearing house certificates. Chicago and Philadelphia were today doing business on a check basis, the banks limiting withdrawals to actual needs of the community. The Pittsburgh stock exchange has not reopened. The weak point here just now seems to be the trust companies. No action was taken today by clearing houses to admit them to membership, so that they may take advantage of clearing house certificates, and it is understood that considerable opposition to the plan has developed. It may be that a trust company or two will be heard from in the next few days.

Already scandals of all sorts are brewing, and only await the subsidence of turmoil to be exploited. The present crisis has uncovered some pretty rotten financial conditions, but little is said about it, in view of the present conditions. Banks Held Their Currency. (Associated Press). New York, Oct. 28.—The principal event in the financial district today indicated that the worst of the crisis was over and that matters were settling down to comparatively normal conditions. There were no further bank suspensions, and reports from Europe for importation of most of the banks which closed temporarily last week. The engagement of $18,750,000 in gold from Europe for importation to New York was followed later by the announcement of sales of American Copper abroad, which will further increase the tide of foreign money to this country to an aggregate of more than $25,000,000.

This, with the rapid rise of gold securities on the stock exchange, in some cases as much as four and five per cent, which was naturally followed by a slight reaction at the close, and the policy of the trust companies not to pay out currency for boarding purposes, all contributed to strengthen the feeling in banking quarters and among the public at large.

So well was the situation in hand that there was no such scrubbing out of leading financiers and hasty conferences as chief justice for Nova Scotia, to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Sir Robert Westgarth. Capt. J. E. Eagles had the misfortune to meet with a rather serious accident Tuesday morning. He was leading his horse from the stable, when the wind slammed the door on his arm, breaking two bones in his wrist.

Plans are being prepared for a new I. C. R. depot in Truro. A convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of Hants is called for Tuesday, Oct. 25, the purpose of selecting a candidate for the federal election. It is freely stated that Fred W. Hanwright, barrister, of Halifax, will be the choice of the convention. Mr. Hanwright was the Conservative candidate in 1904, when he was defeated by sixty majority by Dr. J. B. Black, the present member.

A largely attended meeting of ladies and gentlemen interested in the establishment of a hospital at Yarmouth was held Thursday afternoon at the Grand Hotel, of that place. The gathering included the local doctors and many prominent people. Mayor Hood occupied the chair. After considerable discussion it was decided to form the Yarmouth Hospital Society, of which all present were made charter members. It was decided to line all day, though many of these had waited in front of the company's building in Fifth avenue since the closing last Saturday. Officials of the company said that the company had exceeded the $200,000 limit of deposits during the day had exceeded the withdrawals by $200,000, and that the company had been able to collect $223,000 of outstanding loans, so that the day's business showed an increase in cash of $319,000.

Long Wait in Front of Bank. There was a distinct diminution of the run of the Lincoln Trust Company today. There were less than fifty depositors in line all day, though many of these had waited in front of the company's building in Fifth avenue since the closing last Saturday. Officials of the company said that the company had exceeded the $200,000 limit of deposits during the day had exceeded the withdrawals by $200,000, and that the company had been able to collect $223,000 of outstanding loans, so that the day's business showed an increase in cash of $319,000.

Reports from trust companies all over the city today state that normal conditions obtain and that incipient runs on several minor companies had failed to develop. The importation of $17,000,000 in gold, which comes largely from London, is having a beneficial effect on the money market as its direct financial effect. It means that credit can be sustained under the twenty-five per cent reserve law to the amount of $68,000,000, and that the banks will be in position to keep their cash reserves intact, even against considerable demands.

The fact that exchange rates turned so quickly in favor of this country and that the gold was so readily obtained was accepted as an indication that the money market of American financial institutions is not seriously questioned in Europe. It is believed that more gold will be imported within a short time. The crisis has come at the most favorable moment for the importation of gold, because the movements of money in London are heavily credit balances in favor of the United States which have not been discounted this year by the sale of finance bills. Another factor which facilitates the imports of gold is the large orders for American securities which reached the stock exchange today in London. The amount of gold on the continent. Foreign investors study carefully American properties, and they are evidently convinced that sound as an indication that the money market level which will make their purchases profitable.

The gold stock of the country is already more than twice what was available in 1893, even according to liberal estimates of the amount in circulation at that time. The treasury has been able to purchase gold certificates in circulation, to the amount of almost $20,000,000, or five times its resources for protecting the public since the year 1898.
