NOTICES OF THE WISDOM OF THE KING

Rev. James Bennet, ST. JOHN, N. B.

EVIDENCES of deep and serious thought throughout the volume."-Belfast News "Succeeds well in seizing on the salient points f the words of the Royal Preacher, and in ringing them home to present duty."—Glasgow brily Review, Feb 6, 1871. "Characterized by directness of aim, sound sense, and right appreciation of the sacred writer's meaning."—The Preachers' Lantern, (London), Feb. 1871.

"His Book may be recommended as worth take a place in the Homiletical Literature of Coclesiastes," - British Quarterly Review, April astes, and well remember the pleasure with which years ago we perused the 'Royal Preacher,' but for fine criticism, comprehensiveness of thought, striking illustration and unostentations, yet eloquent and forcible style, The Wispom of Phe King, we think, surpasses them all."

"The production of a highly cultivated mind.

"The production of a highly cultivated mind.

—St. Croix Courier, March 6, 1871.

"The volume is not an unworthy companion of Dr. Buchanan on the same book."—The Homilist (London), April 1871. milist (London), April 1871.

"A series of charming Essays. . . . Each chapter branches out into innumerable topics of a resendary and collateral nature, giving to the work a boundless diversity, enriched with stores of ethical as well as of spiritual wisdom, evincing at once acute observation of social lies and of human charactor, and containing the noisest lessons for practical guidance. Our author's style is remarkable for its frez. unconstrained flow, almost cell-quial at times, but invariably signalized by elegance, force, adaptation to the subject, and not seldom by originality of thought in combination with terseness and beauty of expression. . There is about it a freshness, as well as a fulness of practical teaching, rarely to be met with in ordinary Biblical commentaries."—Londonderry Standard Feb 15. 1871.

dinary Biblical commandard, Feb. 15, 1871. "This is a bright, breezy book, both interesting and instructive. We can most conscientiously commend this book generally, as one of the most sprightly, attractive and instructive works of its kind that has fallen under our observation."—Boston Evening Traveller, May

"Every porti n of the work indicates ex-tensive scholarship and majure thought."— Belfast Northern Whig. April 8th, 1871. "The force, raciness and robust manliness of Mr. Bennett's style and mode of treatment will arrest attention and exotic interest in quarters where preaching or writing of the average quality would fall flat and dead."—Home and Foreign Record. March, 1871. Foreign Record. March, 1871.

"So plain yet so suggestive, so practical yet so profound are these Lectures that while ou read them you feel their deep rruth and reality that you are in contact with realities both visible and invisible: that you are in close contact with the beating heart of nature and humanity, and that all their life and hope flow full and free from God alone."—Fredericton Head Quarters, March 1st, 1871.

Head Quarters, March 1st, 1871.

"The writer is evidently well acquainted with the literature of his subject, and that acquaint ince reveals itself almost unconsciously in every page. There is no ostentation of reading or learning, but there is everywhere the gleaming forth of light which cannot be hid. The style is simple, intelligible, graceful. It shows at once that Mr. Bennet is a man of literary culture, who can express his thoughts with scholarly chasteness and good taste. We could not onen a page without meeting some thought vigorously expressed. The work is eminently fresh and readable."—Pres. Witness, Halifox.

Halifax.

"He reveals in the treatment of his themes strong common sense, a firm grasp of thought, a logical acumen and a clear insight into human character. Even when dealing with trite ideas he imparts to them a novelry and interest by which they are lifted into an importance they searcely deserve. The style throughout is lucid, pure, compact, forcible,—and t is his own—the garbof his own thinking. We have met in our perusal of the book with numerous paragraphs of finished and brilliant rhetoric—fine specimens of pulpit oratory. He is never tame nor tiresome. We have not found one slip shod sentence in the volume."—Christian Visitor, (Baptist) March 6th, 1871.

"We were not prepared to find him writing in such a finished style and issuing such a volume as' the result of certain preparations made for an evening lecture to his congregation." If all his pulpit perfermances are equal to these, his people have reason to rejoice in the Providence which guided his steps to them."—Evangelical Witness, May 1st 1871.

Evangelical Witness, May 1st 1871.

"This is a remarkably thoughtful, rolid book Mr. Beenet is evidently at home in Metaphysics and Ethies, and he is a shrewd observer of human nature in its ordinary manifestations; consequently he ranges over the lessons of the Preacher with a power of illustration which shews his mastery of the subject. The style is close and direct, and yet so lucid, that any reader may understand every sentence in the volume.

It will, we doubt not, take its place, as it ought to do, among our household expositions of this treatise of observation and Jewish wisdom "—The Presbyterian (Philadel phia), May 20, 1871.

"The lessons to be learned are drawn with a master's hand, and are expressed with a combined force and beauty that we have rarely seen surpassed in the production of any author. The ordinary reader will find noth ng that is above his comprehension, and yet it would be difficult offind a common place thought or form of expression. A combination of these requisites we deem the highest merit a writer can possess.

"We will be much disappointed if the book do not command a wide circulation. Wherever a sound literature is felt to be a deside atum, The Wisdom of the King has but to be known to be prized as a work that the world will not willingly let die."—Saint John Telegraph and Journal.

"THE WISDOM OF THE KING is well worth careful reading. Indeed you cannot read much of it at once. There is a constant play of fincy about the thoughts, and often the very winds, that is admirably suited to the Scripture book, of which this is an exposition, bit which demands such constant attention on the reader's part that he gets tired, for he does not know whore it is to end. The style is compact, lucid, whore it is to end.

"Each chapter is so well done, so lucid, yet concise in its exposition, that it is sometin i ficult to determine which is the best and in interesting.—Stewart's Quarterly, St. John. A few copies of the above work may be had at Messrs. McMillan's, Chubb's, Barnes's,
