

CONTENTS

vii

	PAGE
William Wirt . . . . .	69
Burr and Blennerhassett . . . . .	70
Henry Clay . . . . .	73
The American System . . . . .	74
The Horrors of Civil War . . . . .	76
Robert Y. Hayne . . . . .	79
South Carolina and the Union . . . . .	80
Daniel Webster . . . . .	83
The Reply to Hayne . . . . .	84
The Secret of Murder . . . . .	88
John C. Calhoun . . . . .	90
South Carolina and the Union . . . . .	91
John Quincy Adams . . . . .	94
A Eulogy of Lafayette . . . . .	95
Edward Everett . . . . .	98
The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Declaration . . . . .	99
Rufus Choate . . . . .	102
A Panegyric of Webster . . . . .	103
Thomas H. Benton . . . . .	106
Spanning the Continent . . . . .	107
Thomas Corwin . . . . .	109
The Dismemberment of Mexico . . . . .	110
John J. Crittenden . . . . .	112
The Strong Against the Weak . . . . .	113
Thomas F. Marshall . . . . .	115
The States and the Central Government . . . . .	116

BOOK III.

ORATORS OF THE CIVIL WAR PERIOD

Abraham Lincoln . . . . .	120
John Brown and Republicanism . . . . .	121
The Gettysburg Address . . . . .	122
The Second Inaugural . . . . .	123
Stephen A. Douglas . . . . .	125
Slavery in the Territories . . . . .	126
Thaddeus Stevens . . . . .	129
Fanaticism and Liberty . . . . .	130
Jefferson Davis . . . . .	132
Relations of North and South . . . . .	133
Alexander H. Stephens . . . . .	135
Separate as Billows, but One as the Sea . . . . .	136
Robert Toombs . . . . .	138
The Creed of Secession . . . . .	139
Charles Sumner . . . . .	141
The True Grandeur of Nations . . . . .	142
William H. Seward . . . . .	145
America's True Greatness . . . . .	146