HOMEMADE FILTER.

liable and Inexpensive Device For Purifying Water, Here is a piece of information that may be valuable, and that is how to make an inexpensive but entirely reliable filter. For this purpose one had better take a stone jar, though for that matter most any receptacle will do. A hole sufficiently large for the stream of water one desires to enter the filter should be bored in the bottom, and after this is accomplished the receptacle must be filled with a layer of sand several inches deep, then a layer of bits of sponge and on this to a level with the top of the jar plenty of small gravel or pebbles.

When the receptacle has been so filled a piece of wire screen is to be fastened over the top, made secure with bands of wire. The homemade filter must then be inverted over another receptacle into which the filtered water is to drop, the little orifice attached to the hydrant by means of a small hose, and it is ready for business—ready to purify the water and render it as clear as the proverbial crystal. Except for the original cost of the jar and hose, which may be used indefinitely the prifer cost of the thing will. nitely, the entire cost of the thing will not be more than a couple of cents, and the filtering ingredients may be cleaned each day with hot water without very much trouble, or new sand and gravel used frequently, just as one

YOUR MENTAL WINDOWS.

Open Them Wide and Let In All the Light You Can.

Elizabeth Knight Tompkins in a re-cent magazine article urges her sisters to cultivate an interest in the affairs which most interest the men with a view to promoting mutual attachment. "There is no art that requires more practice than that of getting into touch with men's minds, and often the finer. the more truly feminine a woman is the longer it takes her to become pro-ficient. How few men and women past their youth have anything in common! It would become a Quaker meeting, with the men on one side, the women on the other. It seems sometimes as if on the other. It seems sometimes as if the average man and woman had but one mutual interest. I am afraid it is hopeless to expect men to take part in our feminine pursuits, so, apparently, the only way out is for us to interest ourselves in theirs—and a very good thing it would be for us if we did. A healthy interest in bigger things than our own personal concerns would do much to take from us all the well deserved reproach of small minde

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

A cheese should be cut with a piece of wire, never with a knife. The white substance that accumulates in the tops of fruit jars can be removed by boiling the tops in strong soda water, Carpets and rugs should be beaten with the side that has been next the floor on top. In this way the dust that floor on top. In this way the dust that has worked into the pile is loosened.

Common white potato, grated and scattered over a carpet, then swept off, is said to brighten the faded colors better than anything else. Women who have used it say it will not hurt the most delicate shades.

A mixture of equal quantities of yolk of egg and glycerin is most useful for removing stains from white fiannel and other white woolen fabrics. Spread the compound on the stain, leave it to soak in for half an hour, then wash the garment as usual.

adapted for curries. Here is an adadapted for curries. Here is an admirable recipe, recommended at the New England School of Cookery: A slice of veal half an inch thick, weighing a pound and a half, is cooked quickly in a frying pan without any butter. The surface should be quickly seared. Take out of the pan and cut in pieces about an inch and a half square. Make the curry sauce as follows: Fry two sliced onions in half a cupful of butter, take out the onions and add to the butter the meat, half a and add to the butter the meat, hair at tablespoonful of curry powder and boiling water to cover. Cook slowly until the meat is tender. Thicken when done with flour stirred into cold water and season with salt, cayenne and a squeeze of lemon juice. Serve with a border of boiled rice. Always serve some kind of preserve, such as chutney or ginger, with curries.

A Successful Playwright, When one realizes the difficulties of successful playwriting and the fact successful playwriting and the fact that the number of women who have written for the stage can almost be counted upon the fingers of one hand the success achieved in this line by Mrs. Lottle Blair Parker is quite remarkable. Coming of a family largely imbued with Puritanical prejudices against the playhouse and all that pertains to it, Mrs. Parker's plays appeal strongly to persons of that type, as they deal with simple, natural subjects and people, depicting the wholesome and humorous aspects of life rather than its sophisticated side. "Way Down East" and "Under Southern Skies" are the best known of Mrs. Parker's plays.—Pilgrim.

Carrying a Watch.

There is no prettier or safer method for carrying a watch than when it is securely set into a bracelet, which is usually made of bars of gold or silver interlaced diagonally, as are the iron bars of a street car gate. These bars can be opened wide or closed tightly so as to fit snugly about any wrist. Another way for carrying a watch is to have it set in a leather bracelet which buckles around the wrist.

WHO CANNOT BE OURED. So uniformly successful has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proven in all forms of Fential Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, and Leucorrines, that, after over a third of a century's experience in curing the worst cases of these distressing and debilitating aliments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in ofering to pay $500 in cash for any case of these diseases which he cannot pure.

debilitating aitments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in cash for any case of these diseases which he cannot gure.

IT STANDS ALONE.—The "Pavorite Prescription" stands alone, as the one and only remedy for these distressingly common forms of weakness, possessed of such positively specific curative properties as to warrant its makers in proposing, and binding themselves to forfeit, as we, the undersigned proprietors of that wonderful remedy hereby do, to pay the sum of $200 in legal money of the United States in any case of the above diseases in which after a fair and reasonable trial of our treatment, we fail to cure. No other medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable guarantee; no other medicine for woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable curative properties that would warrant its manufacturers in making such an offer; no other remedy has such a record of cures on which to base such a record of cures on which to base such a record of cures on which to base such a remarkable offer.

Therefore, sauris on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and turn your back on any unscrupulous dealer who would insult your intelligence by attempting to foist upon you some inferior substitute, under the plea that "it is just as good." Insist on having the article which has a record of a third of a century of cures and which is backed by those willing to forfeit $500 if they cannot cure you.

In cases attended by a leucorrheal drain a solution of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets should be used conjointly with the use of the "Pavorite Prescription." They are sold by all druggists, or sent post-paid to any address, on receipt of 25 cents in stamps. Send 50 cents in stamps for Dr. Plerce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. SILVELA DEAD.

Former Spanish Premier and Conservative Leader Passes at 62.

Madrid, May 31.—Francis Silvela, former Premier, died on Monday from complications resulting from troubles of the heart and nervous system, from which he had been suffering since 1903, when he was ordered to take a com plete rest and resigned the Premier-when he was ordered to take a complete rest and resigned the Previership.

Senor Den Francesco Silvela was the foremost Spanish Conservative leader after the death of Canovas. He was considered one of the most eloquent orators of Spain. He was born in Madrid in 1843 and brought up as a lawyer. In 1869 he was elected to the Cortes, was appointed Minister of Foreign Affairs in 1877 and became Spanish Minister to France in 1884.

In the Cubar war for independence preceding the intervention of America he became leader of a group of dissident Conservatives, advocating an investigation into the affairs of Cuba and the development of the island's material interests and retorn of her administration. He expressed the option that it was absolutely necessary for Spain to abandon her policy of political isolation. Having opposed Sagasta's Government and policy he was called upon to form a Conservative Ministry in February, 1899. He resigned in October, 1890, but after the fall of Sagasta resumed office in 1902.

Talse Dice.

The following passage explains the various methods of cheating at dice in the Elizabethan era se well that I transcribe it in full for the benefit of commentators on old plays, etc., says a correspondent of London Notes and Queries. "What false dise use they? as dise stopped, up with quicksliver and heares, dise of vauntage, flattes, gourdes to chop and chaunge whan they lyste, to lefte the trew dise fall under the table, and is take up the false, and if they be true dise, what shyfte will they make to set ye one of them with slyding, with cogging, with foysting, with coytinge, as they call it."—Ascham's "Texophilus," 1545.

A Quotation Traced. Who wrote the words "a prospect all on fire?" They are quoted by Wordsworth in his "Eyening Walk," and Professor Knight and his helpers had been unable to trace it. But Novell Smith unable to trace it. But Nowell Smith communicates to the Athenaeum his discovery that it comes from a long forgotten poem, "Sunday Thoughts," by Moses Browne. Moses Browne's phrase lives like a fossil in Wordsworth's poem. Browne died in 1787 and was not unknown to Dr. Johnson, at whose suggestion he brought out as annotated edition of the "Compleat Angler". His "Sunday Thoughts" was annotated edition of the "Compleat Angler." His "Sunday Thoughts" was reprinted as late as 1806. He held the living of Olney for a short time dur-ing Cowper's residence there and had John Newton for his curate.—London Globe.
