"Boston Tar Baby" Floored 'Gunboat" Smith Three

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Sam Langford of Boston knocked out Gunboat Smith of New Fork in three rounds here last night.

Smith finished the first round in a weakened condition. In the second round Langford again took the aggressive. Leading a left, he hammered a right home to Smith's jaw, crushing him to the mot. Smith sprawled there for nine seconds staggering to ing him to the mot. Smith sprawled there for nine seconds, staggering to his feet barely in time to save himself from being counted out. Feinting and landing with left and right, Langford rocked Smith with his blows and floored him again. Referee Jack McGuigan of Philadelphia had counted four, when the bell gave Smith a reprieve.

Proceeting king of the mot. Smith sprawled the corespondent sends a description of the experience of a wassenger on board an aeroplane in time of war.

the prior, swept to their wonted places.

Finally there came the grim sacrist, with demure triumph upon his downcast features, and at his heels Abbot John himself, slow and dignified, with pompous walk and solemn, composed face, his iron-beaded rosary swinging from his waist, his breviary in his hand, and his lips muttering as he hurried through his office for the day. He knelt at his high pre-dieu; the brethren, at a signal from the prior, prostrated themselves upon the floor, and the low deep voices folled in prayer, echoed back from the arched and vaulted roof like the wash of waves from an ocean cavern. Finally the monks resumed their seats; there entered clerks in seemly black with pens and parchmont; the red-velveted summoner appeared to tell his tale; Nigel was led in with archera pressing close around him; and then, with much calling of old French and much legal incantation and mystery, the court of the Abbey was open for business.

"Holy father, I have been the efficer of the King's law no less than the servant of Holy Church, and I have been let, hindered and assaulted in the performance of my lawful and proper duties, whilst my papers, drawn in the King's name, have been shended and rended and cast to the wind. Therefore, I demand justice upon this man in the Abbey court, the said assault having been committed within the banlieue of the Abbey's jurisdiction."

"What have you to say to this, brother sacrist?" asked the Abbot in some perplexity.
