MAKING THE PUBLIC PAY.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.
Advance of forty per cent. in railroad rates in the East, twenty-eight per cent. in the South, thirty-five per cent. in the West, and twenty-five per cent. in the mountain Pacific territory were granted on Saturday by the Interstate Commerce Commission.
Passenger fares were increased twenty per cent. the amount asked by the railroads to help in absorbing $600-000,000 wage increase granted by the Railroad Labor Board.

ARCHBISHOP MANNIX SAILS.
NEW YORK, Aug. 1.
Archbishop Daniel J. Mannix, of Australia, sailed today for Ireland yesterday afternoon on the steamer Baltic.
Though the Premier of Great Britain had announced that the Australian Prelate would not be permitted to land on Irish soil because of his expressed views on the Irish question, Eamon De Valera, President of the Irish Republic, did not sail on the Baltic.
A remarkable demonstration preceded the departure of Archbishop Mannix, who stood on the after deck of the Baltic holding two red roses in his hand, while he invoked repeatedly a silent benediction upon hundreds of cheering well wishers, who crowded the pier from end to end and waved scores of Irish flags. Lying alongside the other side of the dock was the steamer Olympic, whose after-decks swarmed with the ship's company, who staged a counter demonstration by waving British flags and cheering for Great Britain with an occasional hostile note directed against Ireland.

THE POLISH SITUATION.
PARIS, Aug. 1.
The Russian Soviet army is now within seventy-five miles of Warsaw.
It has captured Lomza, which is just that distance northeast of the Polish capital and the towns of Kolno and Steczczyna, near the German border on the Lomza region. In spite of these and other Bolshevik successes the military experts of the Anglo-French Mission in Poland are reported to be optimistic because of the remarkable stiffening in resistance of the Polish Northern army under General Haller. The chief concern of the experts is the position of the fourth Polish army defending Brest-Litovsk, but Polish advisers declare the pressure upon that army would be relieved shortly by a Polish counter-offensive, which is being directed northeastward from the region of Brody, northeast of Lemberg. A large number of ships are arriving at Danzig daily from French and British ports with munitions, which are being unloaded rapidly and rushed to the Polish front, according to word received here. An efficient unloading system has been organized by Allied experts, and in putting this system into effect French, British and Polish workers are laboring side by side without interference, it is declared.

STILL UNDECIDED.
LONDON, Aug. 1.
Although the Govt. intends to present next week a bill providing some sort of new court procedure for Ireland and possibly other changes of methods in judging the criminal situation, the Cabinet has not yet decided definitely upon anything, it was learned Saturday.

BOYCOTTING BELFAST.

County projected economic war of retaliation against Belfast Friday, when the houses of four bread bakers were visited by masked and armed men, who compelled them to sign an understanding not to handle Belfast bread

Ancient National Grudge

ATTACKED BY OWEN WISTER SPEAKING TO AMERICANS.

Owen Wister has taken a unique place among the literary men of the United States. Over in England it is not unusual for a novelist or a poet to be a moulder of public opinion, but on this continent only an occasional man becomes a force in the national life.
Owen Wister is one of the few. He made the reputation first almost a generation ago with his stirring Western novel, "The Virginian," and for many years he was known merely as a virile teller of stories. It was after the outbreak of the war that he made his reputation as a prophet. He attracted attention with an article afterwards published in book form, entitled "The Pentecost of Calamity." In it he interpreted the meaning of the struggle between the autocratic idea and the democratic ideal. He told the people of the United States in plain language that the Allies were fighting their battles, and that while his country might be waxing fat and prosperous in a material way, other nations were finding their souls. It was a daring book to publish at a time when the statesmen (?) of his country were preaching the doctrine of neutrality, and appealing to all the worst forces of greed and smugness and vanity to be found in the nations. But Wister proved to be right and the others were wrong. In the end his countrymen accepted his point of view.

Once again Owen Wister has come forward to take the unpopular side in a great controversy. Now that a presidential election is looming up in the offing, the American politicians are returning to their favorite game, of twisting the lion's tail and throwing dirt over the fence into the backyard of their Canadian neighbors. This vilifying of the British Empire is part of a deliberate campaign, led by men of the Hearst type and other trouble-makers of equal notoriety. Wister has written a book entitled "A Straight Deal, or the Ancient Grudge," in which he attacks his opponents boldly. He shows how ignorant the masses of his countrymen have always been regarding the ideals of the British, and the contribution of the British people to civilization and the progress of the world. Probably no American has ever written such a fair-minded book concerned with the relations of the British Empire and the American republic. It is a manly and straightforward effort to bring about peace and friendship between the two English-speaking nations. He traces the ancient grudge against England to three causes, the school text books of the United States, the various political controversies from the Revolution to the Alaskan boundary dispute and certain differences in manners and customs. He points out at length that the grudge has been largely one-sided, and that England has been to the United States, on the whole, more friendly than-unfriendly. He urges better relations because they will make for the safety of the civilized world. Of course it goes without saying that Owen Wister has the support of the best element in the United States, and it is to be hoped that he will once more prove to be a prophet and that the bulk of his countrymen will read and digest what he has told them in his book, as they did when he wrote the much discussed "Pentecost of Calamity."
