The Egg Throwing in Amaranth The Guelph Herald, on the strength of a statement made by a correspon-dent, affects to disbelieve the truth of our report, published during the contest in the North Riding, that Mr. McKim had been pelted with eggs when leaving one of Mr. Drew's meetings in Amaranth, at which that worthy would not allow him to speak. The Elora Times takes up the Heraid's tale, and attempts to corroporate its statement, by saying that its editor stopped at Farmington that night, and travelled through the right, and travelled through the South Brant. ald's tale, and attempts to corrobo Ing a word about the egg throwing. The Herald too says its correspondent, "made it his business to enquire into the truth of the report, and failed to see the first man who saw any assault of the kind made." These veracious witnesses may be very sincere in their protestations, and they may have been slightly deaf about this particular time to such reports, but the fact, nevertheless, remains, and has been fully established on the testimony of as trustworthy evidence as that of the witnesses aforesaid, who ing a word about the egg throwing. as that of the witnesses aforesaid, who were not present at the meeting, and who had to take all these reports second hand. On the other hand we have the explicit and positive state-ment of Mr. McKim himself that on getting into his buggy at the hotel near where the meeting was held, he was pelted with eggs, one of which struck his hat, and the others fell on his coat. We have the evidence too of the gentleman who was riding with him-a well-known and influential resident of Amaranth—that he was so pelted, for he had ocular demon-stration of the fact, to say nothing of thesensation produced on his olfactory nerves by the unsavory discharge The Herald says it is very singular that "no one can be found who ha any knowledge of the alleged assault except the innocent victim himself." We have referred to one who saw the assault, and can give his name at any any time. We can also give the names of other gentlemen who saw made the assault confess he did it? The South Bruce Election.

Hurdon Retires for the Second and Last Time.

Mr. F. Hurdon, or "Francis the Silent" as he is now called, has for the second and last time retired from the contest in South Bruce. Franci has been badly used. Encouraged at first by the Tories in the Riding to come out, he and they found that after Mr. Blake was announced as a candidate his chances of election were so exceedingly small that his running would be a mere farce. Then their hopes were revived in the expectation that Sir John A. Macdon-the Mayor of Belleville. Dr. McGuire respectation that Sir John A. Macdon-the Mayor of Belleville. were so exceedingly small that his ald would step into the breach and contest the Riding with his intellect. ual superior, Mr. Blake. But alas! At the sitting of the concluding session it was resolved to accept the invitation of the Guelph Association to hold the Bruce, or on account of the rough sea during his voyage between Sar. Bruce, or on account of the rough sea during his voyage between Sarnia and Kincardine, or from another cause hinted but not yet fully explained—and deeming discretion the better part of valour, wisely refrained from going to the nomination, or having himself put up as candidate. Hundon though he had already virtually left the field, was induced to reenter it as a sort of forlorn hope. But his courage has at last died out. He gives up the contest and after penning the following farewell address, falls back into the obscurity from whence he came: whence he came :

The election in Addington, on Monday is another gain to the Reform cause. Mr. Shibley defeated Mr. Lapum the Government candidate, by a handsome majority.

The continued Opposition victories in Ontario are inspiring the Liberals in Quebec with great confidence, and placing a great many doubtful Government supporters on what they themselves term "the fence."

Electoral Fraud in Peterboro'.

The greatest excitement prevails here over the fact that Doctor George Burnham, the Returning Officer, for West Peterboro', has returned Wm. Cluxton as names of other gentlemen who saw Mr. McKim after he was pelted, and who witnessed the unsavory deposit on his garments. Will the Herald and Times now be satisfied, or will they still cling to the testimony of those who never heard the party who wad the same that the party who wad the same that the same that the same that the second day after the election, on the second day after the election, three days before the return to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery. The Returning Officer alleges his demand was a general one, although not directed to nor heard by Mr. Bertram. Mr. Burnham's conduct throughout has been of the most partisan character, but his closing act has elicited the disgust of all repectable Conservatives. It is thought Mr. Cluxton has too much self-respect to lend himself to this disgraceful transaction.
