Three Bites by a Shark. J. Morris and Loren Hill relate a pe

euliar experience with a tarpon and an immense shark near Funts Gords. While they were playing a large targon a shark came up and bit a half moot weighing about ten pounds out of the tarpon's belly. This killed the tarpon but before it could be gaffed and pulled in the shark took out another half moon a size larger. As they were hauling the tarpon aboard the shark bit off the tail, equaling one-third the length and about one-fourth the weight of the fish. The part that was left over meighed 164 pounds. They beat the shark over the head with the oars. The fish would have been a record breaker and would have weighed about and measured 31/2 by 41/2 inches.

One Hundred and Two Bodies Recovered -Alleged Brutality.

New York, July 4.—One hundred and two bodies had been recovered from the waters of the North River up to 10 o'clock last night, this being the list of fatalities positively known. The list is growing hour by hour, and to-day when the tide is at its lowest, it is expected that a great many more bodies will be recovered. All day long yesterday the work of searching the ruins was kept up incessantly. The officials of the North German Lloyd Line were do-ing everything they could to straighten out matters. They look-ed after the transportation to Ger-many of the survivors who were inmany of the survivors who were in-

A sensation was created yesterday by an announcement from Mayor Fa-gan of Hoboken that he would pro-secute all tug boat captains against whom charges of refusing to save life could be substantiated. The Mayor said he would apply at once for warrants charging two tug boat captains with murder, and that he had evidence to prove that these men used boat hooks to keep drowning men from climbing on their tugs be-cause the unfortunates had no mon-ey. An effort would be made also to have the licenses of the offending captains revoked.

Women's Odd Pets. Some minds are strictly original even in the choice of pets. Certainly this was the case with the wife of a gentleman farmer who, according to Woman's Life, in the choice of pets. Gertainly this was the case with the wife of a gentleman farmer who, according to Woman's Life, made a pet of a pig. The animal lost its mother early, and the lady, taking pity on the little orphan, bore it off to the kitchen, where she succeeded, by the aid of a feeding bottle, in rearing it. The pig became a great pet and used to follow its owner like a dog. It could hardly have been its outward attraction that won her heart. It must have been its qualities which endeared it to her. Another very singular pet was that of a frog, which was tamed by a young girl in the country and would come out from under the leaves at her approach to be fed with a strawberry. A lady who was confined to her room had a fowl which, before her illness, was a constant companion. It used to be regularly brought to her room every morning to see her and be fed by her own hands and allowed to take a short walk about her room. Another member of the feminine gen-der actually made apt of a turkey and declared it should "never be eaten, but die in its own good time," which it did of old age. A much more extraordinary instance of a strange pet, for a woman at any fate, was where an ol lady so far overcame the natural repugnance of her sex as to tame d mouse which had been caught in her store cupboard. So successful was her treatment that at last the tiny ani-mal would take crumbs from its mistress' fingers.
