DOG SHOW WAS

Sweepstakes Prize.

150 CANINES WERE ENTERED

Fine Bulls and Collies.

The dog show held yesterday by the London Canine Association in the city hall was the most successful ever conducted by the members, and one of the best ever held in the city.

Over 150 dogs were benched-a large number for London- and a substantial increase over last year. Almost every class of canine was represented. And the quality was excellent. There were many dogs qualified to win in almost any sort of company. A noticeable feature of the show and a most encouraging one, was the last exhibition a number of the citizens of London have purchased good dogs, and are now taking a deep interest in them.

Some Good Ones.

There were many fine collies on exhibition. Col. R. McEwan, of Byron, one of the leading breeders in Canada, had some beauties on exhibition. However, in the puppy and open cages. dogs he had to take second place to a splendid pup owned by Dr. Robin- show. son, of the London Asylum. This fel low was a beauty, as was Col. Mc-Ewan's also.

Dr. Forster, of the Asylum, and Dan Thody also had some fine collies. Frank McGuire also had several fine collies on exhibition.

the only representatives in that class, and as usual got away with the prizes. In the Spaniel classes there were many excellent dogs. Mr. G. Tomlinson, of Woodstock, sending down half a dozen winners.

In the Ruby Spaniel class, Mr. W. Pleasance had a rare little chap, who

The new face must have NEW TEETH! This is imperative, and should be one of the "GOOD RESO-LUTIONS for the New Year. Upon no one feature does beauty of face and health of body depend so much as upon the TEETH. In these days of PAINLESS AND SCIENTIFIC DENTISTRY an uncleanly, unwholesome TISTRY an uncleanly, unwholesome unbeautiful and defective dental condition is positively unparaonable. The TEETH were never intended to be used as nutcrackers, tweezers, corkscrews and other mechanical implements, and such perversion of their proper use leads often to sudden injury and always to premature decay. proper use leads often to sudden injury and always to premature decay. The TEETH are for the thorough mastication of the food. If a tooth is decayed or sensitive, it should be put into proper condition or extracted.
