"Mere men" school trustees came in for a considerable amount of rapping at the forenoon session Wednesday of the convention of the Women's Institutes of Western Ontario on the ground that it is so hard to convince them of the importance of medical inspection the importance of medical inspection for schools, the need of a public health nerse, and "such things."

"What is needed." said Mrs. J. McLennan of Sarnia, who led the discussion on 'Co-operation with the School, "is a woman on every school board. If we can't have one woman on each, let's hasten the day for county boards.

"Who has a vote for members of the school board?" came the voice of a delegate. "We have old bachelors who insist upon being on the school board."

"You should make a raid on them and see that they are not on the school board," quickly *replied Mrs. McLennan, amid laughter.

With regard to the need of medical inspection and the services of a nurse for schools, Mrs. McLennan referred to the experience of West Lambton, where, upon securing a medical survey of the schools through the department of education, it was discovered that 85 per cent of the children were physically defective and 33 per cent would be totally incapacitated unless they received treatment. As a result of these revelations, two women were appointed for each township in Lambton County to forward the work of reppointed for each township in Lambon County to forward the work of egular inspection and securing a public health nurse for the county.
