BOSTON UNIVERSITY

The Registration this Year Larger Than Ever

Miss Elizabeth F. Elderkin, of Bridgetown, has registered for special courses at the Summer Session at Boston University. Miss Elderkin is specializing in Drama.

The registration this year at the summer school is larger than ever before in the history of the University. Over 500 students are enrolled in the regular classes, this being a fifty per cent increase over the number registered last year.

An interesting feature of the French course given by Professor Samuel Waxman is the French luncheon which is given every day. Miss Anne Marguerite Picard, a graduate of the Sorbonne University in Paris, presides over the table and helps the students, who are specializing in French to get daily practice in Parisian pronunciation. Miss Picard also assists Prof. Waxman with his classes.

A number of South American students are taking the course in business methods and foreign trade advertising which are given with special reference to South America, Europe, and the Far East. These courses are given this year for the first time and are especially designed for students who plan to take work in the new Cuban branch of the Boston University College of Business Administration which opens at Havana next fall.

Teachers from all over New England and the Middle West have registered for the courses in education and public school management.

BOTH "CRIES" ACCEPTED

A correspondent writes as follows:—It is not often that two opposing parties in an election campaign have both their election cries accepted and acted upon by the electors. That, however, is the case in the contest just ended. "Hold fast to Murray's good Government!" say the Premier and his followers. "We hold!" cry the people, and the Government is returned in strength. "It is time for a change!" shout the Opposition Leader and his followers. "Take your change!" say the people, and a brand new Opposition is handed out!

The New Zealand budget shows a surplus of two and a quarter million pounds sterling, but Premier Massey urges that economy without parsimony, is essential.

A REAL LIVE TESTIMONIAL

Given to Professor Hamilton, of Hampton, N. S.

Prof. B. S. Hamilton
DEAR SIR—For the benefit of suffering ones I wish to put my testimonial with others that you have cured I contracted that dreaded disease Diabetes Insipidus and I doctored for one year, losing flesh and strength until I was given up by the doctors to die saying that there was no cure for me, but by the hand of providence the Professor came to Centreville and I consulted him, and he told me that he could cure me. I commenced his treatment and in a short time I began to gain and today I am strong; gained twenty-eight pounds, working once again. Trusting that you may be spared for years to come to administer to needy sick.Yours truly,
LORAN SHAW,
