A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE BABY

Nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets as a medicine for little ones. They are a laxative, mild but thorough in action, and never fail to relieve constipation, colic, colds and simple fevers. Once a mother has used them she will use nothing else. Concerning them Mrs. Saluste Pelletier, St. Damas des Avalines, Que., writes:—"I always keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. They are the best medicine I know of for little ones and I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

REMINISCENCES OF BRIDGETOWN IN THE DAYS GONE BY

—he neither drank nor smoked, and then I must not forget Jeremiah Colnok who was the father of the late Mrs. Hamilton. He came into some money in Germany from his father's relations and went to Germany to claim his inheritance. He was related to the great bankers Stieglitz of St. Petersburg, through his mother Rosina Von Wolff. He was the father of William Colnok, editor of the Western News, as I mentioned in my last, a talented man and the historian of Annapolis County. Here I may mention that the boys of Annapolis Co. mostly make good.

I may mention Chas. H. Eason and I cannot help paying a tribute to Maurice Colnok, son of Bernard Colnok, of Greenville Centre. He was a French Chevalier, honest as the day, a good man whose acts of kindness I can never forget.

Then there was Colonel Poyritz, a retired army officer, a stately gentleman who lived in the Clark house near the bridge. I remember his showing me how to play marbles, saying that I "played like a girl".

Then there was Thomas Spurr who lived in the house next our property and had a beautiful place.

I now leave the laity and go back to the clergy.

The Methodist minister, when we first came to Bridgetown, was Mr. Pickles, who was succeeded by Mr. Wilson. He was a noted preacher and held forth in the old Wesleyan Chapel. Besides there was a retired Methodist minister "Parson Miller", who occupied a house just on the bank of the creek.

The Baptist minister was Mr. Armstrong, a man of very decided views. He is reported to have said that the Roman Catholics were going to the "bad place" and that the "Prayer Book Christians" were bringing up the rear. Mr. Armstrong set up revival meetings and in the course of them inveighed against Roman Catholicism. Mr. Wilson took up the cudgels in its defence and the two owners used to go to both places of worship to be present at the "medieval boxing match. My father told me of the controversy, but Mr. Wilson came frequently to our house to consult him and to read such of his books as bore upon the controversy. There were no "rennais of churches" then—only bitter war. Now the Hon. Ben down with the lamb in the other world.

Mr. Armstrong had a daughter Rosie, a beautiful girl, whom I regarded with silent admiration. Alas! the Heavenly Father took her to his mansions above to adorn the Heavenly Altar. I was reminded of her on my last visit to Elmhurst when I had the good fortune to see Rosie Orlando who is equally lovely, and is more robust, so that one may expect that she is a role who will live many a long year to grace your beautiful valley.

I will conclude with the most picturesque figure of all—Mary Peters, a black woman who lived in the Bush Pasture. She dressed in a man's hat and coat and a woman's skirt. She was quite illiterate and I don't think she could count, so that any person could cheat her in her business, which was selling berries in Summer.

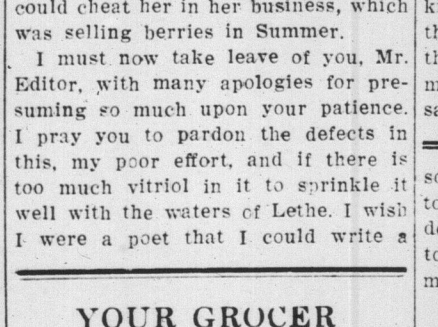

I must now take leave of you, Mr. Editor, with many apologies for presuming so much upon your patience. I pray you to pardon the defects in this, my poor effort, and if there is too much vitriol in it to sprinkle it well with the waters of Lethe. I wish I were a poet that I could write a sonnet in praise of our dear little town. But, alas! that faculty has been denied me, so I must have recourse to an old Valentine of the days of my youth.

Sweet Elmhurst! Sweet Elmhurst! If you love me, as I love you, No knife can cut our love in two." Yours faithfully,
COLIN W. F. CAMPBELL

In our last issue there was a slight error in the printing of a Latin quotation in Mr. Campbell's letter. The correct reading as given by him was "O Sancta Simplicitas!"

EFFECTS OF THE MIGRATORY BIRDS TREATY ACT

encouragement of a sympathetic attitude towards bird protection. At the same time it has enforced the law in remote sections and in some provinces.

A very important means by which the Act is enforced is through the medium of a large force of Honorary Game Officers—men and women who voluntarily give their services, each in his own locality, for the furtherance of bird protection work, without thought of financial remuneration but simply because they are in sympathy with the cause of the birds. These include men from all walks in life, including business and professional men and farmers and fishermen, and the fact that their numbers are steadily increasing is most encouraging for the future welfare of Canada's bird life.

The prospect for the future is most promising in every way. Already a noticeable increase in game birds is apparent, and it seems practically certain that, due to the wise precautionary measure which has been taken in the passing of the Migratory Birds Treaty, Canadians of the future will be able to enjoy the same delightful hunting expeditions as their forefathers and to experience the same delight of every hunter from time immemorial, as well as having the health-giving opportunities afforded by such expeditions.

If a wise policy of protection for our migratory birds is continued, it is not improbable that new industries may develop. One possibility is the production of eiderdown, which is now obtainable only from the European markets. At present the numbers of eider in many parts of Canada have become sadly reduced, but due to the absolute protection afforded them under the Migratory Birds Treaty Act since the year 1918 and to the practical certainty of their future protection as deemed necessary, there seems no reason why these valuable birds should not afford one of the coming industries for the coasts where they breed.

FRANCE SAILOR IN NOVEL FEAT

Crossing Atlantic in 35 Foot Sloop, He Refuses Tow.

New York—Eighty-four days out of Gibraltar, alone in a battered 25 foot sloop in heavy seas about 200 miles off Nantucket Light, F. Gerbault, a French seaman, on Wednesday refused to port offered by the Greek liner Byron, Capt. Vlahakis related when the Byron arrived from Greek ports.

The lookout on the Byron, Captain Vlahakis said, saw Gerbault standing aloft only in underwear, despite bitter cold and rolling seas, on the deck of his diminutive craft, waving his arms furiously and shouting in French. After explaining that he was creating the ocean on a bet of 500,000 francs bound for New York and that two other schooners which had left Gibraltar with him had disappeared, the hardy Frenchman asked that his empty water kegs and food bins be filled, took his bearings as precisely as the Greek navigators, refused an offer of aid and went on his way.

BIRD SANCTUARIES ESTABLISHED

Ottawa—A bird sanctuary for the preservation of some rare and valuable species of birds has been established at Seal, Flat, Round, Mud and Noddy islands, lying about 18 miles west of Cape Sable and off the county of Shelburne, N. S. During recent years the complete extermination of some of the species of birds found on these islands was threatened by the collection of their eggs during the breeding season, and to prevent this, the government, on recommendation of the Minister of the Interior, has now passed an order preventing the killing or molesting of game birds on these islands. It is further provided that all rocks or waters within five miles shall be included in the bird sanctuary.

What Will You Put in the Pot?

When you drink tea every cup should be a delicious refreshment—a distinct pleasure. But this demands good tea in the pot. You cannot possibly get satisfactory results from inferior tea.

Now consider the small cost of a cup of King Cole Tea—a mere fraction of a cent. Surprising isn't it? But its secret is in the rich liquoring King Cole blend which yields so generously in the number of cups to the pound. From whichever point you view it—economy—quality—or the wise combination of both, King Cole Tea claims your preference.

SCOTCH COMING TO N. S.

Two hundred thousand Scottish Highlanders will be transported from Scotland to Nova Scotia and P. E. I. if the plans of Angus Robertson, President of the Highland Association, who has just returned to Scotland after attending the celebration at Pictou, is carried into effect.

Mr. Robertson in a statement, based on his visit to Nova Scotia, comments on the Scottish atmosphere which prevails and states that a Scot would at once feel at home in such a country. His national characteristics and mode of living are all there ready, waiting for him when he arrives; he has landed in another Scotland, only it is a much better one.

RUM PIRATES TAKE CARGO

Yarmouth, N. S.—Another pirate raid has just come to light by the report, given under oath, of the crew of the sixty-ton schooner Lucille B. of Bellevue's Cove, Digby Co., N. S., and commanded by Capt. LeBlanc, of Wedport, Yarmouth County, which has just arrived at Meteghan, thirty miles from here. The vessel is reported as having sailed from Haven on Aug. 15th for St. Pierre, with a cargo of twelve hundred cases of liquor on board.

TO RAISE MILLIONS FOR JAPS

U. S. Red Cross Elkes $5,000,000 For Quake Sufferers.

Washington—Fixing of chapter quotas throughout the country Wednesday was the signal for the formal launching of the campaign of the American Red Cross to raise $5,000,000 relief fund for sufferers in the Japanese earthquake zone.

Divisional quotas totalling $5,250,000, the excess above the $5,000,000 goal being fixed to permit adjustments, was announced at Red Cross headquarters Tuesday night, and divisional managers were instructed to assign quotas for all of the 3,600 chapters of the organization.

Missionaries Safe.
New York—All of the missionaries in Tokio and Yokohama of the Reformed Church in America are safe, according to a cablegram from Kobe received Wednesday by the Board of Foreign Missions of the Church.

All staff members of the Young Women's Christian Association in Japan are safe, according to a message received Wednesday by the National Board from Miss Jane Nell Scott, head of the Y.W.C.A., in Kioto.

Later reports from Japan magnify rather than diminish the extent of the earthquake disaster. It is still impossible to estimate the number of the dead.
