MRS. PARNELL

POR THE FIRST TIME FINCE HER BERBAVEMENT SPEAKS AT A LAND LEAGUE MEETING.

Mrs. Delia S. Parnell spoke last evening in the hall of St. Vincent Ferrer's Catholic Church. It was the first time that she had addressed a public meeting since the death of her daughter, Fanny Parnell. The hall was crowded with members and friends of Branch 19 of the Parnell Land League. Mrs. Parnell "I see that it has been reproachinly said that in this low tide in the Irish sgitation not one word of encouragement has come from the tonely tirtle home in Bordentown. So I have thought it my duty to come bere to-night and say 'Never give up.' Your patience, courage, and perseverance will furnish a basis for an edifice of national glory such as the Irish genius alone can build. The closure scheme will be a great boomerang to the men who made it a law. The discussion of Itlah affairs will be forced on Parliament again and again. I believe the closure will turn out a trap and a net for the British aristocracy. If Lord Hartington comes in, as I do not believe he will, he cannot defeat the Irish. Gladstone, it is said, talks of retiring, but he will not retire until ne conclitates the Irish and concedes bome rule to save England from destructiou.

"A fine imagination is a fine thing. It is ilke tinder in the Irish mind, so ready to catch fire with the hope of immediate success and I fear it will still work mischief to the Irish cause. But it is not by impossible schemes of war that we can save Ireland. Keep to practicable means, and not all the British payonets, not all of British wealth, can deprive you or the foothold you have acquired.

"Evictions are another boomerang which will fly back into the faces of the British people. The landlords will be impoverished and disgusted. So every hand raised against Ireland will fail, and when Ireland reaches the pinnacle of fame all the nations of the world will say to her: 'Come to our hearts, young giantess; we will honor and cherish and support you so long as the world lasts."
