

concerned with the relief effort. The details concerning such support could be discussed with the International Red Cross and with UNICEF. I know that both institutions would welcome the opportunity of discussing concrete ways in which governments might assist in the task of alleviating the plight of so many innocent victims of the armed struggle in Nigeria.

Accept, Sir, the assurances of my highest consideration.

U Thant

---