JUDGE ALL ISSUES ON IDEAL OF HOME

Mrs. L. A. Hamilton Urges Co-operation of All Political Factions.

"I am sure that we all thank our friend Mrs. Hamilton for her excellent discourse today, and now I would beg to remind her that, following the collection, there will be a discussion period, and she will be asked many questions."

His surmise was correct. Many were the queries and comments proposed to Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, president of the United Women Voters, who addressed the meeting upon the aims and objects of women voters yesterday. She was quick and ready with replies.

anyone could do so," replied Mrs. Hamilton. "What I did say was that this was an ideal condition which alone would solve the many great problems of the day, touching these problems from the standpoint of co-operation, which is always the main-spring of every happy, well-ordered home."

"Would you stand by the present Union government in suppressing free speech and free assemblage?" asked W. Newell.

"I do not help to put the Union government into power, but I have no brief for that government today," was Mrs. Hamilton's reply. "Replying to the question of the suppression of free speech, I would point out that we have not yet gone beyond the armistice, and I believe that until peace has been decreed every effort should be made to suppress sedition."

there was a long-drawn battle always waged between labor and capitalism, and Robert Cook, a returned soldier, stated that the address of Mrs. Hamilton had not been informative to any degree, but that she had admitted that the women held the balance of power in voting, and the interests of labor were apparently menaced by that factor. The declared ideology of Mrs. Hamilton, he said, was camouflage, in view of the fact that the palatial conditions prevailing in a few homes in one district and the miserable conditions in many homes in other districts betrayed the fallacy of the alleged ideals of the speaker that the day of better things had arrived and would widen its influence.

The theme of Mrs. Hamilton's address was the need of dealing with the great issues of the nation from the standpoint of the happy and well-ordered home, where, despite many differences of opinion, co-operation was the keynote of life's routine. When the question of the child's education was touched, the parents in such a home were as one in their determination to give the child the best that means would afford, and in all other matters pertaining to the welfare of the child this sense of co-operation was manifest. Partisanship, said Mrs. Hamilton, was but a relic of the barbaric ages. The parents need to be devoted to the society's welfare fund for the relief of the dependent killed in action. Richard Marshall presided.

OPPORTUNITY AWAITS THE CIVILIZED WORLD

Rev. Dr. Ribour, preaching in St. Alban's Cathedral Sunday evening on "Lost Opportunities," said in part: "Opportunities come to nations as well as to individuals. Now is the great opportunity for the civilized nations of the world to lay the foundations of a better world, in which strict justice for all and not self-interest shall rule. The sacrifices of four years and a half of war, the losses of millions of young lives, the sorrows of the mothers and wives, the sufferings of the innocent victims at the hands of the aggressors will all have been made in vain if after the peace conference is ended the world is to revert to pre-war conditions."

The shadows of our civilization must disappear. Poverty, vice, greed, selfishness must be fought until conquered. These evils have their roots deep in the hearts of individuals, but there never was a time in the world's history when there was such an awakening of the public conscience. Never before was such an imperious demand for righteousness from all parts of the world. The slums of our cities must be wiped out. Every man, woman and child must be given opportunity to grow mentally, morally as well as materially. Capital and labor must adopt the method of co-operation instead of facing each other as antagonists. Both are indispensable to the progress of the world, and only by intelligent co-operation can they fulfill their duties towards society. The workingman need no longer have recourse to sabotage, for the power of the masses rests on the electorate. The working class has in itself the power to ameliorate its status by electing the men who will defend their rights, and should these men fail in their mission the electorate has the privilege and power to replace them by others who will do so. Where there is an intelligent electorate Bolshevism has no chance to grow. Now is the opportunity to apply Christ's remedy to the ills of the world. A failure on the part of the nations to read the signs of the times and to see the day of their visitation may again plunge mankind sooner or later into strife and chaos. Opportunity is the small moment, the exact point, the critical minute on which every good work so much depends.

S.O.E. BENEFIT SOCIETY.

The United Toronto Lodges held a representative meeting last evening at headquarters, 58 Richmond street east, to hear the final returns in connection with their annual Massey Hall concert. The total receipts amounted to $1,013.50, expenses $337.50, leaving a balance of $476. After returning $175 guarantee money to thirty-five lodges, a sum of $301 was handed over to the supreme executive council, to be devoted to the society's war levy fund for the relief of the dependent killed in action. Richard Marshall presided.

MASONS WOULD RESTORE SASH TO THE REGALIA

The Principals' Association, Royal Arch Masons of Toronto District, No. 8, held its annual meeting last evening in the new Masonic Temple, Yonge street. Ex-Comp. L. E. Bowerman, the president, presided. There was a splendid attendance of principals of the several chapters in Toronto. Among the topics concerning Capitular Masonry discussed was that of the restoration of the sash to the regalia of the order. The association strongly endorsed the proposition to have the sash restored. The election of the officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: Hon. president, M. Ex-Comp. F. W. Harcourt, K.C.; R. Ex-Comp. Henry T. Smith, G.S.E.; president, Ex-Comp. J. J. Shelley; first vice-president, R. Ex-Comp. George L. Gardiner; second vice-president, R. Ex-Comp. R. J. Reade; secretary-treasurer, V. Ex-Comp. W. E. Hopkins. The executive committee is composed of a representative from each of the fifteen chapters of the district.
