a loss of about 1½c from the high point. Canadian advices were somewhat contradictory, which had a tendency to confuse the trade and encourage bear operations, which, coupled with tail-end liquidation in September, was largely responsible for the lower prices. Wheat is now upon an export basis and foreigners are taking it in larger quantities than speculators are aware 6f, which in itself is sufficient reason for advising purchases on this decline.

of the break in wheat and confidence is felt by large holders and we think higher prices will be the order in near future. Our reports from all sections are disap-

Charles W. Gillett to Peter J. Morgan:
Wheat—An advance of a penny at Liverpool this morning, apparently confirmed the bullish Russian reports yesterday and resulted in a cent advance in our opening prices. Heavy selling, however, for long and short account, was at once apparent, causing a break to %c under last night's close. The extraordinary discountry which cash wheat is selling uncount at which cash wheat is seiling un-der the December is such a handleap to holders of the latter delivery that few buyers cared to enter the market. Canawheat a sale.

Corn—Receipts small, country acceptances small and cash demand is greater than the supplies arriving. Storm and rains in Iowa crippled telegraph wires, and must have blown down a lot of corn. Stocks are not as good as of late, and with the present position of the crops, a material decline is not probable, althosome setbacks should occur before the end of the week, as a result of the large profit taking sales of the last two days. Oats—Cash oats are selling well over 50c for contract grade, and while receipts are liberal they are of poor quality, which works against prices. The congestion in September is diminishing and we look for some further decline.

About 40 men are kept at work on the properties controlled by the syndicate during the strike.

A number of discoveries of more or less importance have been made on these properties in the Cobalt district.

The present price of Cobalt stocks is not the barometer of Cobalt values nor a guide to the merits of the district, as the camp made shipments during the first six months of this year which exceeded the total production of 1905 and 1906.

We refer particularly to this district owing to its richness and its high-grade shipments and owing to the fact that the attention of the speculative and investment world was drawn to it on account of the spectacular rise and fall in Nipissing. Nipissing to-day is a stronger property than when it was quoted above $30, and weekly transactions in the stock run up into the millions.

The following is a copy of a letter received at the office of the Cobalt Development Company, Limited, on Aug. 17. This has not been made public, and in the meantime insiders are quietly picking up Cobalt Development stock in the present low marker at from 18c to 20c a share:

This, with the almost unlimited quantity of ore to be handled, will be a mere bagatelle, and ingtead of smelting 250 tons per day, it will be more like 2500 tons, which will increase the number of men employed to between 1800 and 2000, with a payroll of from $50,000 to $70,000 per month.

In addition to it's owning and developing five of the richest properties in the Cobalt district, the Cobalt Development Company has a 10 per cent. interest in 18 more. The company also owns the town of North Cobalt, where they have already erected over 200 houses, stores, church, etc. The location of the smelter here means that the town will jump to a population of over 5000 people within the next 12 months.

About a month ago all of the available stock of the Cobalt Development Company was pooled and put in escrow under option to an English syndicate to
