POLITICAL NOTES.

The protest trials will not go on wh A Breakfast Neces.

The protest trials will not go on while the legislature is in session. High Clark, Conservative member for Centre Bruce, was the only respondent, who was ready to proceed, but he declined to do so unless all the other trials were some on with. The petitions dealt with were North York. North Perth, North Nortolk, North Grey and Sault Ste. Marie, against Liberals, and Centre Bruce against Liberals, and Centre Bruce against Liberals, and Centre titioners, wanted April 1 fixed for the trials, but Chief Justice Moss said May 2 was the earliest date at the disposit of the judges. And on May 2 the court will sit to fix the time of hearing the petitions.

Michie & Co.,

Mr. Grant, who appeared for a nur ber of the respondents, remarked on the outputs of the court, "We are not in a position to go on with the trials," in a reply to a question by the Chief Justice. "Why are you not ready to ge on?" asked Chancelior Boyd, and Mr. Baird interrupted by saying the petitioners were ready. They had the particulars ready to deliver, but did not have the consent of the respondents. "Is the respondent for whom you ap-pear ready to go on?" "Yes, providing the other trials also proceed." replied Mr. Baird. Mr. Drayton, for Mr. Little, member for North Norfolk, said in view of the great delay on the part of the petition-er, his client feit trat his first duty was to the legislature.

er, ins cherk left dat in in an er and to the legislature. The subpoenas already served will remain in force, Mr. Baird indicating that his clients had already spent $500 in subpoenaing witnesses.

F. S. Spence, secretary of the Pro-hibition Alliance, said to The World yesterday that he was not informed of the intentions of Premier Ross with regard to making prohibition a plank in his platform, and appealing to the prov-ince at an early date. He believed that the government would be returned on trat issue, receiving the votes of many old-time Liberals, who withdrew their support at the last election. Mr. Spence wondered if the temper-ance people would be satisfied with a mere promise. "You know we got that before," he observed, with a suggestion of doubt lurking in his smile; but he might commit himself so far as to try to carry the bill thru the legislature, and, if defeated, appeal to the peoplei on it.
