Toronto and Montreal are having a thrilling race for the cellar championship. Both teams would have done better if they had captured an orphans home, instead of robbing an aged persons' home.

Neither the "Spuds" nor the Glants can get any lead in the National League. If the other teams do not put it over McGraw's bunch before Donlin and Mathewson get back, there will be nothing doing.

There is great wee in Hamilton since it was discovered that the "rassling" game was crooked. Conkle's confessions ranks in the same class as those made by one Joe Gans, and make racy reading.

Prospects are none too bright in Hamilton for the bookmakers. With Sherring's blow-out and the "rassling" bunco game, there is not enough money left in Blufftown to buy three long ones with collars on.

The horses in the stables of Dan McEwen and Pete Sellers are all well along in their work. Some very good time has been made, several of them putting in miles less than 2:30.
