

ESTABLISHED 1864.

JOHN CATTO & SON

RARE LOT

-OF-

Bleach-Damaged

Tablecloths

Just to hand, an exceptionally fine lot of slightly bleach-damaged Tablecloths. These cover a great variety of patterns, are all splendid quality, pure linen double damask, wear and laundering qualities of the best. These bleach-damaged, as the term suggests, are liable to occur in any grade or pattern of goods, being largely the result of accidents of one kind or another. This lot, which is one of the finest and least damaged we have ever handled, offers very special opportunities (cases from 2 to 5 yards), on sale at 55-65 per cent.

BLANKETS.

Limited quantity All-wool Blankets, singly whipped, 46 x 56 inch, special week-end bargain, $3.50 each. (Regular $5.25).

WHITE QUILTS.

Big lot, slightly counter-soiled, at various surprising prices.

DOWN QUILTS.

Choice designs, 60x72, fine English pattern covered, good down filling, top edged and quilted, a limited quantity to clear at $6.00 each.

FRENCH PRINTS.

Polard printed patterns and colors, regularly up to 75 cents—clearing at 40 cents yard.

LADIES' SUITS.

COATS, COATS, ETC.

Any excuse is a good reason to buy from this stock just now. For new, up-to-date goods, and our quantities, the opportunities in this department are wonderful.

LADIES' AND GENTLEMEN'S

ESPECIAL HANDKERCHIEFS.

These are a splendid line of Pure Irish Linen Handkerchiefs, Ladies' and Gentlemen's. Initials, stitched and hand-embroidered. Ladies' Sheer Linen and initial enclosed in pretty wreath. Gentlemen's initial, with hand-embroidered. Ladies' $2.00, and Gentlemen's $3.00 dozen. As they are only half-laundered, tied with flax, and not boxed, and purchased in immense quantities, we can place them on sale at—Ladies', $1.25 dozen, 60c 34-doz. Gentlemen's, $2.00 dozen.

Note: Not less than one-half dozen of any initial sold.

TRAVELING RUGS

AND WRAP SHAWLS.

In most profuse assortment of patterns and prices. Traveling Rugs (including Scottish Tartan patterns) range $3.00, $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.50, $8.00, $10.00 each, etc. Shawls at every price from 50c to $5.00.

MAIL ORDERS CAREFULLY FILLED.

JOHN CATTO & SON

55 to 61 KING STREET EAST, TORONTO.

QUICK CURE FOR MORPHINISM

London Doctor Tells of Herb That Works in Four Weeks.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—A London physician vouches for a cure of the morphine habit of ten years' duration by the infusion of dried leaves of a plant named combreton undulatum, which is grown in the Malay Peninsula. He contends that a wineglassful of this taken every half hour daily for four weeks cured his patient.

The powers of this herb were discovered accidentally. Some Chinese coolies who were working in the forests of the Malay Peninsula ran short of tea. In its place they used combreton undulatum. After two weeks it was discovered that the herb destroyed the taste for opium among certain of the party who were addicted to its use.

General Dropped Dead.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Gen. Newton Martin Curtis of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and this city, dropped dead of apoplexy on the street near his home on Irving-place here this afternoon.

THE WEATHER

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, Toronto.

Jan. 9 (8 p.m.)—Shallow depressions extend to-night over the western provinces and off the middle Atlantic coast, while an area of high pressure covers the central portion of the continent. Since Saturday morning light snow has fallen in many parts of Ontario and Quebec, otherwise the weather in Canada has been generally fair and cold.

Minimum and maximum temperatures: Dawson, 38 below—23 below; Victoria, 32—38; Vancouver, 32—38; Kamloops, 8—18; Calgary, 12—28; Edmonton, 8—28; Prince Albert, 24—44; Moosejaw, 8 below—22; Qu'Appelle, 18 below—30; Fort Arthur, 8 below—8; Parry Sound, 6—18; London, 18—22; Toronto, 18—22; Ottawa, 18—24; Montreal, 18—28; Quebec, 12—22; Halifax, 18—22.

—Probabilities—

Lower Lakes and Georgian Bay—

Fine and cold.

Ottawa Valley and Upper St. Lawrence—

Fine and much colder.

Lower St. Lawrence—Westerly and northwesterly winds; some light snow falls or flurries, but mostly fair and colder.

Gulf—Some light snowfalls or flurries, but partly fair and cold.

Maritime—Fresh winds, shifting to west-coast and northerly; some light falls of snow or sleet; turning colder again at night.

Superior—Fine and cold.

Saskatchewan—Fair and a little milder.

Alberta—Fair and mild; turning colder on Tuesday.

THE BAROMETER.

Time.	Ther.	Bar.	Wind.
8 a.m.	23	29.93	9 W.
Noon	28	29.91	12 W.
2 p.m.	22	29.90	18 N.
4 p.m.	16	30.08	18 N.
8 p.m.	12	30.08	18 N.
Mean	22
Max.	above; highest, 28; lowest, 16, Saturday, 27, 12. Snowfall, 3.

STEAMSHIP ARRIVALS

Jan. 8.	At	From
Perugia	New York	Lighthouse
LaSalle	New York	Hayre
LaSalle	Quebec	New York
LaSalle	Antwerp	New York
LaSalle	New York	New York
LaSalle	New York	New York
LaSalle	New York	New York
LaSalle	New York	New York
LaSalle	New York	New York
LaSalle	New York	New York

TO-DAY IN TORONTO.

Hon. George E. Foster at Empire Club, McConkey's 1.
A. O. Wheeler on "Canada's Mountain Heritage," McConkey's 1.
Royal Alexandra, Maxine Elliott, 8.
Princess, Polly of the Circus, 8.
Grand, A. Stubbins Cindersella, 8.
Majestic, vaudeville, 2 and 8.
Gaiety, burlesque, 2 and 8.
Star, burlesque, 2 and 8.
Harper, Customs Broker, McKinnon Building, Toronto.

PASTOR HINCKS REFUTES THE "KENOSIS THEORY"

Discusses the Deity of Christ as Affected by the Higher Criticism.

As one would naturally expect in these days in which the subject of "higher criticism" is so much in the air, Broadway Methodist Tabernacle was filled with a large and attentive congregation on Sunday morning when the pastor, Rev. W. H. Hincks, LL.B., was announced to preach on "The Deity of Christ as affected by higher criticism."

The sermon was a refutation, in the first place, of the "accommodation theory," which states that Christ knew of the errors of the old testament sacred scriptures, but that He accommodated Himself to these mistakes, because it was no part of His mission to correct men in false history. This theory, the preacher held, was out of harmony with the stainless character of Our Lord.

The "Kenosis theory," held by a large and increasing school of critics, which teaches that when Christ came to earth to live a human life, this involved a self-limitation of His divine mode of existence, was wrong, if it meant that Christ so emptied Himself of His Divine knowledge that He shared in the errors of the old testament. The preacher's own view was that Christ retained throughout His life His Divine knowledge, but that He never used it for His own personal self-advantage, but did use it to further His work in the redemption of the world.

"To show how perfectly His manhood and His Deity worked," said Mr. Hincks, "on one occasion, while His face was yet wet with the tears of His humanity, He shouted to the dead Lazarus, 'Come forth,' and this call of Deity, while the tears of humanity were wet on His cheek, revealed how human He was, and how Divine He was, and how these worked together harmoniously."

The sermon is being printed in pamphlet form for general distribution, and will also be read as a paper at the next meeting of the ministerial association, when the adherents of the theories combated will be given a chance to uphold their side of the question.

ACQUIRING TRACTION LINE

Grand Valley Railway Wants L and L. E. Road.

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 8.—(Special.)—Negotiations for the acquisition of the Southwestern Traction line, or the London & Lake Erie Transportation Co., as the new concern is called, by the Grand Valley Railway are under way.

Mr. Murray A. Verner of Brantford and Philadelphia, president of the Grand Valley road, was in the city today, and had a conference with Mr. Mower of the traction lines respecting the deal.

DEATHS.

ARMSTRONG—On Friday, Jan. 8, 1910, at her late residence, 205 Dundas-street, Anne Duran, widow of the late James Armstrong, in her 83rd year.

BRYAN—At Toronto, on Jan. 8, Ellen Ada Bryan, aged 27 years.

FUNERAL will take place from Harry R. Rank's undertaking parlors, 45 West Queen-street, Monday, at 3 p.m., to Necropolis.

CAIN—On Sunday, Jan. 9, 1910, at Toronto, Leona Bell, beloved wife of William Cain, in her 40th year.

FUNERAL from her late residence, 391 Glenview-street, Wednesday, 3 p.m., to Necropolis.

DAVIDSON—On Saturday, Jan. 8, 1910, at Toronto, Janet, beloved wife of Lochlan Davidson (stonecutter), in her 31st year.

FUNERAL service conducted by the Rev. R. J. Garrett, Tuesday, at 2 p.m., from 205 College-street, interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Friends please accept this notice.

FORD—On Saturday evening, Jan. 8, 1910, Peter Ford, in his 72nd year.

FUNERAL from his daughter's residence, 38 Carleton-street, on Monday, Service at 2:30. Interment in St. John's Cemetery, Norway, London, Ont., and Dundas, Scotland; papers please copy.

FINDLAY—At Cochrane, Ont., on Monday, Jan. 8, 1910, George Simpson Findlay, son of William Findlay, Combyville, Brant County, in the 54th year of his age.

GOURLAY—At the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Garden, Westmount, Quebec, formerly of 1489 Strathcona-avenue, Toronto, Agnes, widow of the late William Gourlay, in her 72nd year.

FUNERAL Monday, at 2:30 p.m., from 1489 Strathcona-avenue, Toronto, to Prospect Cemetery.

NELSON—Glady, second daughter of Emma Nelson, 38 Hook-avenue, West Toronto, in her 15th year (scarlet fever).

FUNERAL to Prospect Cemetery at 9 a.m. today. (Private.)

GODFREY—On Friday, Jan. 7, 1910, Frank L. Godfrey, grandson of the late H. A. Schomberg, aged 43 years.

FUNERAL private today (Monday).

HERRING—Suddenly, at 2 Francis-street, Toronto, David Herring, in his 80th year.

FUNERAL from 205 Yonge-street, on Saturday, Jan. 11, 1910, at 2 o'clock, interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

JEWELL—At the residence of her son, J. H. Jewell, 122 St. George-street, on Sunday morning, Jan. 9, 1910, Melinda J. Jewell, widow of the late Emerson J. Jewell, in her 84th year.

INTERMENT at Syracuse, N.Y., on Wednesday, the 12th.

SMITH—On Friday, Jan. 7, 1910, at 98 Amelia-street, Ellen Margaret, beloved daughter of Emma and Frederick Smith, aged 3 months and 2 weeks.

FUNERAL private.

TOMLIN—On Saturday evening, Jan. 8, 1910, at her residence, 23 Bleeker-street, Mary Ann, dearly beloved wife of John J. Tomlin, in her 62nd year.

FUNERAL on Sunday, Jan. 9, at West Hill Hospital, George, eldest son of Geo. Tomlin, Grange, Magency Co., Carlow, Ireland.

FUNERAL on Tuesday from 181 Simco-street, to Norway Cemetery, at 2 p.m.

Late of Craig & Son. Phone Park 255

Norman A. Craig

(UNDERTAKER)

253 QUEEN ST. WEST, - TORONTO.

advantage, but did use it to further His work in the redemption of the world.

"To show how perfectly His manhood and His Deity worked," said Mr. Hincks, "on one occasion, while His face was yet wet with the tears of His humanity, He shouted to the dead Lazarus, 'Come forth,' and this call of Deity, while the tears of humanity were wet on His cheek, revealed how human He was, and how Divine He was, and how these worked together harmoniously."

The sermon is being printed in pamphlet form for general distribution, and will also be read as a paper at the next meeting of the ministerial association, when the adherents of the theories combated will be given a chance to uphold their side of the question.

ACQUIRING TRACTION LINE

Grand Valley Railway Wants L and L. E. Road.

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 8.—(Special.)—Negotiations for the acquisition of the Southwestern Traction line, or the London & Lake Erie Transportation Co., as the new concern is called, by the Grand Valley Railway are under way.

Mr. Murray A. Verner of Brantford and Philadelphia, president of the Grand Valley road, was in the city today, and had a conference with Mr. Mower of the traction lines respecting the deal.

ISSUES ARE MIXED RESULTS UNCERTAIN

Continued From Page 1.

the public mind. Now there are indications that tariff reform commands the highest interest among the electors. If this be true, it is a distinct encouragement for the Unionist cause. As between free trade and tariff reform the country would probably vote even the vast Radical majority in the house of commons if the choice could be free and untrammelled.

Home Rule Not an Issue.

The most significant feature of the contest is the almost universal indifference to the home rule issue. The question which fifteen or twenty years ago was absolutely paramount before the country to-day is almost ignored by the press, is entirely neglected by the government speakers and is seldom brought up by the Unionists.

Lord Milner, a Liberal peer, who has been stumping the country, refers to the great mistakes which he considers the government has made in the subject, even among the members of his own party. The truth is that the Liberals and Radicals alike are not in the least concerned with the home rule issue. The Unionists also are lukewarm in the face of what they regard as the greatest economic crisis in the history of the British Empire. They believe that the empire's existence will be in serious danger within the next five years if the present government is returned with a substantial majority, and if the truth be told many Unionists would be willing to concede local self-government to Ireland if thereby they could secure a sound financial policy at home and adequate preparation for national defence.

WAR SCARE AIDS UNIONISTS

Lord Northcliffe Raises German Bug-boo in Campaign.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—(Chicago Tribune Cable.)—Should the Unionists win the general election it will be thanks to one man and he not a professional politician. He has been seen on no public platform, he has delivered no speeches, and even his name is rarely heard amid the din of the electoral campaign, and yet he is distinctly the "man behind the gun." It is he who has pointed the Unionists' artillery in the one direction which seems to offer any prospect of successful attack upon the otherwise impregnable Liberal position. This man is Lord Northcliffe.

During the last week there has been remarkable change in the Unionist front—a realignment of forces. Tariff reform is no longer in the forefront of their battle line and their heaviest artillery is aimed no more on the provisions of Lloyd-George's budget.

The house of lords is not the Hugoburn of this Waterloo, and Asquith's lukewarm promise of home rule for Ireland has not done more to reduce the chances of even, with at least the possibility of a small majority for the Conservatives. There has, in fact, been little business doing in "Lloyd's risks," partly because dealings on the stock exchange itself, during the last two months, have been chiefly in the nature of put and call options.

Meantime, as one result of the political situation, the latest returns of the national revenue show, for the first time in years, a decline in receipts from the income tax—this notwithstanding the higher tax rate on dividend warrants since last April.

A Resourceful Peer.

The noble lords never before trumped the political treadmill so persistently and never were so violently heckled. One north country lord brags of a remedy to check all interruptions by having a brass band beneath the platform. Whenever the opposition interrupts he gives a signal and the band plays "God Save the King." Then everybody has to stand up, remove his hat and stop his racket.

In the words of Lord Kesteven, "The campaign has been a hideous with the lid off."

They have more troubles of their own in Ottawa than in half a dozen other places. First it was given out that they were going to form a rival professional hockey team, and now comes the report that Pettie Green is behind a rival N.L.H. lacrosse team. There is no telling what they will do next in Ottawa, and one would be surprised to hear them signing the Dominion Senate for King Clancy's Rugby team.

SECEDING LIBERALS

Big Manufacturers Who May Indicate Some Startling Surprises.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—(Associated Press.)—The long list of seceding Liberals who have been won over to tariff reform, published during the week, indicates that there may be great surprises in the coming elections. Many of those are manufacturers, who may influence the votes of their workers.

The Unionist leaders proclaim their confidence in the result, but a Unionist victory would require such an enormous turn-over that it is questionable whether, even with the tide in favor of the party, most can be done than to reduce the government's majority to such a small margin that it would have to depend on the Irish vote for legislation.

This might result in speedy dissolution and another appeal to the country, in which the Unionists would have better prospects of success.

The Betting at Lloyd's.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—(N.Y. Post cable.)—At Lloyd's, the betting is two to one on a Liberal victory; on the stock exchange, the odds are six to four. In other quarters, where there would usually be better opportunity for good judgment, it is still thought that the chances are even, with at least the possibility of a small majority for the Conservatives. There has, in fact, been little business doing in "Lloyd's risks," partly because dealings on the stock exchange itself, during the last two months, have been chiefly in the nature of put and call options.

Meantime, as one result of the political situation, the latest returns of the national revenue show, for the first time in years, a decline in receipts from the income tax—this notwithstanding the higher tax rate on dividend warrants since last April.

A Resourceful Peer.

The noble lords never before trumped the political treadmill so persistently and never were so violently heckled. One north country lord brags of a remedy to check all interruptions by having a brass band beneath the platform. Whenever the opposition interrupts he gives a signal and the band plays "God Save the King." Then everybody has to stand up, remove his hat and stop his racket.

In the words of Lord Kesteven, "The campaign has been a hideous with the lid off."

They have more troubles of their own in Ottawa than in half a dozen other places. First it was given out that they were going to form a rival professional hockey team, and now comes the report that Pettie Green is behind a rival N.L.H. lacrosse team. There is no telling what they will do next in Ottawa, and one would be surprised to hear them signing the Dominion Senate for King Clancy's Rugby team.

The Late Cardinal Satolli

Francesco Di Paola Satolli, who died Saturday morning in Rome, was a noted prince of the Roman Catholic Church, having been one of the six distinguished cardinals who led the sacred college of cardinals. He also was widely known in the United States, being the first apostolic delegate from the Vatican to that country. Cardinal Satolli was born in Perugia in 1839 and was made a cardinal in 1893 by the late Pope Leo, who years previously had presided over the diocesan seminary in which Satolli was educated, but a Unionist for a time was president of the Academy of Noble Ecclesiastics, and in 1898 he was the most probable successor of Pope Leo XIII.

He was preparing a military transport organization of 200,000 soldiers and coolies, which will be much more efficient than the present one. Many of those are manufacturers, who may influence the votes of their workers.

The Unionist leaders proclaim their confidence in the result, but a Unionist victory would require such an enormous turn-over that it is questionable whether, even with the tide in favor of the party, most can be done than to reduce the government's majority to such a small margin that it would have to depend on the Irish vote for legislation.

This might result in speedy dissolution and another appeal to the country, in which the Unionists would have better prospects of success.

The Betting at Lloyd's.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—(N.Y. Post cable.)—At Lloyd's, the betting is two to one on a Liberal victory; on the stock exchange, the odds are six to four. In other quarters, where there would usually be better opportunity for good judgment, it is still thought that the chances are even, with at least the possibility of a small majority for the Conservatives. There has, in fact, been little business doing in "Lloyd's risks," partly because dealings on the stock exchange itself, during the last two months, have been chiefly in the nature of put and call options.

Meantime, as one result of the political situation, the latest returns of the national revenue show, for the first time in years, a decline in receipts from the income tax—this notwithstanding the higher tax rate on dividend warrants since last April.

A Resourceful Peer.

The noble lords never before trumped the political treadmill so persistently and never were so violently heckled. One north country lord brags of a remedy to check all interruptions by having a brass band beneath the platform. Whenever the opposition interrupts he gives a signal and the band plays "God Save the King." Then everybody has to stand up, remove his hat and stop his racket.

In the words of Lord Kesteven, "The campaign has been a hideous with the lid off."

They have more troubles of their own in Ottawa than in half a dozen other places. First it was given out that they were going to form a rival professional hockey team, and now comes the report that Pettie Green is behind a rival N.L.H. lacrosse team. There is no telling what they will do next in Ottawa, and one would be surprised to hear them signing the Dominion Senate for King Clancy's Rugby team.

SECEDING LIBERALS

Big Manufacturers Who May Indicate Some Startling Surprises.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—(Associated Press.)—The long list of seceding Liberals who have been won over to tariff reform, published during the week, indicates that there may be great surprises in the coming elections. Many of those are manufacturers, who may influence the votes of their workers.

The Unionist leaders proclaim their confidence in the result, but a Unionist victory would require such an enormous turn-over that it is questionable whether, even with the tide in favor of the party, most can be done than to reduce the government's majority to such a small margin that it would have to depend on the Irish vote for legislation.

This might result in speedy dissolution and another appeal to the country, in which the Unionists would have better prospects of success.

The Betting at Lloyd's.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—(N.Y. Post cable.)—At Lloyd's, the betting is two to one on a Liberal victory; on the stock exchange, the odds are six to four. In other quarters, where there would usually be better opportunity for good judgment, it is still thought that the chances are even, with at least the possibility of a small majority for the Conservatives. There has, in fact, been little business doing in "Lloyd's risks," partly because dealings on the stock exchange itself, during the last two months, have been chiefly in the nature of put and call options.

Meantime, as one result of the political situation, the latest returns of the national revenue show, for the first time in years, a decline in receipts from the income tax—this notwithstanding the higher tax rate on dividend warrants since last April.

A Resourceful Peer.

The noble lords never before trumped the political treadmill so persistently and never were so violently heckled. One north country lord brags of a remedy to check all interruptions by having a brass band beneath the platform. Whenever the opposition interrupts he gives a signal and the band plays "God Save the King." Then everybody has to stand up, remove his hat and stop his racket.

In the words of Lord Kesteven, "The campaign has been a hideous with the lid off."

They have more troubles of their own in Ottawa than in half a dozen other places. First it was given out that they were going to form a rival professional hockey team, and now comes the report that Pettie Green is behind a rival N.L.H. lacrosse team. There is no telling what they will do next in Ottawa, and one would be surprised to hear them signing the Dominion Senate for King Clancy's Rugby team.

SECEDING LIBERALS

Big Manufacturers Who May Indicate Some Startling Surprises.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—(Associated Press.)—The long list of seceding Liberals who have been won over to tariff reform, published during the week, indicates that there may be great surprises in the coming elections. Many of those are manufacturers, who may influence the votes of their workers.

The Unionist leaders proclaim their confidence in the result, but a Unionist victory would require such an enormous turn-over that it is questionable whether, even with the tide in favor of the party, most can be done than to reduce the government's majority to such a small margin that it would have to depend on the Irish vote for legislation.

This might result in speedy dissolution and another appeal to the country, in which the Unionists would have better prospects of success.

The Betting at Lloyd's.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—(N.Y. Post cable.)—At Lloyd's, the betting is two to one on a Liberal victory; on the stock exchange, the odds are six to four. In other quarters, where there would usually be better opportunity for good judgment, it is still thought that the chances are even, with at least the possibility of a small majority for the Conservatives. There has, in fact, been little business doing in "Lloyd