War's Demands Have Resulted in Generally Felt Food Shortage.

Ottawa, Feb. 12.-The following appeal nscribed to "The People of Canada" has been made by Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture, for increased production:

Two years ago in a message to the farmers of Canada special emphasis was laid on the important part food production and distribution would play in this world-war. It was pointed out that the fratting of twenty millions of men into European battlefields and the destructive process of war itself must inevitably be followed by diminished production and enhanced cost of food. Today Rumans, Poland and Belgium are conspicuous and tragic examples of what these things $14.50.
