Poet Obtains Judgment and Damages in London Court —Law is Infringed.

London, Dec. 7.—Advertisers must not use unauthorised extracts from literary works in order to boost their wares, according to a judgment of a London court.
The judgment was obtained by Rudyard Kipling, who was given an injunction restraining owners of a patent medicine from publishing an extract from his poem.

"Nothing could more annoy an author of distinction than to have his work associated with the inferior chaplain of a patent medicine vendor. Not only is it an infringement of his legal rights, but it is an insult to a man of literary ability." Damages of eight dollars were awarded to the poet, who did not appear in court.

While answering an alarm from box No. 16 the motor fire engine, driven by Robert Douglas, collided with the hose cart from No. 2 station, driven by James Brickley. The motor engine came down Union street and was proceeding to St.
Patrick street when the hose cart came along Carmarthen across Union to Brun-sels and at the Corner of Union and Brunsel streets the two vehicles collided. The hose cart was jammed against a telegraph pole and the shafts were broken. The hose cart was unhurt and proceeded to the fire. District Chief Jackson had his arm badly wrenched, J.
Parlee his neck and face cut and James Brickley his thumb dislocated. The fire was in a house in Brindley street and large volumes of smoke poured out but Association Building Brilliant Scene on Opening Night—The Committees.

The Y. M. H. A. Building in Horsefield street presented a most attractive appearance last evening, the opening night of the big fair which is being conducted this week to raise funds for the association building fund. The event is under the joint auspices of the Y. M. H. A. and the Y. W. H. A. and if last night's attendance and enthusiasm are any criterion, the affair will be a huge success.

The convenors for the ladies' committee is Mrs. L. Isaacs, and for the men's, Spence Isaacs, and they are assisted by members of both institutions. The fair will be continued until Thursday evening. The Y. M. H. A. orchestra under the direction of Eli Boyaner, was in attendance last night and rendered a pleasant programme of excellent music; a similar programme has been arranged for each evening.

Patriotic decorations, flags and bunting have made the building and the various booths most attractive and evergreen has also been used with fine effect. For the fancy booth on the upper flat, blue and white, the colors of the association, have been artistically arranged to form a pretty scheme of decoration.

The convenors for the various booths each night are as follows: Home cooking—Monday, Mrs. B. Jacobson; Tuesday, Mrs. Boyaner; Wednesday, Mrs. I.
Corbett; Thursday, Miss Annie Gilbert; Candy—Monday, Mrs. A. Poyas; Tuesday, Miss Annie Gilbert; Wednesday,

Wednesday, Mrs. J. Goldman; Thursday, Mrs. A. Poyas; Ice-cream—Monday,

MAY LOSE LOCAL NAVIGATION SCHOOL

In the recent examinations of masters and mates in the government navigation school here the following students passed successfully: W. G. Salter, master (coasting); Murray Williger, mate (coasting); Donald Taylor, mate (M. I. W.); George Miller, St. John pilot. The government navigation school is free and offers to all young Canadian seamen the necessary requirements to enable them to become members of one of the finest and most promising professions in Canada today. Those in charge of the school are regretting the fact that few local men take advantage of the opportunities afforded at the institution and express fears that, if a greater attendance is not forthcoming, this port will lose the school and that it will be located elsewhere. The principal of the school, Captain R. Pollock, has his office in the old post office building.

ALICE BRADY
SCORES HIT AT UNIQUE THEATRE

Alice Brady, versatile star of many successes, appeared at the Unique last night in a new Reelart picture "A Dark Lamentation." It is a very brilliant picture of society in London, Rome, and other European capitals, before and during the war. The plot is unique and is headed with a very fine cast of players. James Crane supports Miss Brady. Aside from the dramatic interest of the story it is a veritable fashion show. Many beautiful gowns and wraps were seen throughout the picture.

PORTUGUESE FINANCE
Lisbon, Nov. 18.—(Associated Press Correspondence)—It is announced that the Portuguese government has made an internal loan of 25,000,000. This is expected by Portuguese financiers to have an beneficial effect upon the rate of exchange. There was some improvement in this respect immediately following the announcement.

The government has made a contract for a supply of foreign corn said to be sufficient, with the home product, to supply the needs of the country.

Shortly after the opening of the meeting in Moncton last night, advertised to be addressed by Lindsay Crawford, it was evident that Crawford could not get a hearing without first answering questions addressed to him by Thomas Daig's returned soldier. Chief of Police Hutchinson went on the platform and asked the people to disperse quietly, as there would be no meeting. The audience then began to leave the hall, and shortly after Crawford was escorted out by his friends. On reaching the street he was jostled by the crowd and had to seek haven in a store. He was ejected by the proprietor after the crowd became threatening, and then started for the C. N. R. depot. Before reaching his destination he sought refuge in another store, but eventually proceeded on his way. He was hit with missiles of snow and ice thrown by citizens who followed him. In the depot he was compelled to kiss the flag, which he said he was willing to do as a British subject. The crowd insisted on his getting out of town on the first train but finally, on the request of the chief of police, he was allowed to go to the Hotel Brunswick, where he was stopping. After reaching the hotel he gave out a statement that he was unable to travel, but would leave town today. The crowd dispersed between 12 and 1 o'clock.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Daniel Arbogast and Thomas McDermott, "outlaw" striking switchmen, were before Judge Landis on a charge of having stolen a locomotive in the Nickel Plate yards, turning on full steam and setting it loose in the mass of tracks. The locomotive, roaring at top speed, tore through the yards for more than a mile before it was ditched.
It barely missed crushing a street car crowded with people at a crossing, and endangered the lives of other hundreds of innocent persons in suburban trains.
The men, armed with pistols, leaped into the cab of the locomotive and drove out the engineer and fireman.
Then they turned on full power and cut the big engine loose. Ellis H. Roberts, one of the defendants, was acquitted, and Barney Roy, a fourth defendant, was dismissed on instructions from Judge Landis.

The penalty which Arbogast and Mc-Dermott must pay is a fine of $10,000 or two years in prison, or both.
