BRITISH CONTRACTS A BOON TO CANADA

Donations Are Sharing in The Trade Created by The War

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—Canadian manufacturers will share largely in contracts to be given overseas by the British Government, and possibly by some of her allies for food supplies, equipment and various articles of war. These, in addition to the demand already created by the outfitting of a Canadian expeditionary force, will do much to improve the industrial situation along many lines.

At the Trade and Commerce Department it was pointed out that statements have appeared in the papers that large orders for various supplies of food and munitions of war were being given out by Great Britain and France to the United States. The department has received advice to the effect that these are untrue, and that in respect to supplies of a kind obtainable in Canada, and which are not obtainable in adequate quantities in the United Kingdom, due regard will be paid to Canada in that respect. She will share this trade with the other overseas dominions.

Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, said that the outlook for Canadian manufacturers was comparatively good. He emphasized that the most immediate opportunity of the present war was in the supply by Canadian manufacturers of articles formerly imported from Germany, Austria and other European countries. The great benefit, according to Sir George, was arising from the large number of such commodities and the Canadian manufacturer producing or in a position to produce them together. The department will endeavor to assist in this direction. Among other things which are being done is the inventorying of stock of a modern drug store, to show that at present some 70 per cent. of its stock comes from Germany, Austria and other European countries.

BUSINESS BETTER ALL ROUND

Saskatoon, Sask., Sept. 22.—Wholesale business in most lines continues to improve; and, notwithstanding the hard-time talk which has recently attained such vogue all over the country, the fact remains that many concerns have done much better during the first eight months of the present year than during a similar period of 1913. This is confirmed by the railway companies whose experience has been much the same. It is true that certain lines, such as implements and building material, have fallen off heavily; but, on the other hand, ordinary merchandise has increased.

All indications emphasize the fact that there is more business in the country this year than last. A. Macdonald, a large wholesale grocer here, recently, was asked when he thought that things would pick up, replied that they had never gone down, and indeed, were going up all the time. His concern had never done a bigger or better business. His contention was that this season's crop, with the increase in stock and laying, would do better for the farmer than ever before, and that it was only the real estate interests that were suffering and not the legitimate resources of the land.

Naturally, the disquieting result of the outbreak of war was at first felt by retailers; but this quickly passed, and things again became briskly normal.

STOCK SEASON OPENING AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Bought and Paid For, the play selected by the Thompson Woods Company for the opening week of the stock season at the Opera House, commencing Monday night, raises a question: "Should a poor young girl brought up in a humble environment, marry a rich man and expect to be happy?" The play says "Yes," and then proves the statement in a most unexpected manner. It is a strong play, well written by an author who knows the world and men and women, and contains many lines and situations that make an audience sit up straight in their seats and wonder what is coming next. For two years Bought and Paid For was one of the big successes of the New York stage, playing to as many people in that time as any play that has been offered in the last ten years—it was only lately released for stock presentation and was secured by the Thompson Woods management at considerable expense. It is an ideal play for the opening of the season as it contains so many good parts for the different members of the company. Seats for the week go on sale tomorrow.

ST. JOHN BRIDE IS TO MAKE HOME IN SYDNEY

An interesting ceremony was performed in Queen Square Methodist church at half past eleven o'clock this morning when Miss M. Greta Branscombe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Branscombe of 224 Britain street, was married to Arthur G. White, of Sydney, N.S., by Rev. Hammond Johnson, pastor of the church, officiated. The bride, who was unattended, wore a traveling suit of navy blue with a white hat and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was given away by her father. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Weytill's band. After the ceremony the bride and groom, who were ushered by Mr. White, left on the noon train for Sydney where they will make their home.

The bride, who has been a stenographer in the Western Union Telegraph Company, has many friends in St. John who wish her much happiness in her married life. Among a brilliant list of guests were: Miss M. Greta Branscombe, a beautiful chest of silver from J. A. McCollum of Sydney with whom Mr. White is employed and a silver cup from the Western Union superintendent's office, a set of knives and forks from the receiving department and a set of cut glass tumblers from the manager, G. M. Robertson. A handsome pearl necklace was the groom's gift to the bride and from their parents each received a substantial check.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe To Darken and Beautify Faded Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

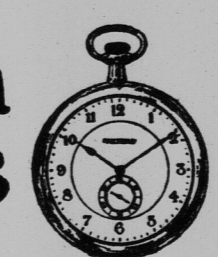

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Weytill's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, richness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Everybody uses "Weytill's Sage and Sulphur Compound" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

You don't have to lean over hot cooking top and steaming pots to work damper on

WILL COMPLETE NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING

Saskatoon, Sept. 22.—Despite wars and rumors of wars, work on the buildings at the university still keeps on and it will not be very long until all the stonework is completed, so think Richardson Builders Limited, the contractors.

At the present time a large number of masons are at work on the job, and about $900,000.

The stone work being set at present is gradually approaching the second story. "It looks as if we were going to finish the building after all," said President Murray. "It will be very much needed when the fall and winter term formally opens, but I was afraid that we would not be able to carry on the work much after the commencement of hostilities in Europe."

The cost of the new building will be about $1,000,000.

THE WILY GERMAN

In a cable despatch from Paris a few days ago the New York Sun told of a remarkable series of posters dotting the countryside of France. Ostensibly the signs, which were "made in Germany," advertised "Bouillon Kub," a soup preparation. In reality, according to reports, they were intended to serve as signals to German officers should the troops penetrate the interior of France. Thus a square yellow poster would carry the information "Food is abundant around here," while a round red sign would advise the initiated that "This ground is mined."

Many geometrical figures and most of the colors were utilized, and animal forms—flowers—even the Stars and Stripes—were employed. And each figure and color had its particular significance.

But the minister of the interior got wind of the system and telegraphed orders broadcast to destroy the posters. So now "Bouillon Kub" is advertised in France no longer—Fourth Estate.

THE TRADES AND LABOR CONGRESS WORK

Two interesting sessions of the Trades and Labor Congress followed that held in the morning yesterday. Hon. Mr. Crothers being present at each of them, and hearing some things which were not complimentary. He was told that he was "long on promise but short on action." Two resolutions were passed asking that the congress seek legislation compelling insertion of the fair wage clause in all government contracts.

M. M. Donahue, of Butte, Mo., fraternal delegate from the states, gave an interesting address. Several resolutions calling for the improvement of conditions for street car employees, heating vestibules, shortening their hours of labor, etc., were passed. J. L. Sugrue of this city was heard in support of a resolution for a fair wage clause to be more strictly enforced, and he thought the time ripe for the appointment of a fair wage officer for each province.

Speaking in support of the resolution to provide better accommodation for leaders, etc., for the work of longshoremen, Fred Hyatt, St. John, stated that the matter had been taken up vigorously by the local body, who had put it before the minister of marine (Hon. J. D. Hazen), but they had got no satisfaction. He instanced two deaths in the harbor of St. John. The local trades council asked for the support of the congress to bring pressure upon the government.

The resolution was carried unanimously. A number of resolutions dealing with industrial safeguards in street railway work and type-setting were then passed. Officers and members of the St. John Typographical Union entertained the printers' delegates to the Trades Congress at supper in the Brown Betty Tea Rooms last evening. About seventy printers were in attendance, and a very enjoyable time was spent, though the delegates had to leave before eight o'clock to attend the evening session of the congress. Interesting speeches were made by Controller James Simpson of Toronto, President J. C. Watters of the congress, and M. Donahue, fraternal delegate from the A. F. of L.

The local committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of George Maxwell, Bayard Stillewell, Herman Campbell, F. Shulbs, James Byrne, H. Patterson, F. Stanton, T. O'Brien and W. Coates.

Kossuth—Greatest of Hungarians

THIS noble lover of Liberty was to his beloved Hungary what Patrick Henry was to American Independence. Give me Liberty or give me death meant to Kossuth all that made life worth the living. He lived for ninety-two years, and his long and honorable career was devoted solely to secure for Hungary National Independence. For it he suffered imprisonment and exile. For it he worked as few men have ever worked. His fiery soul was expressed in his writing, and his impassioned oratory thundered across the two continents. All the world read and listened to this high-souled Hungarian patriot. When exiled our government sent the U.S. Steamer Mississippi to Turkey and brought him to our shores as the guest of the Nation. To-day we have millions of Hungarian citizens, each one a lover of Personal Liberty. To secure it they sought our shores, and to a man they will fight to the death to keep forever alive the spirit and letter of our immortal Declaration of Independence. They make good citizens, and like Kossuth detest prohibitory enactments which make the many suffer for the faults of the very few. For centuries Hungarians have as a nation been moderate users of barley brews and light wines. Their votes are always registered against any legislation which proposes to regulate human diet by law. "Thou shalt NOT eat this—thou shalt NOT drink that"—to those of brave Hungarian blood is insufferable tyranny. For 57 years Anheuser-Busch have been proud to serve their Hungarian patrons. They have helped to make the sales of their great brand Budweiser exceed those of any other beer by millions of bottles. Seven thousand, five hundred people are daily required to keep pace with the public demand for Budweiser.
