W. S. FISHER, IN CALGARY, SEES GREAT WORK BEING DONE AND URGES ST. JOHN TO FOLLOW SUIT

School Rooms Given Over for Technical Education Pending Erection of Building—Thirty Classes, Marked Interest and Good Results

Calgary, Alb., March 27.—Editor Times:—I have been spending a day or two in this city and have had such an interesting experience in connection with a matter in which you also are greatly interested, that I cannot refrain from writing you. Last evening I had the pleasure of going the rounds of Calgary's evening technical schools with the director, T. B. Kidner, whom you will of course remember in connection with manual training and household science in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Truly, it was a revelation to me for it is only a year and a half ago that the work was started and over one thousand enrolments have been made in the various classes this winter. The classes opened for the session on Friday next.

Perhaps one of the most striking features is that this large scheme, involving the employment of nearly thirty instructors, has been carried out in the ordinary school buildings of the city. The school board is preparing for the erection of a large technical school, but decided, wisely, I think, not to wait for that, but to go ahead with what rooms could be adapted for the purpose in the present schools. An assembly hall in the Central school was equipped with sixty drafting tables for the building trades and a basement room in the High School for the engineering branches and each of these has been occupied, for five evenings weekly, with large groups of earnest students, ranging from apprentices to foremen. I had the pleasure of inspecting the work of the several classes in the building trades and it was wonderful to see what had been accomplished.

A class of house carpenters were completing their winter work and lately had been wrestling with the problem of the house on the 25-foot lot and had prepared some excellent plans of moderate priced but really convenient dwellings. In building construction, two large groups, elementary and advanced, had produced a fine lot of drawings. In addition to the drafting practice, weekly lectures on construction are given and the advanced group has also had instruction in estimating costs and in calculating the stresses and strains of several typical buildings. In electro-technics, over seventy students were enrolled and a feature of this class has been the valuable lectures given by experts outside the school staff. For instance, last week the city electrical engineer had taken the students to the various power stations of the city's plant; the mayor and commissioners loaning the city's automobiles to convey the students.

Sanitation and plumbing is another important subject and here again the technical education committee were helped by employers and other experts. This was also the case in heating and ventilation in which a good course was given.

One class which interested me greatly was that in the subject of internal combustion engines, with an enrollment of eighty students. A basement room had been fitted up and several types of gasoline and gas engines installed. In addition, all the leading automobile firms had opened their garages and given special demonstrations to the students and similar help had been afforded by the makers of farm tractors.

There were also large numbers studying commercial work in typewriting, shorthand, bookkeeping and English, sixty-five being enrolled for typewriting alone. Shop mathematics, applied mechanics, workshop arithmetic and practical English were also interesting subjects being carried on. A painter's and decorator's class under the combined instruction of an art master and a practical decorator was another most useful feature and had produced a fine lot of schemes of decoration, panels and other specimens of the decorator's art. I was also interested in a group learning sheet metal drafting.

The cookery classes also attracted my attention, the equipment being very complete. I was particularly pleased to meet in this connection Miss Gladys Borden, daughter of Doctor Borden of Mt. Allison University, who is in charge of the evening class work and the large group of young women energetically at work in her school bore testimony to the spirit of the work. (Miss Elaine Borden is also in Calgary, being in charge of the art department in the Mt. Royal College.)

All the evening classes are practically free; a deposit being charged on admission and returned on the basis of a student's attendance.

One other important feature I must mention and that is the instruction provided in English and civics for foreign-born citizens.

Five instructors are employed in this work and it was an inspiring sight to me to see the earnest features of those newcomers to our dominion laboring and patiently acquiring a knowledge of English. In one class, father, mother and daughter were studying side by side and there were several cases of a father and son in the same class.

Altogether the work here is most hopeful and suggestive and I would that St. John and other towns in New Brunswick could have a similar scheme in operation.

Yours sincerely,
W. S. FISHER.

WHAT IS LIKELY IN TARIFF CHANGES IN THE UNITED STATES

Washington, April 2.—President Wilson was tonight face to face with the most serious phases of tariff revision.

With the work of the house ways and means committee before him and extra session of congress only a few days off, the president had proceeded deep enough in his study of the tariff bill to realize that before the Democratic caucus met he must take a definite stand. It was admitted at the White House that he would do so "in a day or two."

The president leans strongly to revision by a single bill. He thinks the income tax question can only be decided after an agreement has been made upon tariff rates. He believes that sugar should go on the free list, but is open to conviction on this point.

Mr. Wilson will study further into the sugar matter, as he is undecided which would be better, a reduction of 25 per cent, as manufacturers would agree to, or the complete wiping out of duty. The president, it is also known, believes in a sweeping reduction in woolen duties, but whether it includes a total removal or not is not ascertained.

Members of the ways and means committee after an all day session today, spent the afternoon in a discussion of the tariff bill. The committee has not yet reached a decision on the tariff bill, but it is believed that a complete agreement would be reached with the president without difficulty.

PRESENTATIONS

Several pleasing events in the nature of presentations took place in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Walter B. Brown, who will soon leave for Montreal to make her home, was tendered a farewell at a gathering held in her honor at the home of Mrs. Colby Smith, West End. About fifty were in attendance and in their behalf, Mrs. Smith presented to Mrs. Brown a valuable amethyst necklace, accompanied by a letter from the ladies of the city.

Many friends assembled last evening at the Union Depot to bid farewell to Fred G. Leary, of North End, and M. A. McQuid, who left for the west, intending to locate in Vancouver. Both have been popular members of the bookkeeping staff of Manchester, Robertson, Allison, Limited.

Mr. Leary was remembered by his fellow members of the D. C. D. Club of Indian town, who presented to him a handsome gold watch chain as a token of their esteem, wishing him all possible success in the west.

Richmond Cunningham will leave on Saturday for Boston, where he will take up a position. He has been a valued member of the staff of the New Brunswick Telephone Co. The members of the staff, by whom he was held in high regard, yesterday presented to him a very nice traveling bag.

On their departure for the west last evening, Mr. and Mrs. Talmage Fenwick were given a hearty send-off by friends who gathered at the Union Depot to say farewell and to wish them success and happiness in Calgary. While regretting their departure, their friends expressed sincere wishes for their future happiness.

A purse well filled with gold was presented last evening to Rev. Wellington Camp, by the members of the congregation of Leinster street Baptist church, to show their appreciation of his services, and the goodwill existing between him and his flock. A. A. Wilson, K. C., made the presentation. Mr. Camp has recently closed a series of successful meetings.

AT THE MOTOR SHOW

The Maritime Motor Show had a record crowd in attendance last evening, including out-of-town visitors. Jones' orchestra furnished music for the evening and the results already shown.

The New Brunswick Automobile Association members were kept busy all night enrolling new members, and it is their intention to hold a banquet on Friday night at the close of the show in honor of the new members.

ON OVERDOING IT

"The tendency of the age," says a modern philosopher, "is to overdo everything." The same thought has occurred to the writer many scores of times, when, after enjoying a very moderate allowance of some sauce, he has been left with a palate apparently given over to an endless stinging and burning sensation, calculated to make a man forego the use of any sauce whatever.

Have you ever been served that way? Ever suffered that way? Ever vowed eternal abstinence from sauces? Forget that suffering, break the vow, and try H. P. Sauce, which has been christened "H. P." in honor of the Houses of Parliament, and it is to be procured of all grocers, and it is in every respect a revelation of what a perfect sauce should be.

We have it from the manufacturers, the Midland Vinegar Company of England, the largest malt vinegar brewers in the world, that this most truly welcome addition to our table is compounded from the choicest Oriental fruits and spices blended with pure malt vinegar by "a secret process" and bottled for export.

We gladly accord the Midland Vinegar Company enthusiastic praise of their "product." H. P. is a sauce of deliciously blended that no flavor predominates aggressively over the others, and no skillful combination that it never separates, there is no sediment, and therefore requires no shaking.

It is imperative, when buying, to look for the letters H. P., and a picture of the British Houses of Parliament on the label for a sauce as good as this will often be imitated, though never in the opinion of the writer, equalled.

I. L. & B. OFFICERS

The Irish Literary and Benevolent Society met in quarterly session last night. Reports from officers were presented and the election of officers for the ensuing term resulted as follows: President, F. J. Casey; 1st vice-president, John Daley; 2nd vice-president, James McEwen; recording secretary, William Mackin; financial secretary, Olen McWilliams; treasurer, John O'Regan; conductor, John Callahan; trustees, Matthew O'Neil, Joseph Doody, and Olen McWilliams.

DANGER PERIOD OF WOMAN'S LIFE FROM 45 to 50

Interesting Experience of Two Women—Their Statements Worth Reading.

White Oak, Ont.—"At Change of Life when doctors could do no more and I was given up by my friends, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to the front and did wonders for me. I had been having female troubles for years, my head troubled me severely at times, I had bearing down pains and backache and I was very anaemic from excessive flowing. I recommend your Compound highly and do all I can to advertise it as a genuine woman's medicine." —Mrs. SYLVESTER MARSH, White Oak, Ontario.

The Case of Mrs. KIRLIN.
Circleville, Ohio.—"I can truthfully say that I never had anything do me so much good during Change of Life as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before I had taken one half a bottle of it, I began to feel better, and I have continued taking it. My health is better than it has been for several years. If all women would take it they would escape untold pain and misery at this time of life." —Mrs. ALICE KIRLIN, 858 W. Mill St., Circleville, Ohio.

The Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. At such times women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

IN PARLIAMENT

Ottawa, April 2.—The bill providing for Canada's adherence to the treaty made between Great Britain and Japan passed tonight.

The discussion on the naval bill is to be resumed tomorrow. In any case there could not be an election until June as there would have to be that much time allowed for printing voters' lists, revising, etc.

On the government side the only definite unanimity of opinion seems at present to be that an election must be avoided if at all possible. Every day strengthens this opinion, as already intimated.

Only two courses are open, either to force the naval bill through by the closure route or to drop it. The closure route will be tried first and a bill to provide for closure will probably be introduced early next week by Premier Borden. Meanwhile the government will see what can be done by applying the present rules, strengthened as they were by the narrowing down process of the famous Saturday before Easter, and the arbitrary rulings of the chair as endorsed by the government majority. This phase of the struggle will be renewed when the debate is resumed tomorrow.

Tomorrow Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his supporters will make a determined effort to have revoked the ruling of March 16 which declared the Liberal amendments out of order. The Liberals believe that not only common sense but also a fair and correct interpretation of the rules as worded justify their contention.

Resistance to practical closure by arbitrary interpretation of the existing rules will be the first fighting ground of the opposition. That will probably occupy the time of the house for the balance of the week. If a straight closure bill is introduced next week needless to say it will be unanimously resisted to the utmost by Liberals. The first attempt at brute force rule, regardless of the rights of the minority, was frustrated in a measure before Easter. The Liberals believe they can successfully frustrate the coming attempt.

Hamburg, April 3.—A large crowd of visitors to Carl Hagenbeck's Zoological park, where the animals are kept in large enclosures under conditions as natural as possible, witnessed a terrifying scene a couple of days ago.

The cashier of the entrance to the lions' section went into the enclosure to discuss with a lion sprang at him and he fell senseless. The other lions became wild, but were kept back by the keepers firing into the air. Efforts were made to frighten the attacking lion, but it had to be shot dead. The man was then carried to the hospital.

FOOLHARDY MAN IS ATTACKED BY LION

Nothing is more silly than the pleasure some people take in "speaking their minds." A man of this make will say a rude thing for the mere pleasure of saying it, when an opposite behavior, full as innocent, might have preserved his friends, or made his fortune.—A. Steele.
