"Poor Little Girl Next Door" Wins $465,000 From Parents-at-Law

Burlington, Vt., Dec. 11.—A jury of farmers has set at $465,000 the damages due Mrs. Dorrit S. Woodhouse from her wealthy parents-at-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, of New York and this city. She had sued them for $1,000,000, charging that they had alienated the affections of her young husband, C. Douglas Woodhouse, who is now at Reno, Nev., seeking divorce. The award is one of the largest ever returned in such cases. Counsel for the elder Woodhouses immediately moved that the verdict be set aside. Arguments on their appeal will be heard. The jury was out forty hours. It appeared that their long deliberations were largely over the amount of damages. Counsel for the plaintiff had developed testimony that indicated the defendants were worth approximately $1,500,000. Of the $465,000 awarded, $400,000 was given as actual damages to the young wife and $65,000 as a punitive award. The romance of young Woodhouse with the "poor little girl," who lived next door, was fairly familiar to Bur-

not the foot to fit the shoe

FOR how many years have people spoken of "breaking in" a pair of shoes, i.e., suffering tortures till the foot had, in time, shaped the shoes to fit the foot? But now Arch Defenders have banished all that and your foot glides into the shaped-to-nature insole of the shoe like a glove to the hand. Note also how different and shapely is the last upon which Arch Defenders are built compared with the old style. In addition to the concealed Spring Steel Support and the special foot-form insole, the lasts upon which Arch Defenders are built, with their cupped heel and foot-contour sole, are so different from the flat shapeless lasts of ordinary shoes.

lington people before the trial, in which was retold the circumstances of their meeting at a college prom, the courtship and marriage while Woodhouse was at an army camp in 1918 and their separation a little more than a year later. Mrs. Dorrit Woodhouse introduced evidence that her parents-at-law had snubbed her, had inspired and supported their son in his separation from her and had encouraged an affair between him and Mrs. Lillian H. McClellan, of Washington, which led to an engagement while he still was married.

AN OLD MAN
HOLDS UP SALOON

Orders Those Present to
"Grab a Handful of Air," and Then Cleans Out the Cash Register.

New York, Dec. 11.—A bent little man with white whiskers walked with a firm step into a saloon at 1177 Second avenue and peered curiously at the wall decorations and the four occupants—Peter Quinn, the bartender, and three customers. Satisfied that all was well, he hauled an automatic pistol from his back pocket and leveled it at the men. "Grab a handful of air, snappy-like," he said, and there was no hiccough in his voice.

The trio lost no time in obeying and then, following the orders of the old man, Quinn cleaned the cash register of $36, which the intruder took and departed. A few minutes later an excited man, old Patrolman Jack Reyer, that "Quinn's place had been stuck up," Reyer ran up Second avenue and came upon an aged man with white whiskers staggering from door to door. Drawing his pistol, Reyer placed the man under arrest and took him to the East Sixty-seventh street station, where he was locked in a cell and promptly went to sleep. In his pocket were found the $36 and two bank books showing deposits of $4000 on Ohio banks in the name of John O'Hearn, of Springfield, O. Two hours later O'Hearn came to and asked how he had got there. When told he had robbed a saloon he was overcome with surprise and broke out crying. He said he had come to New York to see his sister, in East Sixty-first street. He had cashed a money order for $125 earlier in the day and couldn't remember anything since. As a peaceful man of sixty-five years, he said, he couldn't have been drunk. He is charged with robbery, intoxication and carrying a weapon without a license. He owns a plastering business in Springfield, he said, and has a wife and four children.

The police are now looking for the man. Six weeks ago, and again ten days ago, the Chatham and Phoenix Bank, at Fifth avenue and thirtieth street, returned to the firm two counterfeit $10 notes bearing the name of the Queen Park National Bank. The day after the second counterfeit was returned, a man representing himself to be an official from the United States Mint, visited the store and talked with William Richards, the store manager. "He said he came to tell us how to detect counterfeit notes," said Mr. Richards. "He spent some time with me, pointing out the little silver thread that must be visible in all genuine bank notes and also left a list of numbers which he said were on counterfeit. He told me to watch every $10 and $20 note bearing these numbers. He came half a dozen times after that, and I had full confidence in him. I introduced him to Morris Josephbluth, office manager, and Miss Miss Daisy Shapiro, the cashier. Every

Be a Thoughtful
Santa Claus
this Year!

Be a thoughtful, rather than an extravagant Santa Claus this Christmas. Give her something personal if you wish, but give her also something which shows you sympathize with and understand her housekeeping problems. Give her a whole new, beautiful, shining set of Diamond Ware, Pearl Ware, or Crystal Ware—those wonderful, clean, lovely enameled wares.

Makes Food Taste Better
Perhaps she has been struggling along with a motley collection of all sorts of cooking utensils, doing her best on cheap wares, slaving away half the evening cleaning up her all-metal pots and pans.

Do you realize that those wonderful meals of hers could be still more wonderful if she had the proper utensils to work with—Diamond Ware or Pearl Ware? They make food taste better. They have the smooth, clean finish of finest crockery without the breakage. They give no taint, no metallic flavor, to the food.

And they are so easy to clean and keep clean. Where other utensils require special cleaners, Diamond Ware and Pearl Ware just need a quick wash with soap and water.
SMP utensils clean as easily as a china platter or bowl.

Cut Down Fuel Bills
Diamond Ware and Pearl Ware utensils heat quicker and retain even heat, thus cutting down fuel bills. They give far better satisfaction, and if given fair care will outlast any kitchen ware made. Good hardware stores sell SMP Wares.

time he came I showed him some bank notes which he returned with some comment about their genuineness.
"On one occasion he was introduced to I. Strump, president of the firm, who also was interested in the man's talk on counterfeits. Every one believed in him."
On Wednesday afternoon the man telephoned for Mr. Rosenbluth, whose office is on the fifth floor. The operator told him Mr. Rosenbluth was out at lunch. Several minutes later the man called upon Miss Shapiro.

"I just left Mr. Richards on the fourth floor," the man told the cashier.
"I brought the machine for detecting counterfeits and Mr. Richards asked me to have you give me all the bank notes you have so that we can see if there are any that are no good.
Suspecting nothing, the cashier took from the safe $465 in notes of $5, $1, $20, and $50 denominations. Holding them, she walked with the man to the door leading to the stairway, when he suddenly snatched the money from her, slammed the door in her face and escaped.
Mr. Richards went with Detective Doyle to police headquarters but could not recognize the man's face in the Rogues' gallery.
