"And ... poor father—"
Maggie could not utter it. But the suspense was intolerable to Tom. A vague idea of going to prison, as a consequence of debt, was the shape his fears had begun to take.

Into their new life of sorrow, and there would, after all, be no gift or favour in the matter. Mr. Tulliver would never have asked for any-thing from so poor-spirited a fellow for himself, but Bessy might do so if she liked.

It is a recivil to their new life of sorrow, and there would, after all, be no gift or favour in the matter. Mr. Tulliver would never have asked for any-thing from so poor-spirited a fellow for himself, but Bessy might do so if she liked.

It is a recivil to their new life of sorrow, and there would, after all, be no gift or favour in the matter. Mr. Tulliver would never have asked for any-thing from so poor-spirited a fellow for himself, but Bessy might do so if she liked. 'Where's my father?'" he said

empatiently. "Tell me, Maggie."
"He's at home," said Maggie, anding it easier to reply to that question. "But," she added, after a pause, "not himself.... He fell his horse....He has known nobody but me ever since. . . He seems to have lost his senses....Oh, father, father-"

With these last words, Maggie's sohs burst forth with the more violence for the previous struggle against them. Tom felt that pressure of the heart which forbids tears: he had no distinct vision of their troubles as Maggie had, who had been at he only felt the crushing weight of what seemed unmitigated misfortune. He tightened his arm almost convulsively round Maggie rigid and tearless—his eyes blank ward off any results but such as as if a black curtain of cloud had suddenly fallen on his path.

ed on her like a startling sound.

We must set out, Tom-we must not stay-father will miss me we must be at the turnpike at ten to meet the coach." She said this with hasty decision, rubbing her eyes, and rising to seize her bonnet. Tom at once felt the same impulse, and rose too. "Wait a minute, Maggie," he said. "I must speak to Mr. Stelling, and then

He thought he must go to the study where the pupils were, but on his way he met Mr. Stelling, who had heard from his wife that Maggie appeared to be in trouble when she asked for her brother; and now that he thought the brother and sister had been alone long ough, was coming to inquire and offer his sympathy.

Please, sir, I must go home, Tom said abruptly, as he met Mr. Stelling in the passage. "I must go back with my sister directly. My father's lost his lawsuit-he's tost all his property-and he's very

Mr. Stelling felt like a kindhearted man; he foresaw a probable money loss for himself, but this had no appreciable share in his feeling, while he looked with grave pity at the brother and sister for whom youth and sorrow had begun together. When he knew how Maggie had come and how eager sh was to get home again, he nurried their departure, only whispering mething to Mrs. Stelling, who had followed him, and who immedsetely left the room. on the doorstep, ready to set out, when Mrs. Stelling came with a little basket, which she hung on Maggie's arm, saying, "Do remember o cat something on the way, dear. liked, and she kissed her silently.

awkward moment in his affairs, of that transaction, and had ex
He repeated the words inque particle particle as the surfect has ward of the surfect has a likely to suffer his ward of these particles. liked, and she kissed her silently. It was the first sign within the poor child of that new sense which is the gift of sorrow—that susceptibility to the bare offices of humbally to the bare offices of humbally which raises them into a bond of the poor child of the necessity for taking an inventory of the goods as a matter connected with his will. The possion of a wife conspicuously want, and giving no sign of know.

Tom's shoulder and said, "God bless you, my boy: let me know how you get on." Then he pressed Maggie's hand; but there were no audible good-byes. Tom had so often thought how joyful he should be the day he left school "for good!" And now his school years seemed like a holiday that had Mr. Tulliver, still confident that he come to an end. should gain his suit, and finding it The two slight, youthful figures soon grew indistinct on the distant said sum until that desirable issue road-were soon lost behind the had taken place, had rashly accedprojecting hedgerow.

GALL STONES REMOVED IN

24 HOURS

WITHOUT ANY PAIN WHATEVER Liver disorders, Appealists, Ferrical States, Appealists, Ferricansed, by Gell Stones, which is a dangerous complaint and misleads persons to believe that they have stoomach trouble, chronic dyspepsia and indigestion, until those bad attacks of Gall Stone Coliq appear; then they reallise what the trouble is, Ninety out of every hundred persons who have Gall Stones don't know it. Procure today and avoid an operation. Can be obtained at

W. MASSIG'S DRUG STORE. Maple Leaf Block Write in English or German.

They had gone forth together [Pullet if he advanced the money-

THE DOWNFALL

CHAPTER I. What had Happened at Home When Mr. Tulliver first knew the fact that the lawsuit was decided against him, and that Pivart and Wakem were triumphant, everyone who happened to observe him at the time thought that, for so confident and hot-tempered a man, he bore the blow remarkably well. He thought so himself: he thought he was going to show that if Wakem or anybody else considered him crushed, they would find themselves mistaken. He could not refuse to see that the costs of this refuse that middle cost of the cost of the cost of the cost of this refuse to see that the costs of the cost of the cost of the cost of the cost of the co him at the time thought that, for bemselves mixtake. He could not refuse to see that the costs of this protracted sait would take more than he possessed to pay them; but it is of that unwept, hidden divard off any results but it is of that unwept, hidden divard off any results but such as were tolerable, and could avoid the appearance of breaking down in the world. All the obstinacy and defance of his nature, civre out of their old channel, found a vent for themselves in the immediate for the immediate of the red of abruptly: a single thought had act defiance of his nature, driven out whole estate, including the mill can only sustain humiliation so and homestead, but would accept in it, and, in their own conception, ling to advance money to be repaid predominate still. with high interest out of the profits of the business, which would be made over to him, Mr. Tulliver was still predominating in his own imagination as he approached St. Ogg's, through which he had to pass on his way him lying by the roadside insense only taking enough barely to main-bour attentions on his way it that the engine of the same only taking enough barely to main-tain himself and his family. Who homeward. But what was it that lible, with an open letter near him, small calibrage cut mits quarters a play yard for our two horses were directs for us, and one day we had would neglect such a profitable in- had suggested to him, as he saw and his grey horse snuffing means and sleep the hears washing of well spent. The play yard as fif- a little guest who taugist us some vestment? Certainly not Furley, the Laceham coach entering the ly about him. would neglect such a production in the vestment? Certainly not Furley, for Mr. Tulliver had determined that Furley should meet his plans with the utmost alacrity; and there are men whose brains have not yet had been ment about an hone brains have not yet had been ment and a letter, requiring Maggie to come are men whose brains have not yet had been ment and a letter, requiring Maggie to come fail the discussion of the disc been dangerously heated by the liver's own hand shook too much had become conscious, and all summering heat. loss of a lawsuit, who are apt to see in their own interest or desire write himself, and he wanted the had muttered something about a a motice for other men's actions. letter to be given to the coachman letter," which he presently repeat

Mr. Tulliver was still predomined to the demand that he should MANUE give a bill of sale on his household NIME furniture, and some other effects, as security in lieu of bond. It was all one, he had said to himself: he should soon pay off the money, and there was no harm in giving that security any more than another. But now the consequences of this bill of sale occurred to him in a new light, and he remembered that PAIN (the time was close at hand, when it would be enforced unless the money were repaid. Two months ago he would have declared stoutly that STEWE OF STREET he would never be beholden to his wife's friends; but now he told MAN & BER himself as stoutly that it was nothing but right and natural that Besfrice 25 cts. being sy should go to the Pullets and explain the thing to them: they would hardly let Bessy's furniture be sold, and it might be security to

URIGINAL GENUINE

Minards

THE A

SQUAPE

PATKALE

most liable to shift their position who was bringing a letter to Mr. Chap fine one amon, melt a table and contradict themselves in this Tulliver. Mr. Gore had been prespondful of heaf suct in a frying

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

There was no doubt (in the miller's to deliver at Miss Firniss's school ed impatiently. At the instance of Manitola has no more patriotic turnelle. mind) that Furley would do just in the morning. There was a crav- Mr. Turnbull, the medical man a group of extreme than the women paid off Furley's advances, and ties, and scolded down her burst of the were trying to knit up his compared with W in 1912. The much so, one mother sometimes but if feel that it pays for mys paid off Furley's advances, and ties, and scolded down her burst of thoughts by its help. But present membership for 1915 was 4 1925 as the master as well as for the orbitivem. that might be while Mr. Tulliver grief on hearing that the lawsuit by a new wave of memory seemed compared with 1879 in 1997.

Somes, statutes, hand work and makes me realize what Froebel's was lost, by angry assertions that to have come and swept the other.

During the period of the war the mature study are supportant larges friend meant when he said. This be paid He said nothing to her that night letter to the door, and after leading goes larged to patrostic go anity which raises them into a bond of loving fellowship, as to haggard men among the icebergs the mere presence of an ordinary comrade stirs the deep fountains of affect.

With a debt of two hundred and session of a wife conspicuously one's inferior in intellect, is, like the had below to make Mr. Tulliver's other high privileges, attended with a few inconveniences, and, among the rest, with the occasional than a man might desire towards. Christmas. Well! he had never necessity for using a little deception.

Want, and giving no sign of knowing the man want of the mean of the mean of the man and little means the mean of th the gate to see if the Lacebarn concil report of the work which is actual, sent, eighteen societies maintain or (set on by Wakem, of course), and met a clerk from Mr. Gore's office, as her mother came towards ther mount problem along the mount problem. erving. She didn't think her fa-also forwarded 6.000 benes valued ther was ill, because the letter had at from $2.00 to $5.00 were packed come at his dictation from the of- with esidiers' complets and sent fice at St. Ogg's.

ing look.

"Don't alarm yourself too much. During the spring and summ my dear," he said, taking her months, when the need for saving hand. "Your father has had a fixed was so argent, a very great been asking for you, and it will do substitution of other foods and come upstairs with me."

To be continued.)

Recipes

Dry-Boax Chopder. Boil one capful of dry beans un til tender; drain and turn into a fireproof camerale. Fry out the fat from two slices of bacon (dieed) add to this one can of esen, sait and pepper, and enough eanner tomatoes to form a creamy mix-ture when added to the beans. Mix all well tegether, sprinkle cracker erunds over all and put in oven for twenty-five minutes. Ser

we from the comernie. Soy-Bons Pritters But two cupfuls of cald boiled soy beans through a fine wire new sudden manner: everything is vented by a sudden call of business pan, put in the emiss and fry it a easier to them than to face the sim- from waiting at his office to see light howen. Mix in the beans, ple fact that they have been thor- Mr. Tulliver, according to appoint sait and pegger to taste, turn out oughly defeated, and must begin ment, but would be at his office at into a new and let esse; then add life anew. And Mr. Tulliver, you eleven to morrow morning, and two well-heaten erro, min well. perceive, though nothing more than meanwhile had sent some import-drop from a speed into her far and a superior miller and maltster, was ant information by letter. fry a golden brown. Take up and as proud and obstinate as if he had "Oh!" said Mr. Tulliver, taking drain on hower paper. Serve on Black Bons and Californ. over night and partial for twenty fence.

Mr. Stelling put his hand on Tom's shoulder and said, "God helping hand to a fellow-traveller bless you my boy: let me know is this available world. The really again on horseback in the after-

But Mr. Turnbull came now to A number of secreties forwarded eet her: a medical man is the supplies to the military hospitals. good angel of the troubled house, such as cases of fresh eggs, fruits, and Maggie ran towards the kind regetables cannel finds as well as old friend, whom she remembered hospitals supplies. Financial aid as long as she could remember any. was given Halifian relief, prisoners thing, with a trembling, question of war Social Service League, Chiltimen a Aug sudden attack, and has not quite inneres was taken in the subject recovered his memory. But he has all conservation of fixed, and the him good to see you. Keep as quiet fines fines meded for expect. Furas you can: take off your things, thenher attention was paid also to the catting of regetables. The Agricultural Extension Service esoperated with the secreties in send-"A worm will turn," says a struction in these subjects, while in proverh, "but not if you step on a number of secreties some of their it right;" says a New York paper, members gave demonstrations. As

Radical Cure for Nervo

WOMAN'S WORLD

Training Little Children biggest contribution off the kinder every mother a bond of uniter-standing and sympathy with Proc-bel and has sheak as they have been worked out in the kindergar-been worked out in the kindergar-

the gathered a large pailful of We also played other games searled summer seeds, which we satisfile for a large number of Sook one captul of black beans plant every spring around the play children industry, and learned well supplies daugh for all sorte ness for guessing pantoniness. A of delectable inderry products, and when dry alords opportunities for BOOKSONICS SOCIETIES with any above apportunities for others to help him work it out for manufacture bending bridges and mysterious the rest to guess. (Our pantonime what was desirable; and if he did ing which he would not account for Gore's letter was brought and had who belong to its Home Economies tea parties in the "hungary models." Mather Goose, Wessip's Pailles and family must live more meagrely and humbly, but it would only be To Mrs. Tulffver, when he got with his eyes fixed on the letter, as munifer of societies to be III. as center of the neighborhood—too a considerable amount of energy.

before him. It was clear that the there was nothing to grieve about, away; he turned his eyes from the Societies have devasted their ener. of kindengarden activity which a like a fresh hath for the to eat something on the way, dear.

Maggie's heart went out towards this woman whom she had never liked, and she kissed her silently.

Without his being obliged to turn about the bill of sale, and the application to Mrs. Pullet, for he had kept her in ignorance of the nature said, "The little wench."

Without his being obliged to turn about the bill of sale, and the application to Mrs. Pullet, for he had kept her in ignorance of the nature said, "The little wench."

garten. The child needs to play ang to Play and Work Wife | Wife officer children "Here," says Others, the Child's First Lesson are wowen of flowers." And there is Social Transing—This Is the cin lies the unique value of the Bapped Contribution of the little play yard. Children learn Embergaries Ways of Proc-there to give and trike, it adjust along for I: Even Small Parelless themselves to emin other and on (By Mrs. Dora Ladd Keyes.) operate. They also develop the initiative that unites for leader school directly collidless (Children who

The play yard is the place for material was drawn hregely from

MERCHANTS!

DO YOU NEED

Counter Check Books?

We have all sizes and all systems. for prices and samples before ordering elsewhere

The life Printing Department