

CANADIAN GRAVES IN SOUTH AFRICA.

The Resting Places of Our Brave Soldiers.

Her Excellency the Countess of Minto and the Work of the Canadian South African Memorial Association.

(Montreal Star.)

In view of Lady Minto's approaching departure from Canada her excellency has been graciously pleased to give generously to the funds of the association...

The following details may, therefore, be acceptable to those who are interested in the attempt to mark in a suitable manner the last resting place of those brave Canadians who gave their lives for the Empire during the South African war.

The number of Canadians who fell during the war was 246. Of this number 11 were buried at sea or drowned, and their bodies not recovered, and five are buried in England. Whilst it was found that relatives or comrades in Canada had already provided lasting memorials in 12 cases, 25 graves still remain unidentified, but it is expected that these will be located shortly, and as soon as this is done memorials will be sent from Canada to mark the same.

After deducting these numbers there remained 133 graves to be marked, and memorials were accordingly despatched to South Africa for this purpose, and last instalment reaching that country in April, 1904. A telegram has now been received from South Africa stating that all memorials for the above graves will be in position over the graves for which they are intended by November 15, 1904.

The work of erecting these memorials has been enormous owing to the vast extent of country over which the graves are scattered, and to the incomplete nature of the communications. Lady Minto and her committee have, however, received the greatest possible assistance in this arduous task from Colonel H. S. Greenwood, lately of the 3rd of the Prince of Wales' Canadian Dragoons, and now employed in connection with the South African railways.

To him, to the South African Railways Co., who have generously transported the stones free of charge over their systems, and to those ladies and gentlemen, mostly Canadians, who have voluntarily given their most able services in helping to bring to a successful issue this difficult undertaking.

The accounts of the fund stand at present as follows: The amount of subscriptions collected plus the interest on the same up to date, is about $1,000. The balance on hand after paying all claims is about $1,850. Further expenditure will be incurred in fencing in the graves on the open veldt, and the erection of a central Canadian memorial bearing the names of all Canadians who fell during the war, which it is proposed to erect later on in Pretoria.

The following is a complete list of those over whose graves memorials have now been erected by Lady Minto's Association:

MARINE MONSTERS.

New Giant Steamships for the Hamburg-American Line.

With the advent of each new steamer into the great fleet of Atlantic liners, it seems that the limit of size and luxuriousness has been reached, but the new monster twin-screw steamers of the America and Kaiserin Augusta Victoria of the Hamburg-American line will be equipped with several new features, designed especially to add to the comforts already found on the modern passenger steamer. The grill room introduced by the Hamburg-American line on the steamer Moltke and Blicher has earned a well-deserved popularity. The experienced traveller, in booking his passage, now asks, "Is there a grill room on board?"

Great Agricultural College to be Built at Ste. Anne's.

Prof. Robertson Resigns Dominion Commission of Agriculture to Establish School for Higher Agricultural Education.

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—A great agricultural college is to be established on the island of Montreal. Sir William Macdonald has undertaken to provide the money for the institution, and Professor Robertson has resigned the commission of agriculture to establish the college and organize the staff.

The project has been under consideration for some time, and its scope is not fully defined. A couple of years ago Sir Wm. Macdonald placed a large sum of money at the disposal of Professor Robertson for the introduction of model training in rural schools.

It is not, however, known how much Sir William's endowment will amount to, but the Retford farm contains about 300 acres, and the other property containing 400 acres, in the finest part of Montreal Island, have been purchased and great buildings will have to be erected on them.

along technical and agricultural lines the college will have a department of original research, something that does not exist in a Canadian agricultural institution at present.

Professor Robertson's place as commissioner of agriculture will not be filled. The heads of the dairy, the fruit, the live stock, the seed, and the branch, who formerly reported to Professor Robertson, will hereafter report to the deputy minister of agriculture direct.

Prof. Robertson is a native of Ayrshire, Scotland. After serving in a commercial house in Glasgow, he came to Canada in 1875, and embarked almost immediately in the business of cheese making.

The site is regarded as ideal for such an institution. It is on the main line of two great railway lines, the C. P. R. and G. T. R., so that travellers will have a view of it and students will have access by a score of trains.

The minister of agriculture has participated with Professor Robertson with the greatest reluctance. However, Sir William Macdonald was not willing that anyone else should undertake the organization work, and rather than have Sir William's great benefice lost to the country, Hon. Mr. Fisher consented to receive the resignation.

The minister of agriculture, who is now somewhere in the maritime provinces, will devote his attention to the work of organization. It is understood that in addition to the work of teaching

Miss Whittaker, a prominent club woman of Savannah, Ga., tells how she was entirely cured of ovarian troubles by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a Uterine Tonic and Regulator. I suffered for four years with irregularities and Uterine troubles. No one but those who have experienced this dreadful agony can form any idea of the physical and mental misery those endure who are thus afflicted.

Have never had the slightest cause to fear any return of disease.—Ella Muriel Wood.

TWELVE LIVES WERE LOST.

In a Tenement House Fire in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—At least twelve lives were lost in a fire in a Brooklyn tenement, housing street west of the firemen are searching for other bodies. It is believed that the death list will reach fifteen.

Twelve persons were injured, none, it is believed, fatally. Shortly after two o'clock this morning flames were found in the cellar of No. 186 Troutman street, a three-story frame tenement house, and by the time the firemen arrived, the flames were well advanced.

Despite the efforts of the firemen the flames spread to the adjoining tenements, Nos. 182, 184, 188 and 190. The occupants of these houses were early notified of their danger, and it is believed that all escaped.

The firemen found the dead bodies of ten persons shortly after their arrival at the scene. Further search resulted in the finding of the bodies of a man and woman in a bedroom on the top floor of No. 186. They were burned severely, but death, as in the cases of the other victims, had been due to suffocation.

The first floor of the building where the fire originated, was occupied by Antonio Giambalao as a grocery store, his living apartments being in the rear. The flames were first found, according to those who turned in the alarm, in the cellar immediately under this store and they communicated with lightning rapidity to the upper floors of the house. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Among the dead are members of the families of Marano Triolo, Carlo Barolo and Joseph Paliwanara. The occupants of the houses above the fire, the money loss is incalculable.

HURT BY AN AUTOMOBILE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Pinned in a blanket and lying by the roadside, suffering from a possible fracture of the skull, Jacob Clemons, 58 years old, a farmer of Sawhill Lane, West Chester, was found today near Williams Bridge. A short distance away were his horse and wagon, the horse hitched to a tree and the wagon partly wrecked. Near where Clemons was found were marks in the road which indicate that a collision between a wagon and automobile may have occurred there.

After examining the place the police assert that Clemons was thrown from his wagon by a collision with a large automobile and that after the persons in the automobile had found the man seriously injured they pinned the blanket about him and left him by the side of the road. On this theory detectives are endeavoring to learn the identity of the occupants of the automobile. Clemons will probably die.

Clemons regained consciousness for a few moments tonight and in a statement to the coroner said that his wagon was run into by a yellow automobile, in which were four men and a woman. He was thrown out into the road, and was not immediately unconscious, though helpless. The occupants of the automobile started on without paying heed to him, but stopped when about fifty yards away. All five returned to where he lay and the woman held his head in her lap and wiped his eyes and his forehead with her handkerchief. Clemons said as they were preparing to go he asked them not to leave him. They said they could not do that, but would send a physician. Clemons then became unconscious.

NEWTON, Mass., Nov. 20.—Two eleven-year-old boys, Abraham Ferimutter and Abraham Fried, were drowned in Silver Lake today. The boys were playing about the lake during the afternoon and just about dark they began to slide upon the ice, which was too thin to bear their weight.

Both boys broke through and were drowned. Their bodies were recovered half an hour after the accident.
