

NOT ENOUGH ACCOMMODATION FOR TOURISTS

Should have first-class hotels at beaches and along river, for summer visitors.

"So far as can be judged by present indications the outlook for a large tourist traffic this summer is bright," said Mrs. Barnes, secretary of the New Brunswick Tourist Association, yesterday. "Although the weather has not been such as to make people think of the summer holidays the number of enquiries for information about accommodations, etc., has been large."

"One thing that operates against the development of a large tourist traffic here is the lack of suitable hotels at the beaches and on the river. Most of those who write for information ask if they can be accommodated at first class hotels, and there are no really up-to-date hotels at the beaches or at suitable points on the river."

"Every year the advantages of this section of the country as a tourist resort are becoming better known, but proper provision is not being made to handle tourists. Last year quite a number of people from the States were given accommodation for a short time at the cottages at Duck Cove, but when our city people went down there the strangers had to move, and as they could find no satisfactory accommodation some went to Digby and others to Prince Edward Island."

"It will take a long time for the small hotels to make enough money to put up the kind of a hotel tourists coming here expect. A company should be formed to put up an modern hotel at Duck Cove and at places on the river."

BRITISHERS TAKING MORE INTEREST IN EASTERN CANADA

Quebec, May 19.—Hon. Dr. P. P. Pelletier, representative of the province of Quebec in London, says that the British people are really taking a great deal of interest in the welfare of the province of Quebec and in its possibilities, from many points of view. They are just beginning to realize that the west does not constitute the whole Dominion and that we can do things just as well in the province of Quebec as they can in any other part of the country.

The doctor went on to state that when he had first opened his office on Kingsway, London, some three years ago, people had looked at the exhibits of fruit and grain in his windows and on entering the office had at once asked him, "but you surely cannot grow those in the province of Quebec?"

"The inclemency of the climate was at once put forward by the Englishmen as an objection. Today the British people have learned that crops can be raised in Quebec in about half the time it takes in the Old Country and that though the winter may be severe the balance of the year makes up for lost time as far as quick production is concerned.

The London office of the provincial government received numerous enquiries for information about the province of Quebec.

THROUGH CHILDREN FROM WINDOWS TO SAVE THEM

Retreat from Burning Building Cut Off, Parents Fling Infants Into Arms of Policemen on Street.

Montreal, May 19.—The timely arrival of special constable Maurice Galtain and District Chief Marin before six blazing cottages on St. Lawrence street enabled them by catching the children flung from the upper windows by frantic parents to save six infants. The blaze broke out while the inmates of the houses were asleep and spread so rapidly that they were cut off. Rachel Grobman, fourteen, jumped in her terror and fell on the sidewalk and received severe injuries to her hip. Julius Grobman, father of the girl, was badly cut on the hand by breaking a window to throw his children to the police. He ultimately jumped after his children were saved.

WELSH CHURCH BILL PASSED

Bill to Disestablish Church in Wales Passes Commons—Will Become Law Despite What Lords May Do.

London, May 19.—The first bill to become law under the operation of the Parliament Act is the Welsh disestablishment bill, which passed its third reading in the House of Commons tonight by a vote of 328 to 251.

Renewed interest has been taken in the question of disestablishment during recent months because of its immense importance to the church and churchmen. Under the parliament act the bill automatically becomes law after its third passage by the House of Commons, no matter what action the House of Lords may take.

Among other things the bill provides that so far as Wales and Monmouth are concerned, the Church of England will cease to be established by law; all cathedrals and ecclesiastical corporations will be dissolved; the bishops of the four Welsh dioceses will cease to be members of the House of Lords; the present ecclesiastical law will cease to exist; and all ecclesiastical courts will have no coercive jurisdiction; the bishops and clergy will not be members of or be represented in the House of Convocation of the province of Canterbury.

As to mineral possibilities in the province and in what there are a number of British concerns who may at any moment interest themselves in asbestos, copper and graphite mining.

BRITISH FLAG THEIR ONLY PROTECTION

Maine Man Back From Mexico Tells of Atrocities Perpetrated by Mexicans in Hatred of Americans.

Special to The Standard. Dexter, Me., May 19.—The only protection Americans have in Mexico at present is the British flag, according to the statement made by Ivan Skillings, who has just returned to his home here after three years spent as an electrician at a mine at El Oro, 100 miles from Mexico City, Skillings says he and the other employees escaped by pinning British flags on their clothing and claiming to be British subjects when the Mexicans boarding the train taking them to Mexico City in search of Americans, whom they proposed to take out and shoot.

Just before the Americans landed at Vera Cruz the mining colony at El Oro armed itself and decided to stay in the country and stand off the Mexicans until the American troops arrived. Upon learning no forward movement was being undertaken from Vera Cruz they surrendered their arms and claimed British citizenship.

Blood was like Water Was given up to die of Anaemia by two doctors

A Letter of Unusual Interest Describes this Remarkable Cure

You will learn by reading this letter-how medical doctors knock proprietary medicines and try to keep people from using them and learning of their value.

This letter also shows how medicines of proven merit often cure the most complicated cases after doctors had given up hope. In this case two doctors said Mr. Hyndman could not get better, and, in fact, he daily grew weaker so long as he followed their treatment. This is a remarkable victory for Dr. Chase's Medicines and you will find the details of the case interesting.

Mr. T. Hyndman, Farmer, Rupert, Que., writes:—"I had been gradually failing in health for two years and tried many remedies, among others I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and found them doing me good. Some neighbors told me the Doctors said they were dangerous so I quit their use and went to the doctor. Under his treatment I got so weak I was unable to raise my head from the pillow, and he told me that I had Anaemia of the blood and could never be better again, so I sent for another doctor and he told me the same. I could not take their medicine and was continually vomiting, so I gave them up and said 'kill or cure I will again try Dr. Chase's medicines.'

I used altogether fourteen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and six boxes Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and now I can work from six o'clock in the morning until seven at night and I don't poke at it either. Any man that works a farm knows what kind of a job it is. I honestly believe that I owe my life to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Pills, and I praise them everywhere I go. Many of the people here use them to keep the system in good condition and prevent disease."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has no rival as a means of enriching the blood and building up the system. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers or Edmonson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Write for booklet.

LECTURES ON LIFE OF JACK LONDON

HON. MR. PUGSLEY AT OTTAWA. Special to The Standard. Ottawa, May 19.—Hon. Wm. Pugsley arrived in town this evening but did not go to the parliament buildings. He is not in the best of health.

In the Assembly rooms of New York Theatre last evening Wilfred Gribble, lecturer and novelist, gave a very interesting and descriptive lecture on the life of Jack London, the popular and noted writer. The speaker is intimately acquainted with Jack London has travelled with him on different occasions, and the story of the author's life as told by Mr. Gribble, proved very interesting. The early life of the writer was just dealt with, and then his adventurous career traced until the time that his writings won him fame. London was a poor boy, and experienced much difficulty in acquiring an education and adapting himself to his natural taste for literature. As a boy he sold newspapers on the street and earned money to educate himself.

Born in the year 1876, he early left the home of his parents and for some time engaged in the oyster traffic at San Francisco Bay, where he was known as the Prince of the Oyster Pirates. He later went to sea. He earned money in laboring work. He tramped the country for some time and then returned to Oakland and commenced to write. He earned money by doing odd jobs and at the same time wrote, but the greater number of his manuscripts were refused. Finally, after an adventurous career he succeeded in getting some of his time wrote, but the greater number of his manuscripts were refused. Finally, after an adventurous career he succeeded in getting some of his time wrote, but the greater number of his manuscripts were refused.
