Sussex, N. B., Oct. 26.—(Special)—The Sussex fire department was called out at 2 o'clock this morning to a fire in the home of Dr. Ellison, who resides over the drug store of G. M. Fairweather. The fire was quickly on the scene and found plenty of smoke but it took some time to locate the fire, which was smoldering between the floors. Finally the fire was extinguished with little damage. The subject's corpse took care of the contents of the home and removed it in safety to the street.

TURKISH ARMY OF 250,000 IN FULL RETREAT

TO ASK LEGISLATURE FOR PROTECTION ACT

Need of Prison Farm, Care of Feeble Minded, and Welfare of Neglected Children Discussed at Annual Meeting of Associated Charities—Trained Health Officers Needed.

The need of a prison farm, the protection of children and the care of the feeble minded were the themes of the speakers at the thirteenth annual meeting of the Associated Charities of St. John last evening in the rooms of the board of trade. These subjects were treated in a very thorough manner, and it was decided to ask legislation in this direction.

The meeting was perhaps the most successful in the history of the association and the attendance was certainly a great encouragement to those who have been interested in the great work of charity. The meeting was a very representative one and the speakers made reference to the large number present. W. Shives Fisher, president of the Associated Charities, occupied the chair and in his opening remarks referred to the work of the association and the need of co-operation for the successful carrying on of the work.

The chief speaker was Rev. R. A. Armstrong, rector of Trinity, who talked for half an hour on the subject of the children's protection act and introduced a motion to the effect that the association urge on the local legislature the need of a child protection act. Miles E. Agar, city commissioner of public works, told of the needs of a prison farm and the great good that could be accomplished by its establishment.

Dr. Thomas Walker spoke on the need of proper training for feeble minded children. In this connection he first referred to the social service in connection with some of the hospitals in the United States, where a society was formed to look after the families of men, who were ill. This society also visited the sick man and when he was able to leave the hospital and perhaps still too weak to work, it provided for his spending some time in the country until he was able to work.

Dr. Armstrong spoke in beginning his address that he was pleased to see so many present and he would be glad at any time to give the association rooms for their meetings at Trinity school. However, he said that there was nothing more important than the protection and proper training of the child. He referred to the child welfare exhibition in Montreal last year, where the different phases of child development were shown in pantomime, by lecture or thrown on the screen. This exhibit is also to be shown in St. John and other Canadian cities and he hoped it would come to St. John. He spoke of the large sums of money being spent in different countries for the support of pauper children and pointed out that by means of proper training and protection these children would become useful and self-supporting citizens.

He drew on the report of the Children's Protection Society of Winnipeg for facts in connection with the working of the act, which showed the good that could be accomplished. Winnipeg, he said, had a juvenile court and children's aids has done more for the helping of the children, than any other city on the continent. "We have playgrounds here in St. John," said Mr. Armstrong, "but we want each child to have a chance to grow up to be a useful citizen. We give advice in St. John just the same as we do in Winnipeg but we want the authority to back up this advice."

Mr. Armstrong spoke of a case in an alley off Brussels street where a woman with six children was living but she would not go to the almshouse and the children were not getting a proper chance. He read several sections from the bill recently submitted to members of the local legislature. This bill was along the same lines as the Ontario law and was presented to local members at the last meeting of the house but for some reason it was not passed. In concluding his address, Mr. Armstrong moved that the members of the Associated Charities urge on the members of the local legislature that they take the child protection act under consideration and pass it.

BULGARIAN CARRY OFF TO END THE WAR

Sultan's Advisers Now Said to Be Considering the Question of Suing for Peace—Ottoman Commander Reported Shot or Captured—Constantinople Now Believed to Be at the Mercy of the Victorious Allies—Four Days' Battle Marked by Terrific Fighting and Heavy Losses.

TURKISH COMMANDER SHOT OR CAPTURED

London, Nov. 1.—Nazim Pasha, the Turkish minister of war and commander-in-chief in Thrace, has been either shot or taken prisoner, according to a despatch from Sofia to the Post.

London, Oct. 31.—A four-days battle in Thrace has ended in the triumph of the Bulgarian commander-in-chief, General Savoff, whose skilful strategy has probably brought to a close one of the shortest and most remarkable wars on record.

A great Turkish army, estimated at over 200,000 men, has been defeated, and is in retreat. Constantinople is believed to be at the mercy of the victorious Bulgarians, and a council, sitting at the Porte, is discussing the advisability of suing for peace.

Such is the news which comes from the Balkans. The Bulgarian army, which has been victorious in the great battle here, has not yet been received, and the world has had to depend on the reports of the Turkish army. Today that army is defeated, routed, and retreating.

Only the briefest and vaguest accounts of the battle have yet been received, but the world has had to depend on the reports of the Turkish army. Today that army is defeated, routed, and retreating.

Apparently Nazim Pasha has been completely out-manoeuvred by Savoff's skilful strategy and having a certificate from movement along the Black Sea coast now appears to have been a feat which induced the Turkish commander to throw his main army to the eastward to such effect that the Bulgarian force on this side had the greatest difficulty in holding the Turks in check.

In fact, this point seems a little in doubt. The Bulgarians gave way and thus enabled Nazim Pasha to report to Constantinople some success in that direction. In the meantime, however, General Savoff hurled his great strength against the Turks' weakened left wing, which he crushed at Lule Burgas. The fighting along the whole front, which evidently has been the most stubborn and determined character, was carried on day and night without intermission, and both sides lost heavily.

The capture of Nazim Pasha's headquarters at Tchirli, to which town the defeated Turks retreated, has not as yet been reported, but is hourly expected at Sofia. In which case the Turks will be forced within the defensive lines of Thracian Thrace, the only remaining fortified position protecting Constantinople. It lies twenty-five miles to the northwest of the capital.

Dividing the Spoils. Adrianople still holds out, but is the least important now that the Turks have lost their Sedan at Lule Burgas. It is believed that the Bulgarians are now in possession of the city.

5,000 C. P. R. MEN THREATEN TO STRIKE MONDAY

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—Unless their demands are met or a board of conciliation is appointed in the meantime, the 5,000 members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees of the Canadian Pacific will go on strike Monday next. This announcement has been made by President Mosher, of the brotherhood. A deputation of members of the Ottawa Board of Trade went on the 30th to Ottawa, where they were met by the Hon. T. W. Crothers this morning with an urgent request that some steps be taken by his department to bring the parties together in view of the serious results which would ensue on a strike of the brotherhood throughout the dominion.

The minister had already declined the request of the railway employees for a board of conciliation. Other boards of trade will be asked to use their influence to prevent a walkout.

BORDEN AND COLLEAGUES TO HELP CODERRE

Montreal, Oct. 31.—Political developments today comprised the announcement that Hon. Louis Coderre would have his organization completed and ready tomorrow for a vigorous campaign in all parts of the province, that several ministerial meetings would be called in an early date, in Westmount, St. Henri and Point St. Charles, to be addressed by Mr. Coderre, the new secretary of state, and other ministers; that Mayor Rutherford, of Westmount, had absolutely declined to enter the fight as a candidate, and that Henri Bourassa had declared to a friend that if no other candidate could be found he would enter the contest himself and on his own terms.

The Bourassa boom developed strength during the day, and there were many who expressed interest in the question of a Nationalist candidature, for it would be spectacular if nothing else. It is understood that Mr. Bourassa decides to enter the fight he will open no committee rooms, making it an oratorical campaign only, and leave the issue to the electors to decide.

The premier and two of his colleagues in the cabinet will address public meetings in the city and in Westmount on Wednesday next, nomination day for the Hochberg division.

Premier Borden will speak in the town hall of St. Henry and the Hon. Charles Doherty, minister of justice, will speak in the Engineers hall, Point St. Charles. On the same evening the Hon. W. B. White, minister of finance, will address a meeting to be held in Victoria Hall, Westmount.

WILSON GIVEN BIG RECEPTION IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 31.—It was Wilson night in New York tonight, the Democratic nominee for the presidency addressing a big rally in the Bronx and a tremendous outpouring of voters in Madison Square Garden.

Governor Wilson early took occasion to reply to the talk of the opposition that the prosperity of the country would be affected by his election. The governor pointed to the betting odds in Wall street, largely in favor of Democratic success. This was what he called his "Answer in a nutshell," showing, he declared, that there is not the slightest prospect of any check in the country's prosperity. The only way the prosperity of the country could be injured was by the deliberate efforts of Wall street, he said.

STRONG EVIDENCE AGAINST LAWRENCE LABOR LEADERS

Bullet That Killed Girl of Foreign Make—Inflammatory Literature of I. W. W. Read in Court.

Salem, Mass., Oct. 31.—That the bullet which ended the life of Anna Lopozio during the Lawrence textile strike riot was of foreign make and could not have been fired from a revolver of American manufacture; that Joseph Caruso confessed to a detective, whom he thought a friend, that he snatched policemen during the same riot; and that officials of the Industrial Workers of the World "advised violence and disregard of law" in industrial disputes, were featured in the closing testimony offered by the commonwealth today in the trial of Ettore Giovannitti and Caruso for the Lopozio murder.

Though the commonwealth did not rest its case, District-Attorney Atwill declared that he had no more witnesses and court adjourned for the day, while the prosecutor was reading to the jury a pamphlet alleged to have been written by Vincent St. John of Chicago, general secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World.

This pamphlet, found at the Lawrence strike headquarters, was admitted in evidence by Judge Quinn, despite objection by the defense. It outlined the history of the Industrial Workers of the World, its aims and methods. Its presentation to the jury will be completed tomorrow when the commonwealth will close.

In the pamphlet, the commonwealth maintains its advice to workers to disregard the law. In the preamble to the constitution of the organization read to the jury it was set forth that "the basic principle makes the Industrial Workers of the World a fighting organization."

It was also declared that the only way gain the organization would make with the "employers class" was "complete surrender of the organized industry to the work-
