THE BOAT RACE.

THE SCENE OF THE CONTEST.

THE CHAMPIONS AND THEIR HISTORY—DIBBY AND HIS ATTRIBUTES—BYRON DE WOLFE AND THE TWO-LEGGED DOG—CALL ABOUT THE RACE.

[FROM OUR OWN REPORTER.]

DIBBY, Tuesday Evening.
This small town, which faces St. John and is only forty miles distant, is to-night witnessing a lively scene that has never before in its history. Unusually quiet and contemplative, it has this evening the appearance of a busy town, though its present occupants are not quite as industrious a class as those busy creatures. Rising from the water and built on the side of a hill, with the lights of the small fleet of vessels, which have anchored in port to-day, glittering on the smooth waters of Digby Bay, and all the shops lit up, though it is now o'clock at night, and the crowds of visitors and sporting men around making a busy hum, while through the night air the voice of Doctor Williams calls the attention of the afflicted to the medicinal qualities of the Lightning Oil, and the monotonous tinkling of a cow bell adds further variety to the babel of noises, and now and then a hoarse voice yells out "I'll go a hundred on Bob Fulton!"—these all go to make an interesting compound of exciting elements. As to the composition of the crowd, it is on the general, sociable, peaceable side. To the two hundred or so of Johnnie people here on Monday night, another couple of hundred were added this morning by the "Empress," which had a sail over the bay as smooth as glass this morning. The "Empress" steamed up to Annapolis and came down at noon with a large crowd on board from Halifax and along the line of railway. At twelve to night the "Empress" will arrive from Annapolis with another heavy cargo of sight-seers, and with the crowd by the "Scud" in the morning there will be several thousand from Halifax and St. John. In addition to these, seaborne loads are coming all the time, and the country around will largely swell the sum total of spectators.

THE BLUE RIBBONS of the Brown men far outnumber the Saint John pink of Fulton's admirers since the arrival of the first load from Halifax at noon. The Aspirants that rushed down like a wolf on the fold, never besieged the aforesaid fold with more pertinacity than did the "bloods" of Halifax and St. John the residence of the peaceful and obliging Digbyites. Hotel accommodations were exhausted a week ago, and front doors, back doors and windows were besieged tumultuously; and in justice to the inhabitants I must say they justly responded to the call on their hospitality; and in justice to the raiders it should be added that they offered to pay well. The only incident of the after-discovery of the enemy, was a story related with great gusto by three young men of Halifax to your Reporter at the tea-table, that they had "cabaged" three meals at Kenville, and didn't pay for them. "Why," said one trim cut, whiskered and curly haired young gent, "I took a fork and a pie when I heard the whistle of the train, and started off; but on second thoughts I pitched back the fork and kept the pie." That chivalrous young man didn't belong to the Chebucto Greys, and offered to put up five dollars on the Halifax Amateurs.

FULTON has been visible all day to his friends and looks cheerful, while Brown only showed up once, and that was on the arrival of the "Empress" from Annapolis with the Halifax crowd aboard. He was dressed in a suit of black, and had his hair carefully brushed and oiled, and looked like a parson. Fulton sported his old tweed suit, and knickerbockered with a thoughtful look on his face.

Doctor Walker, A. Chip Smith, Charley Potter, Doctor Smith, of Digby, and other backers of Fulton attended to day to the preliminaries, firing the stake boats and other details.—Messrs. Pryor, Barton and others looked after Brown's interests. The crowd loitered on the grass on the banks of the bay all day, and watched the course, while an immense number of people were gathered up town was well patronized, and strawberries, ice creams and pink ribbons found a ready sale at the hands of several eminently smart young ladies. George Gordon Byron De Wolfe, attended by a thin, spectacled yankoo from the state of Maine, received the names of prominent individuals in the crowd, and composed ridiculous verses about them. Doctor Williams drew a crowd around his Lightning Oil sale, but he was chaffed a good deal by the boys.

A TWO-LEGGED DOG from the East Indies was on exhibition; and to add to the variety, all the ladies of friends received an answer from Brown's Committee that they would prefer to row at Bedford Basin, near Halifax, or on Kennebecasis River, St. John. Alter a good many different propositions it was finally decided that the race be rowed on neutral waters, at Digby, July 3rd, a four mile straightaway race, for $1,000 a side; and the articles were duly signed by A. Chip Smith, Esq., on behalf of Fulton, and James Pryor, Esq., of Halifax, on behalf of Brown. The Hon. Thos. H. Jones, of St. John, was chosen stakeholder. A short time before the date fixed for the race, Brown's Committee received a telegram from St. John, that Fulton's new boat had been broken on its way from New York, and asking 150 men during the summer season. Dodge is part owner in eight other mills, situated on the North Shore and Owen Sound. I am told he is the owner of 700 square miles of timber lands. The lumber manufactured here is of the best quality. This one mill, besides cutting its usual quota of long lumber, will cut some five millions of laths, besides 14 millions of shingles.

THE NEW TIME, which is all pine, is sent by rail to Toronto and re-shipped to Quebec, thence to England; it is of the best quality and very large. I measured several pieces, 3 feet 3 inches butt and two of the sticks covered 3 of those Northern Railway flat cars. It is all hoisted by a Locomotive running on a side track built on the wharf. Two immense posts, with a cross beam to brace them together, are what is the wharf; these beams the sawyer is attached, and at a given word two of those large sticks are launched up (broadside to) at a time. The loading of the cars is very expeditious and well worth watching.

HANDLING OF GRAIN at the elevator, is one of those well ordered managements one does not see every day in the East. 4,000 bushels an hour can be handled up one spout alone, if the men work steady and lively. At present grain shipments are not numerous. This town boasts of some VERY FINE STORES, those of Lindsay, Long & Co., are among the best in any business is done here in the dry goods and grocery line. There is the best of order kept here and no liquor is sold on Sundays.

THE BOATERS are very good. The "Globe" takes the lead; New Brunswick men generally make it their home. A good number of the latter can be found here at all times.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC SURVEY ENGINEERS have been sending men up to Nipigon; 110 have been sent along to that point since I came here. There were probably twelve New Brunswickers among them. Large quantities of substantial provisions accompany them as well as a few mackinaw boats from Ottawa. In passing through the freight house, I noticed quite a number of good mowers and other agricultural implements going to Fort Garry, for Dr. Shultz, M. P. The weather has been very hot here the past few days, but at present it has cooled off as we were blessed by a few fine showers of rain, which is much needed, as vegetables were suffering very much. There is quite a FLEET OF LAKE STEAMERS here from time to time—about fifteen in all, counting tug boats. The "Onions" is the favorite among them. She was a blooming beauty when she was in the antens across the line. The steamer agents are a tough lot as far as grating N. B. Press representatives a show to travel our route goes. But I may be able to work the wires for a cruise northward.

THE POLITICIANS are griding on their armor preparing for a tough fight. The Reformers are likely to carry the day in this County. They have stronger Press representation than the Government. The Bulletin is the strongest paper here and probably the best edited, and has the largest circulation in the County. Its editor, Mr. Robson, is a smart, pushing gentleman, and an hour spent with him is not lost.

Yours, BURNBORE.

THE FIRE belonging to Lewis Rivers Esq., opposite Indian town, was in considerable danger of catching fire yesterday. The waste paper, edgings &c., are taken from the mill and thrown along the bank of the River where they are burnt; these becoming dry the fire ran through them with great speed and came in close contact with the mill which had to be shut down and all hands ordered to fight the fire. It was finally checked by cutting a trench through the heap of edgings.

PHOTOGRAPHY in Portland has its own photograph establishment now, and is not dependent on the City. It is located on Portland Bridge, adjoining Moore's Mill Factory, and is run by Messrs.
