

hypocrites," etc., and when the coach stopped left his seat. In descending, the pocket of his coat opened, and Mr. Blackwood dropped in the little book entitled "Eternal Life." When the gentleman reached home and emptied his pockets he found, amongst other things, a small book that he knew nothing of, and, reading its title, he at once guessed who had put it there and in his rage he tore it to pieces and threw it inside the fender. When he returned from town the next day his ire was increased by finding the pieces on his toilet table. He immediately rung the bell and asked the servant why they had not been destroyed; and when she replied that in gathering them up she had seen the word "eternity," and did not like to burn them, she in anger was ordered from his presence. When the servant had gone he began to look for the word that had so arrested her attention, and then he sought to connect sentences by strips of paper that one buys around stamps, and managed in this way to fasten the book together, and became converted by reading it.

One day when Mr. Blackwood was walking in Cheapside he was startled by the exclamation, "You are the man!" and a ragged book was held up to his astonished gaze. He disclaimed all knowledge of that particular book, and was then informed of the circumstances related above, and of the spiritual change in the heart of the gentleman that had taken place by means of it.—British Evangelist.

How Not to Help Your Minister.

Stay at home whenever it rains on Sunday, or it is too hot or too cold.

Never let your minister know if he has ever done you any good.

Take a class in the Sunday-school; never be punctual, and frequently be absent.

Attend no church gatherings if you have the opportunity of going anywhere else.

If times are hard, at once diminish or withdraw your subscriptions, for fear lest, when you have paid for your jewelry, etc., you may have nothing left for your holiday.

Always grumble at the sermon, and fear that you cannot stand the draughts much longer.—SEL.

Wealth of the Jews.

The Jews may not yet own Palestine, but they seem in a fair way to possess the rest of the earth. The Rothschilds furnished in loans during ten years, $205,000,000 to England, $50,000,000 to Austria, $40,000,000 to Prussia, $130,000,000 to France, $50,000,000 to Russia, $12,000,000 to Brazil, besides many millions to smaller states. About one-fourth of the railway system of Russia is owned by a Jew known as the Russian railway king. There are official statements which show that a large portion of the land in the States of Eastern and Central Europe has passed into Jewish hands.

Unqualified activity, of whatever kind, leads at last to bankruptcy.
