is packed by automatic machinery in strong white cotton bags and cartons at the refinery.

This is far safer and more sanitary than sugar packed by hand in a weak paper bag which breaks at a touch. No hand touches LANTIC SUGAR until you open it yourself. Just cut off the corner of the carton and pour out the sugar as you need it.

NOTES OF THE 215th Major Soldier is in Toronto on regimental business to-day. Major Duncan is in Hamilton, where Captain Ferguson goes this afternoon.

Lieut. J. A. D. Slemin returned yesterday from Toronto where he has been for some weeks, qualifying his captaincy.

The parade state of the battalion band stood at 18 this morning, when a practice was held.

NOTES OF THE 125th. Officers of the day, Capt. Bingle; next for duty, Capt. Jordan. Subaltern of the day, Lt. Stratford; next for duty, Lt. Smith.

In future the guard will parade with great coats rolled.

THE GERMAN-AMERICAN PRESS COMMENTS ON LATEST NOTE

By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, May 9.—The German-American press is inclined to view the reply of President Wilson as a firm and final demand in the submarine controversy.

The Staats-Zeitung says: "In his reply to the German submarine note, President Wilson accepts the assurance of the German Government that instructions have been given on the strength of which the right of visit and search, as guaranteed by international law, will be respected in the future, and will be applied to all merchantmen."

"At the same time the President replies—for that is the sense of his words—that he refuses to let Germany suggest to him what steps he should take with regard to Great Britain."

"This note could, of course, be interpreted as meaning that the President is only bent upon forcing Germany to abandon her submarine warfare against England in order to save England's commerce, and that he does not intend even to urge England to observe the humanity and principle of international law."

"This note could also be interpreted as if President Wilson wishes to irritate Berlin. However, we, of course, do not interpret it thus. We merely wait watchfully what steps the President will voluntarily take against Great Britain, now that he has obtained all he asked from Germany, and that he has made it clear that what he proposes to do against England will not be done to please the Berlin Government."

Under the caption "Equity," The New Yorker Herold says: "We believe that every fair-minded American will admit that it is now President Wilson's duty to hold to strict accountability the other nations which are now committing violations of international law—violations which affect the United States."

"It within a due period of time the President refrains from fulfilling this duty he must be accused of prejudice against Germany."

"In that case Germany would probably resume the use of her submarine weapon, and probably with less consideration and restrictions than ever before."

The Cincinnati Volksblatt says: "The President is utterly at fault when he intimates in his reply to Germany that she must not presume to dictate the foreign policy of the United States. Nothing is further from the thoughts of the German government. All that is asked is this: 'The United States must enforce international law against all governments or against none. Germany cannot submit that the president gives England free swing against Germany and does not grant the same right to Germany against England. Let the president enforce the neutral rights of our country against England and submarine warfare will cease at once. If for some reason of his own he is willing to permit England to reduce the United States to the abject position of a British colony, he must leave Germany unmolested and accept her repeated propositions for guarding the safety of American citizens by providing that they shall sail on neutral ships or on ships that carry no armament.'"

THE JUNE BRIDE.

She told her maid that June would soon be here, and if they put off any longer going to Crompton's to select their Curtains, Rugs, and other floor coverings, the home would not be ready; and, you believe it, he went.

Music and Drama

AT THE BRANT

"Good-bye to the men of the 84th, good luck and good cheer," was flashed on the screen last night at the Brant Theatre, and the audience applauded the sentiment heartily. The show all through was first class. Davis and Elmore, polite entertainers, are artists of more than usual ability, while a clever little playlet "Crookology," presented by Miss Dorothy De Shelle and Co., was exceptionally well acted.

The 10th episode of the Red Circle continued the adventures of June Travis, and interest in the serial is increasing. The feature film was the drama "A Fool There Was," from the play of the same name inspired by Kipling's poem. Theda Bara took the leading part and repeated the success she scored here last week in "The Blue Orphan." The acting of her leading man served also to make the play very interesting.

Marguerite Clark, the fascinating little star of the Famous Players Film Company, who made her desertion of the stage has endowed the screen with a number of inimitable characterizations, most notable of which are her successful appearances in "Still Waters" and in the dual title roles of "The Prince and the Pauper," adds another screen achievement that surpasses all her previous triumphs in her delightful interpretation of the role of Peggy in the photo-production of the famous romantic comedy, "Mice and Men." This role, in which such popular actresses as Annie Russell and Lady Gertrude Forbes-Robertson distinguished themselves in New York City, is on sale at the battalion canteen, price 20 cents per copy.

A belt was lost in the lavatory on Sunday last, and the finder is requested to return it to the orderly room.
