In the census bulletin No. 12, Smith's Falls is said to have 91 manufacturing establishments. The Smith's Falls Record says the statistics of the Dominion is the most good-natured, easy going, delicious liar it knows of. Smith's Falls has had half of 91 manufacturing establishments in it. The bulletin shows that the manufacturing establishments increased from 33 in 1881 to 91 in 1891. The Record says in place of an increase there has been a decrease.

We had a glowing account written up of the exploits of a couple of bearded youths who, having obtained the consent of their mamma, decided to spend a week or ten days in the wild and woolly region between Charleston and Poole's Resort on the St. Lawrence. Sufficient to say that after three days rowing, the last of which was against a head wind and the disability of blistered hands, they reached the rendezvous. It would be interesting to the novel reader to peruse their hair-breadth escapes. The quantity of game seen but not slaughtered was said to be something immense. The fourth day's sun had secretly risen when a sudden feeling of homesickness is said to have overtaken the breast of the oldest of the party and he hastily scrawled an earnest appeal to his ma, to send pa out for them with a wagon, as they felt more like coming home overland than by the tortuous course of the river and lake. Fearing that his appeal was not put forcibly enough, he had first sent a card, he had written another, the same day, and the two reached the paternal home by the same mail. Pa happened to be busy that morning selling a new top buggy to an extra new customer and could not go to be solicited by the letter. The next mail brought another and more pathetic appeal for succor, at which the old man's heart softened and that evening the projected reached the arms of his mother, and there was great rejoicing, not only at the wander's return, but at the boy's good fortune in getting back where he could bathe his blistered fingers with L.L.L.

A warning against the too common practice of drinking cold water when the body is heated is furnished in the death on Thursday last of Mr. A. J. Lee, of Montague. On the Monday previous while heated from work Mr. Lee took a satisfactory quantity of cold water and a little while afterwards complained of feeling ill. He continued to get worse and died of the best of treatment until death resulted on Thursday. He was in the employ of Mr. H. Locks and leaves a wife and small family to mourn the loss of husband and father.—Record.

The Secretary of Unionville fair is in communication with Mr. John Kelly, of Shelburne, Ont., brother of Robert J. Kelly, Reeve of Elizabethtown, regarding his making a special exhibit of the bones of the mastodon recently discovered by some workmen while digging a ditch in the vicinity of Highgate, Ont. One of the tusks measured 12 feet 8 inches in length, but as a portion was broken off at the tip, it was likely fully 14 feet long. From the size of the bones it is evident that the animal was fully one third larger than the famous Jumbo.

The Morning Herald says a good-looking, well-to-do and popular young bachelor, of a neighboring town was being teased by the ladies of a club for not getting married. He said "I'll marry the girl of your club whom, on a secret vote, you elect to be my wife." Each girl went into a corner, and used great caution in preparing her ballot, and decided on the one she liked best. The result of the vote was, that there were nine votes cast, each girl receiving one. The young man remains a bachelor, the club is broken up, and the girls are all mortal enemies, united in the one determination that they will never speak to that nasty man again.

S. James Barris, the man who burglarized a house in Prescott a few days ago, after chloroforming the inmates, at one time resided in this vicinity. His right name is Fardon, but he changed it because of a row he had in Ogdensburg. While here he got into a fight with a liverman, through falling to return a horse that he had hired.

A bucolic individual from the suburbs of Athens, while under the influence of fire-water, acted in a disorderly and disgraceful manner on Main street on Friday last. He was brought before Justice Cawley on Monday evening and given a lot of good advice along with a fine of $5. There are a lot of such men who rapidly qualify for a dose of the same medicine. The main street of a village is not a proper place to spend hours of the evening, and young men will find out this fact to their cost.

They Wrote Associate.

"The Jews are having a hard time of it among the islands," said a gentleman who spends much time among the islands. "The Americans will not associate with them and they will not stay at the same hotel with them. The result is that quite a number of the river resorts are shut to the Hebrews, while the hotels are almost impossible to enter. I know of one hotel where the Hebrews are refused entrance. One hotel that has accepted them is now a sufferer. Nearly every one of the mammoth buildings at the many resorts are crowded, but the one the Hebrews have been permitted to enter is tabbooed and is losing money every day."

A quaint spot.

St. Helena, the quaint little island opposite Central park, again shows signs of a quiet life. The owner, Sir William St. Helena, bought this island some years ago and fashioned it in imitation of the famous St. Helena, where Napoleon Bonaparte passed the days of his captivity. The little island is built with cannon, and the British flag floats proudly over it. Many people passing this peculiar place wonder why the British flag should be allowed to wave over an American soil. Mr. St. Helena, however, keeps the British flag flying over his diminutive island to make all in his power to allow the Jews to visit the island. He says "I seem to hear the Jews say 'I will see Mr. St. Helena and his family again on soon in their summer house'—Whig.

LET CANADA HAVE A PLEBISCITE.
