Where He Got Liquor.

Charles McDonald Goes to Jail

For Three Months.

On a charge of shooting with intent, Joe Lorenzo, 12 Cannon street east, again appeared in the Police Court this morning and through his counsel, M. J. O'Reilly, K.C., pleaded not guilty and declined to elect. The first witness called was David Mug-ford, 98 Steven street. He said he was with Thomas White and Thomas Trus-cott at the time of the shooting. They were standing in front of a candy store on King street east, when he heard the exclamation, "You can't back it up!" He (witness) then looked around and saw White and prisoner within three feet of each other, and the prisoner backing out into the road. He saw two shots fired and, after the second shot, White fell forward in the road and the prisoner ran south on Catherine street. The story of Lorenzo's capture was told the same as reported in last Tuesday's Times. Truscott corroborated the evidence of Mugford, only differing on the matter of distance between White the matter of distance between White and Lorenzo, at the time of the shooting. Truscott said it was six feet. Truscott said he heard no remarks made by anyone about whiskey. Ernest Zimmerman said he heard the shots from where he stood in front of the City Lunch, between Catherine and John streets. He saw a man running south on Catharine street and he and his chum ran with the pursuers of the fleeing man, and at the corner of Jackson and John streets there he saw a man backing up flourishing a revolver, facing his pursuers.

Edward Burke was standing in front of the King street candy store, previously mentioned, and heard White, or someone else, call prisoner a liar. He then saw White backing prisoner up in the road; when prisoner said to White, "Keep away from me, I'm a bad guy." White, however, apparently paid no heed and he (witness) saw Lorenzo pull out a revolver and fire twice. Near the Court House he saw Lorenzo brandishing a revolver, threatening to shoot the first man who came near. Witness had heard somebody ask Lorenzo for a drink, but he could not say who it was and did not hear the answer.

Hugh McDermott gave corroborative testimony.

P. C. Brown told the story of the capture and produced the revolver.

Lorenzo was committed for trial and efforts to release him on bail will be made to-morrow before the County Judge.

Yesterday aftermoon John Gross and John Wytrozo, Whitfield avenue, were seen near the Jockey Club track in company with a woman. County Constables Jess and Williams followed the men, as they were attracted by revolver shots. The men were searched, and a revolver was found on Gross. Both were arraigned this morning and charged with carrying concealed weapons. Gross was fined $20 and Wytrozo was discharged.

Charles MacDonald and John Eucher, alieged vags, were again remanded for further inquiries.

Peter Mulholland was charged with assaulting his wife, but was discharged accause she did not appear.

PREPARING FOR BATTLE.

Hotel Men Organizing For Strenuous Municipal Campaign.

Sanction Given For a Bazaar by the Trades Council.

Engineer Macallum Reported to be Progressing Favorably.

The strength developed by the temerance people at the last municipal election and the activity displayed this year has roused the liquor interests, and a fight is promised next January. story has reached the hotel men that temperance people have had men at work gathering evidence to prove that not half the license holders in Hamilton are "keeping hotel." This Hamilton are "keeping hotel." This is to be used as justification for a sweeping reduction in the number of licenses. The hotel men say that they greatly under estimated the strength of the temperance element last year, but that the mistake will not be repeated next January. A meeting is to be held shortly to organize for the fight.

News of the illness of City Engineer Macallum, who was suddenly stricken with appendicitis yesterday afternoon while visiting his sister, Mrs. (Dr.) Samuel Johnston, of Carlton street, Toronto, came as a shock to the City Hall officials here. Mr. Macallum apparently was enjoying his usual good health on Saturday and made no complaints about feeling ill. He was removed to the Toronto General Hospital and operated on at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A message received last night by Secretary Brennan, of the Board of Works, announced that Mr. Macallum was resting easily. Cousulting Engineer Barrow will look after the engineering while Mr. Macallum is absent. Macallum, who was suddenly stricker

Mr. Macallum is absent.

The city officials are interested in the next move the Radial Company will make about the freight cars on King street. It is believed the company intends establishing a freight yard near the corner of Sanford avenue and Wilson streets, and asking for permission to connect the Radial with the H., G. & B. either at Sanford or Sherman avenue There would probably be objection to this by residente of those streets, but the city officials think this is the best solution of the problem. The City Hall people are rather puzzled over the Brantford road's freight problem.

The officials think they have blocked what they took to be two or three attempts on that company's part to handle freight through the city. The belief that the company will connect west of the city with the Hamilton, Waterloo & Gurlph road when it is built, using Wilson street to reach the proposed freight variety of the company was the proposed freight variety in the proposed freight variety and the proposed freight variety in the proposed freight variety and the proposed freight variety in the proposed freight variety and the propose son street to reach the proposed freigh yards is given some credence.

The motion by defendants for further particulars in the case of R. S. Morris against the city of Hamilton was enlarged on Saturday till Wednesday next by the acting Master in Chambers, counsel for plaintiff agreeing to furnish the particulars in the meantime. Mr. T. L. Monahan appeared for the city of Hamilton, and Mr. S. G. Crowell for Mr. Morris. The action is to prevent the City Council of Hamilton from entering upon a contract with the Hydro Electric Commission. City Solicitor Waddell explained to-day that the granting of the motion meant that the plaintiffs would have to furnish more specific information about the bribery and corruption alleged and the city will then file its reply.

The Cataract Power Company is still being held up, through delay in delivery of some of the equipment, in completing the installation of are lamps under the new contract. All the lights are up as fer as Wentworth street.

The Board of Works department has a problem on its hands patching up the Jolley Cut. The officials say that the road keeps slipping away after every heavy rain and the only way to permunently repair it is to continue the retaining wall.

Walter Rollo, on behalf of the Trades and Labor Council today received from acting Mayor Farmer permission to hold a bazaar in connection with the Labor Day drawings. The officers of the Council have been told that to comply with the law the articles must be offered for sale at a bazaar and if not sold may be raffled off. The law does not prescribe how long the bazaar shall continue. The labor people plan to hold it for one day only. They say that the action of the president of the Citizens' League in this matter is not likely to gain much support from the workingmen for the moral reformers at the next election.

There is a prospect at last of the citiens who have been bitterly complaining There is a prospect at last of the citizens who have been bitterly complaining about the nuisance caused by smoke from engines on the steam roads getting relief. The city has the reports of experts who were engaged with a view to prosecuting the companies and these will be laid before the Finance Committee at the next meeting.

The east end mountain top will likely have a volunteer fire brigade this fall. Some of the young men living up there are anxious to form a company and have the fire chief drill them. The matter will be taken up with Chief TenEyek as soon as he returns from Grand Rapids.

I know some people who yesterday were wishing that their church had been quarantined. No such luck.

When it comes to shooting, the Thirteenth is seldom handicapped by its unlucky number.

If parents will do their full duty to wards their daughters the white slave fiends will have little opportunity to carry on their nefarious practices.

In the meantime keep your children as far away from infection as you can and trust to Providence.

Let the Trades and Labor Council turn its raffle into a rummage sale and all will be well.

I have not much fear for the girl who always gets home at a good time at night.

What's the use of quarantining the church if you don't quarantine the people who attend the church?

Certainly Hamilton appears to be doing its own share of drinking this sum mer. Some, of course, are drinking more than their share.

I hope nobody is thinking of getting out an injunction against the Labor Day lottery.

This morning he was somewhat better and Dr. White, the attending better and Dr. White, the attending physician, says he has a fight chance. The boy was out walking with his little brother and went into the house. The flooring was all in but the stairways had not been completed and he and his little brother climbed the ladder and reached the second floor. George started to climb to the attic and had just about reached it when the ladder slipped and he lost his balance and fell to the cellar. Some people were in the house at the time and ran to his assistance. The little brother was still on the second floor and was about to jump down when one of the men in the building reached him and carried him to safety. When picked up George was unscious and his head was badly bruised, as was also the rest of his body. Mr. McLaren, who was in the building at the time, carried the lad home and a doctor was called.

Maud Durfey, a mere girl, rather nice looking, was called as the first witness. She said she was 14 years of age, and she did not look even that. The story she told was appallingly nauseating. She told how she first met Marks last Civic Holiday. She, in company with Marks and two other men, spent the afternoon on a vacant lot on Lottridge street. She told how Marks had made arrangeemnts for foreigners to meet her, which she did, and he took the money they tendered. She swore that prisoner got as many as four dollars one day and five another from the foreigners.

when cross-examined by Mr. Lewis, she gave a long list of names of young men she had met.

Mrs. Durfey, mother of the girl, told of prisoner calling at the house lately for her daughter, and how she had punished her with a good thrashing.

Other witnesses testified to seeing. Other witnesses testified to seeing Marks in company with the girl on Lot-tridge street.

Marks was committed for trial
