within a week, the inaugural sitting of the Peace Conference will be held, to be precise on Saturday next, January 18th. It is not made clear in the despatch, announcing this date, whether there will be any German representatives present at this session or not, neither does any subsequent dispatch announce the personnel of the late enemy's delegation. Nothing has been cabled from across to show that a Constitutional form of Government exists in Germany, or that the Ebert administration has been placed in power by the exercise of the peoples franchise. In fact we are kept very much in the dark concerning many be divided into three classes; supplication; second, communion; third, praise.

Bruce Porter, the war, and the checkmating of Germany's world game, he is not likely to be over squeamish about the course to pursue in this respect. There is plot and counterplot in Berlin, where to all appearances everything is conto all appearances everything is confusion, but underlying the chaos there is a significant something. In proof of this comes a cable from London via Rotterdam, stating that the organizers of the Berlin coup so arranged their plans that in the armies demobilization, the troops who were released from service, consisted only demobilization, the troops who were released from service, consisted only of those who were not affected by any revolutionary spirit. The soldiers remaining with the colors, be it noted, are in perfect sympathy with either one or the other group of factionaries. The consequence is that the German Army not yet demoblized is largely a Red army, which has announced its intention to ignore any nounced its intention to ignore any nounced its intention to ignore any Col.

Ebert himself has great influence among the organized workers of Germany, and may possibly be animated by the best of intentions now, but it must not be forgotten that when Bethman-Holwegg in 1914 proclaimed that "necessity knows no law," and that Germany was "hacking her way through Belgium," Herr Ebert was one of the Socialist majority in the Reichstag which cheered itself hoarse over these tatements.

Considering the sorts and conditions of Germans with which the Allies have to deal in finalizing Peace terms they, and especially the British, will have to be continually "On Guard."

AT ST. FRANCIS.

The first Christmas Tree held at The first Christmas Tree held at the new parish of St. Francis (Logy Bay, Outer Cove and Middle Cove) was a striking success. The sum of $2,000.00 was netted. This result is entirely due to the generosity and enthusiasm of the people of the parish, and the pronounced harmony and tranquility evident upon all sides. Unity is strength and peace invigorating; hence the unprecedented success, which, for a Christmas Tree, would appear to constitute a record dent intention on the part of the German form of government to embarrass the carrying out of the conditions, the delays which have occurred being to their advantage. Unusual procrastination has marked their conformity to the terms, and having secured one prolongation, they are applied for and been granted another. What their purpose is in this, it should not be difficult to perceive. They are stalling off the Allies with some deep scheme in view. In peace as in war the Hun is tricky and utterly unscrupulous, and if his object is to sow dissension, at the Peace Conference, against Britain, regarded by white the carrying out of the conficulty of the configuration of the working of the state of the configuration of the working of the state of the configuration of the working of the state of the state of the state of the carrying out of the configuration of the working of the state of the carrying out of the configuration of the working of the state of the working of the state of the carrying out of the configuration of the working of the state of the working of the working of the state of the working of the state of the working of the working of the state in the short period of the thr
