Awful Time on Ocean.

DESPERATE EXPERIENCE.

Battling with mountainous seas for days, keeping a waterlogged ship afloat while the waves washed her overboard continuously and compelling her to tread decks covered with water waist high, the desperate but brave attempts to save their ship, the final abandoning of the schooner, the thrilling rescue in mid-ocean by the officers and crew of a cargo steamer, their landing in Newport, and their arrival in North Sydney this morning on their way to their homes and families in Port au Prince, Newfoundland, were a few of the things learned by the sailors of a party of shipwrecked sailors who landed from this schooner's wreck.

The party was comprised of Capt. George Alfred, Mate, Wm. King, George Alfred, and others. The schooner was a 120-ton schooner named "The S. S. Lake" of Port au Prince, Newfoundland, and was on her way to St. John's, Newfoundland, when she was wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland on the morning of January 21st. The schooner was carrying a cargo of fish and other goods. The crew of the schooner were rescued by the crew of the cargo steamer "The S. S. Lake" and were taken to Newport, Newfoundland, where they were landed. The schooner was abandoned and is now lying on the beach.

Fracas on New Gower St.

Quite a fracas occurred on New Gower Street, Saturday evening, the initial performance being staged in a well known restaurant, when two inebriates who had imbibed "not wisely but too well," started a rough house. Being ejected by the proprietor they continued their pugilistic exhibition in the presence of a large crowd attracted by the commotion. The march of events carried the contestants into Prince's Street, where the combat raged joyously to the evident entertainment of the multitude. Eventually some goodly disposed persons separated the maddened combatants, and the arrival of the police put a period to the melee, though the flow of language subsequent to the termination of the encounter was equally as entertaining to the crowd as the fight exhibition.

Wife Thrashed Husband

The unusual sight of a wife beating up her husband was to be seen last night on Plymouth Road. It appears that the woman has formed the habit of visiting a questionable house. Her husband went down to this house last night and in spite of her resistance, attempted to drag her home. When the couple got to Plymouth Road, the woman turned on her husband and began to use obscene language to him and to knock him about. A crowd soon collected and escorted her, victorious, on her way back to the house from which her indignant hubby had previously removed her.

Veterans' Dance.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Final arrangements have been made for the G.W.V.A. Dance, which is taking place at the C.C.C. Hall on Wednesday night, and it is anticipated there will be a large attendance. The C.C.C. Band is playing the latest dance music and an excellent supper is being provided by the ladies who are connected with the G.W.V.A. The proceeds are in aid of the Association. It will be remembered last year's dance was one of the biggest and best of the season, and it is hoped this year's will better it.

C. C. C. Hold Meeting.

Mr. James Parker, Chairman of the General Committee, presided over the adjourned meeting of the C.C.C. which took place last night in the C. C. C. Hall, and was largely attended. Matters in connection with the organization of the Corps were discussed at length and it is expected that in the very near future the Committee will have its plans finalized and the Brigade will once more be put upon a firm footing and will renew its activities of pre-war days.

Schooner Abandoned.

Crew Land at Gibraltar.

That the schooner Cento has been abandoned in mid-ocean and the crew have landed safely at Gibraltar, was the gist of a message received by the firm of P. Templeman from their agents at that port. No further particulars were given. The Cento, which had brought a cargo of fish to Malaga for her owners was, at the time of the disaster, bound for Catalina in sand ballast. The ship had been twenty days on the voyage and doubtless encountered the heavy storms reported by recent arrivals from the other side. The Cento is the third vessel lost within the past five weeks by Mr. Templeman. The vessel was covered by insurance.

Masonic Dance.

A dance is being held in the Masonic Temple to-night under the auspices of the Temple Directorate, for members and their lady friends. This is the first dance held by the Masons for some time and as everything which they undertake is always a great success, those who attend are bound to enjoy themselves to the full. The ballroom has been especially decorated for the occasion and presents a most picturesque appearance.

Personal.

The many friends of Heged Constable John Crane of Channel will be glad to hear that he is doing as well as can be expected, following a recent operation.

Miss Rosalie Badcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Badcock of Carbonear, who recently underwent an operation at the General Hospital, is steadily improving.

Among the names of successful candidates in the Third year Examinations in Physiological Chemistry, McGill University, appears that of Mr. C. J. F. Parsons, son of Edward Parsons, Esq., of this town. One hundred and twenty-three students passed and sixteen secured honors. Mr. Parsons came sixth in the honors division and is to be congratulated on his success. —Hr. Grace Standard.

There will be a Card Tournament in the T. A. Armoury on Monday, Jan. 31st. Good prizes offered. —Jan29,21

Halifax Man Says

He Can Now Walk as Well as Ever

Had Rheumatism So Bad Before Taking Tanlac Could Hardly Get About.

"The people who used to see me hobbling home from work can look at me now as I come walking briskly in and see what a few bottles of Tanlac has done for me," said Robert Barley, 21 Agricola St., Halifax, N.S., recently.

"For over three years I suffered with rheumatism in my feet and legs. My feet hurt so bad I could hardly walk home from work, and when I got home I simply wanted to drop into the first chair I came to and pull off my shoes and try to get my feet to quit burning and aching so. I couldn't sleep at night and was so nervous the least little excitement would get me all upset."

"Well, the very first bottle of Tanlac got me started well on the road to recovery, and now my rheumatism is gone and I can walk home like a sixteen-year-old when I get through work every day. I used to have a lot of trouble with my stomach, had no appetite, but even that trouble has been corrected, and my appetite is just fine and I have gained several pounds in weight. I never heard of a medicine helping anybody like Tanlac has me."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, in Paradise by Mrs. Martin F. Byrne, in Upper Gillies by Heber Andrews, in Portland by H. C. Haines, in St. John's, Salmonier, by Mrs. J. Gushue, in McTierstown by Ex-Plunk Valley Royal Stores, Ltd., in Flat Islands by William Samson, in Jamestown by Christopher Haines, and in Lewisporte by Irish Freckle, —adv.

Praise for Truckmen.

22nd Jan. 1921.

Sir,—In re the large cargoes of herring, carried from various places to the S.S. "Rosalia," by the members of your Union engaged in the work, and also to you, Sir, for the interest that you take, I beg to tender you and the members of your Union, on behalf of my brother inspectors, and myself, our sincere thanks for the able and efficient way the work has been performed.

I trust that the same interest will always continue as it will help us in our work to have the herring turn out in good condition when they arrive at their destination on the other side.

Again thanking you, I have the honour to be, Sir, Your obedient servant, J. J. McFARLANE, Inspector for City.

Jonas Barter, Esq., President of the Truckmen's Protective Union, St. John's.

Nobility Going Cheap.

ARCHDUCHESS WILLING TO WED A RICH GENTLEMAN.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—Nobility is going cheap in Central Europe, and any American who is anxious to marry a real live Archduchess can have his chance by answering the following advertisement which has appeared among others, not dissimilar, in a Tyrolean newspaper:

"Charming Archduchess, accomplished musician, with knowledge of several languages, brought up in luxury and now tired of a miserable existence without money, would marry rich and refined American or English gentleman about thirty-eight years old. Parvenus and individuals of other nationalities need not apply. The Archduchess will willingly emigrate and even, if necessary, change her religion. An interview might be arranged in Switzerland."

The Archduchess is not alone in resorting to this method of trying to escape from a miserable existence in the former Austrian Empire.

Vienna newspapers are full of such advertisements, and the advertisers, despairing of finding suitable matches in their own country, are now beginning to advertise abroad.

LOW TEMPERATURE.

Saturday night was the coldest experienced in the city for the season, the temperature being down to zero. Along the railway line it was also very cold and at Clarendville the thermometer registered 8 below, while at other places it was from 4 to 6 below.
