and receptions with gentlemen escorts unaccompanied by a chaperon. It will require another hundred years before this custom is relegated to the grisettes and peasants, as in other countries. Young women who come to New York to study for a career seldom come and receptions with gentlemen escorts standing of the club and the good work to study for a career seldom come chaperoned, and depend upon the opportunities afforded by gentlemen friends to attend places of amusement. One of these young women brought letters of credit to me, and I found her so bright and charming I invited her to my house. To my astonishment I heard her ask a young gentleman in my par-lors to take her to hear a popular actress then playing in the city. The gentleman of course promised to do so, and during the next month he was her escort to half a dozen places of amusement, all on her invitation. This young woman I have heard spoken of as "so enter-prising," "so popular" and "such an energetic creature" by many people, but for me she had spoiled herself by her methods of obtaining attention.

Another young woman of excellent family came to New York to study music. She was quite a belle in her own smaller city, and she found it impossible to live without social life in the metropelis. She complained so bitterly to me of her lonely evenings that I took her eut with me upon two or three occasions. I was surprised to find her making a tour of all the theaters and places of amusement after that in company with a gentleman of my acquaintance. "THE PICTURE OF HEALTH." fints for Women Who Desire to Ear

After some discussion the by-law passed as amended.

Besides the trio—fresh air, sunshine and exercise, which are well known and sparingly used—there are many other hints and helps ready for those who long for perfect health. Most women desire it not only because they would be a clog upon the lives of others, but also because without it the highest beauty cannot exist, while with it the lack of beauty is scarcely regretted.

One cardinal rule to remember is never to stand when one can sit, nor to sit with the feet touching the ground if one can rest them upon a stool or brace. The idea is to remove the weight of the body from the feet as often as may be, so in any household task it is not only preferable to sit when receible to the work, and should be paid for his services.

After some discussion the by-law passed as amended.

The Local Improvement by-law was next introduced and the proposed amendments thereto read and explained.

They were of a trivial nature.

ALD. Baker fly ou would strike out the whole Local Improvement by-law is an extinction.

The by-law to widen View street was next taken up, and the City Assessor and City Engineer were called upon for a report on the proposed work.

ALD. Baker moved in favor of the payment of one month's salary t any household task it is not only preferable to sit when possible, but likewise to use a rather high stool, where the rounds may serve as a brace. To most women nothing proves more tiresome than shopping. The standing is the hard part, not the walking from store to store. If they took pains always to secure any available seats, they would find "that tired feeling" of which patent medicines speak greatly lessened at the day's end. Plenty of nutritious, easily digested food is another important factor of a sound body. Women are proverbially careless as to when and what they eat. It need not run into the grankism of health foods, but should certainly include beef and mutton and strong, sound vegetables and fresh fruits, all of which nowadays are readily procurable almost any day in the year. It seems scarcely necessary to say that light but sufficiently warm clothing should be worn. Yet this does no mean, for instance, the still popular fur capes which envelop one's throat and leave the arms and small of the back absolutely unprotected, nor the great boas which again wrap up the neck that grows tender thereby and afford no other warmth. The lungs must be most carefully guarded—if in no other way, by a layer of flaunel underneath the gown, back and front—during severe winter weather. In summer quite as much care should be taken to avoid sudden chills after overheating. An eternal vigilance is required in the matter of dress.

Another essential is the striving after what is not a feminine belonging-a placid temper. Those who "take things easily," who are not soon perturbed nor annoyed, make little drain upon their nervous system. And, after all, the nerves play the greater part in the health RUTH HALL

THE MAYOR said that the Council had decided to discharge all the sewerage works employes, and the moment this decision was arrived at the employes were notified. They all acted on the notice except Mr. Jordan, who said he would not be dismissed.

Jordan, who said he would not be dismissed.

ALD. BRAGE thought that Mr. Jordan had been encouraged by the Sewerage Commissioners to go on with his work. He favored the payment of the month's salary—$100.

ALD. Hunter thought it a hardship that Mr. Jordan should have been dismissed under such circumstances. That gentleman was doubtless under the impression that the commissioners alone were responsible for commissioners alone were responsible for his appointment and diamissal. THE MAYOR explained that according to THE MAYOR explained that according to the by-law the commissioners had no power to incur any responsibility beyond the amount placed at their disposal. When they had not the funds to pay Mr. Jordan they should not have continued his services. After a good deal of discussion pro and con., the motion passed unanimously.

ALD. HUNTER moved that other things being soul, married men he given the prefer-ing equal, married men be given the preference of employment on city work.

ALD. BAKER did not oppose the motion, but pointed out that there were very many young men brought up in the city who certainly had a prior claim on city work to strangers who came into the city with their families. There were many young men who had spent their lives in this city who had mothers and sisters to provide for al-

ALD. STYLES explained that citizens always got the preference to strangers and married men to those who are single.

ALD. BRAGG did not think such a resolution needed, as the principle was one which was generally adopted.

ALD. HUNTER explained that the resident of Victoria ought to get the preference ev-

ALD. BAKER explained that the people of the district wanted the work done, and were willing to pay for it. The motion carried.

The Finance committee secured the approval of the Council for the payment of $344.51, also for $868.58 for salaries and supplied. For the maintenance of city in-stitutions a sum of $30.50 was voted, and for electric lighting $75. A number of minor accounts also passed.

The Streets committee recommended a number of street crossings to be laid, at a total coat of $1172, and that a warrant be issued under the Street Loan by-law for $7922 for cleaning and repairing of streets and the purchase of broken stone from the Provincial jail.

ALD. MUNN raised the point that it was band on the city if it had to pay for the hard on the city, if it had to pay for the rock which its own prisoners broke. Several members of the Council spoke against the principle of Buying up convict labor, when so many men were idle in the city.

The committee on the Home for aged and Infirm, recommended the admission of William Bell to the institute.

The recommendation was approved of, as was also one for the admission of David Mills, at the coat of the Provincial Govern-
