JUST WHAT WAS

SAID 50 YEARS AGO
The Girl of One Period Quite Like That of Any Other Period.

A London correspondent discovers a rollicking satire upon people of to-day, that is those of us who gravely shake our heads as we contemplate the manners and dress of many young folk of the day. The correspondent finds that in The Saturday Review of fifty years ago the following article was printed: "The girl of the period is a creature who dyes her hair and paints her face as the first articles of her personal religion—a creature whose sole idea of life is fun, whose sole aim is unbounded luxury, and whose dress is the chief object of such thought and intellect as she possesses. Her main endeavor is to outlive her neighbors in the extravagance of fashion. If a sensible fashion lifts the gown out of the mud she raises hers."

"All men whose opinion is worth having prefer the simple and genuine girl of the past, with her tender little ways and pretty bashful modesties, to this loud and rampant modernization, with her false red hair and painted skin, talking along as glibly as a man, and by preference leading the conversation to doubtful subjects. All we can do is to wait patiently until the national madness has passed out and women have come back again to the old English idea."

Not a few writers and private talkers have said things to the same effect as the foregoing. We hear it every day and hearing it we may accept it as a scathing indictment of the new girl, just as our forbears accepted the foregoing article as a just indictment of the girls of a half century ago. Head-strong, forward, and disobedient young people were known long before the time of The Review's editorial. Readers of the "Last Days of Pompeii" may recall the lamentation of a chief character that young people of his time were not as reverent and respectful in the presence of the elders as they had been in a former generation. Neither were they as religious. Certain it is that the Apostle Paul, in writing those epistolary messages, thought it pertinent and timely to remind women not to be too forward in church. As it appeared to him, it was necessary for him, as an authority, to repress women, warning them specifically against bobbing their hair.

It seems that the race has always stopped to ask now and then "What has become of the old-fashioned girl who?" etc.?

CROWDED OUT.

A large quantity of country correspondence and other letters which arrived this morning, and other local news has been crowded out of this issue.

A colonel of a negro regiment coming in about 10.30 o'clock was duly challenged by the sentry, and responded: "Colonel Blank, in charge of the camp." The sentry tried his best to pierce the darkness, gave it up, and finally said "Look heah, man, you all is de foth man what's done tried to make me think he's Colonel Blank. Go away wid dat stuff." The colonel pretty warmly reaffirmed that he was Colonel Blank. The guard, unabashed, told him to step up, so that he could see him. The colonel walked up in a rage, and imagine his consternation when the sentry took hold of the silver eagle on his shoulder, looked up at him with a grin on his face, and said: "O, lawdy! 'Tis de ole bird, ain't it?"

SERIOUS ACCIDENTS ON RAILWAYS

Deaf Mute Killed on I. N. R. and Two Injured On Main Line

Leon Oulette, aged 25 years, a deaf and dumb mute of St. Quentin was overtaken on the railway near that place last Saturday by the express and so badly injured that he died shortly after being taken to St. Quentin for treatment.

The engineer saw the unfortunate man upon the track and blew the whistle several times but was unable to stop his train in time to avert the accident.

Two Struck by Plow.
Monday afternoon about four o'clock the wing plow was dispatched west to clear the line after the recent storm. When near Wheeler's crossing at Shives Athol two pedestrians, Miss Rachael Parrent and Arthur Major, who were walking on the track, were struck by the wing plow and very severely injured. The accident was not seen by the train crew, but was witnessed by employees of the Shives mill. The young lady is suffering from a fractured skull and other injuries, while the young man had both legs broken at the ankle.

FIRLOTTE-BOULET.
A wedding of more than ordinary interest was solemnized at the Church of Our Lady of Snows, on Tuesday morning, February 17th, when Elinor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Boulet was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Sherman W. Firlotte of Jacques River, N. B.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Melanson, friends of the bride taking part in the musical service. The wedding march was beautifully played by the Misses Brennan. The bride looked charming in a navy blue suit with hat to match and wore a corsage bouquet of tea roses.

After the nuptial ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride to the immediate relatives. The young couple, who are most popular in town received many beautiful gifts and were the recipients of many congratulations from their friends. The groom's gift to the bride was a set of Scotch Mole trousers. Mr. and Mrs. Firlotte left by Tuesday's Limited on their wedding trip to western cities.

HARDWARE TALKS.

"Life is a hard grind," said the emery wheel.

"It's a perfect bore," said the auger.

"It means nothing but hard knocks for me," sighed the nail.

"You haven't as much to go through as I have," put in the saw.

"I can barely scrape along," complained the plane.

"And I am constantly being sat upon" said the bench.

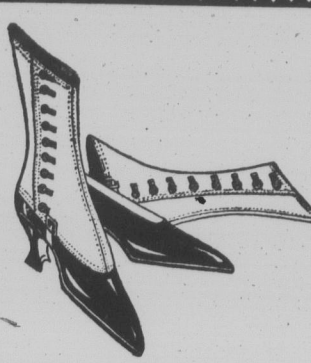

"Let's strike," said the hammer.

"Cut it out," said the chisel.

And all was silent at
