the letter of E. B. Harper, president of this institution, has been ostentatiously paraded in proof that Canadians were to be protected in the manner above described. It is a question, however, if the Canadian government is prepared to assume the responsibility of accepting a deposit from this concern and licensing it to do business in this country. By such a course the government would practically endorse its plans and methods of doing business, thus taking the full responsibility for whatever may happen in the bility for whatever may happen in the future. It is well known that its plans aro only experimental, and no one will believe for a moment that they have been sufficiently long in operation to form any basis for calculation as to their future.

The express leaving Toronto for Montreal at 7.55 Friday night on the Canadian Pacific met with an accident at Smith's him on his metal and now it is war to the knife, no matter who falls. Sir John or Falls junction about 4 o'cl. o'. Saturday morning by which M. A. Macdonald of Toronto, the baggageman and a French Canadian named Bonsecours, bound for Ottawa, were killed outright, and several others more or less injured. Fire subsequently breaking out, four cars and their contents were destroyed.

The accident happened half a mile this side of Smith's Falls junction (210 miles east of Toronto), where a track turns out from the main line to the old station. Between these tracks, 100 yards beyond the switch, is a large water tank. At or near the switch the arise of the baggage car the switch the axle of the baggage car broke, and the whole train, with the engine broke, and the whole train, with the engine excepted, jumped the track. The baggage car struck the under-pinning of the watertank so forcibly that the structure came to the ground. The cars thus suddenly stoped, piled up one against the other. Fire broke out, consuming the baggage car, an emigrant sleeper, a first class coach and a sleeper.

Baggageman Macdonald was in his car, and with him was Bonsecours, a shantyman bound for Ottawa, lying on a stretcher with a broken leg, attended by one La France. ENGLAND MAKES CONCESSIONS. Her Answer to the French Proposals on the Egyptian Question. PARIS. Jan. 25 .- Prdmier Ferry to-day submitted to the French cabinet the answer of England to the French counter-pro posals concerning the Egyptian financial settlement. In this answer, England recedes somewhat from her former position upon the question of a proposed new loan, and accepts £9,000,000, the French figure proposed, instead of her own of £4,500,000, as the amount of the loan to be made on Egyptian account. England also sticks to the proposal to have this loan guaranteed by all or some of the powers instead of by England alone. Besides these concessions, England agrees to a tax for two years upen all coupons at 5 per cent., this tax to be subject to extension if the powers should so subject to extension if the powers should so decide. Ferry said England was disposed to connect the question of free navigation of the Suez canal with pending questions, which should be kept independent.

MAD AT THE MAYOR.

Nationalists Furious Because Lordship Visits the Castle. DUBLIN, Jan. 24.—The nationalists an furious with the lord mayor here for his yesterday's visit in state to Dublin castle. While going there the horses to his coach plunged like mad. When his worship was ready to return the obdurate steeds refused to enter the castle yard, and so he had to come back in Earl Spencer's tory equipage. The incident gives rise to much amusing comment that home rule inspires all animate nature in Ireland; even the horses have grown patylotic enough to protest at mate nature in Ireland; even the horses have grown patriotic enough to protest at the lord mayor's going to do homage at the castle. Some say that the coachman had a great deal to do with the obstinacy of the horses, for he has been discovered to be a fenian. To make matters worse the mayor's secretary prints an apologetic letter, claiming that the visit was made in accordance with the accient ware. with an ancient usage, but he states that the custom will be abolished.

Russian Designs on Corea. London, Jan. 24.—The Army and Navy Gazette, commenting upon the outbreak in Corea, refers to two strong reasons which Russia has for designing to extend south-ward her frontier to Corea. First, she wishes a warmer, smaller and more easily defended naval station than Vladivostock, whose harbor is blocked with ice several weeks in the year. Second, Russia wishes to obtain a large additional native popula-tion from which to raise a large force to guard the Pacific littoral and enable her to better cope with China. The Gazette urges England and America, which both have large interests in Corea, to join with Japan in the endeavor to frustrate the designs of Russia, England, says the Gazette, should render Hong Kong safe against Russian attack and maintain a strong fleet in the Pacific.
