NOTE AND COMMENT.

The British warship is always on the job whenever there is trouble brewing. The pupils of the American high school near Constantinople were safe on board a warship that flies the Union Jack before the ships of their own nation had received word to sail.

It is possible that Michigan may see a vote for state wide prohibition this year. The recent granting of the franchise to the women of the State has given special encouragement to the temperance forces and they think they can win.

Among the curious suggestions of amendments to existing laws was one to regulate the length of ladies' skirts. Another was to prohibit the enclosure of pictures, flags or other things in boxes of cigarettes, which are calculated to stimulate the sale. These suggestions have been recently made at Ottawa.

While it is stated that less than half a hundred cases of divorce will come before the Canadian Parliament this session, it must not be forgotten that many Canadians settle their matrimonial troubles on the other side of the line. Between 1887 and 1906 there were 455 Canadian cases a year in the United States, or an aggregate of 8,645.

The passing of Sir Edward Clouston leaves Canada with only four resident baronets:—Sir Charles Tupper, Sir Edward Gordon Johnson, a descendant of the famous Sir Wm. Johnson, and now in the employ of the C.P.R. at Montreal; and Lord Aylmer and Lord Somers, who are baronets as well as peers. The latter is farming at Pickering, Ont.

A paragraph is going the rounds about a Milwaukee dairy-farmer who has been experimenting with music on his herd of 75 pedigreed cows. The experiment was tried, we are told, with a gramophone, "on the theory that music at milking-time would make the cows less inclined to be nervous." In that way it was found that the milk-producing value of the herd was increased by two quarts each cow per day—a total of one hundred and forty quarts.

A new movement has been started to keep the boy on the farm. It has been decided by the Ontario Agricultural Department to hold fall fairs in connection with the public schools in all parts of the province, and those who have been endeavoring to widen the appeal of the farm to the younger generation feel convinced that the desired results will be achieved by the means now proposed. The idea was originated this year when twelve fairs were held by school children in different parts of Ontario.

COLD SORES AND ULCERS ARE HEALED BY ZAM-BUK

Cold sores, chapped hands, ulcers, and winter eczema are common troubles just now, and for all these Zam-Buk will be found the surest and quickest remedy. Sometimes cold sores arise from chilblains on the toes or fingers, and in the former case, where colored socks are worn, there is a danger of blood-poisoning from the dye. Zam-Buk being so powerfully antiseptic removes the danger as soon as applied and quickly heals.

Mr. W. J. Halliday, of Ash Grove, Ont., says: "I had my little finger frozen, and it cracked at the first joint, causing a bad sore, which discharged freely and would not heal. The pain was very bad, and the whole of my hand became swollen and in bad shape. A friend advised me to try Zam-Buk, and I soon found that Zam-Buk was altogether different to any preparation I had ever tried. In a very short time it healed the sore."

Miss Little May, of Stoney Creek, Ont., says: "A few weeks since, several nasty, disfiguring cold sores suddenly broke out on my lips, which became much swollen. Seeing my condition, a friend advised me to try Zam-Buk and leave all other preparations aside. This I did, and was much pleased, after a few applications of this balm, to see every sore healed."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for eczema, blood-poison, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Refuse harmful imitations and substitutes.

Use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet. Best for baby's tender skin!

Better Than Riches.

The desire to accumulate something for one's children is a commendable one; but it is well to bear in mind that the best things are to be given to the children personally, in good examples, kind words and thoughtful teachings. A very sensible writer recently said about this important subject: "Children must be taught what the parents wish them to do. Teach them truthful gentle ways and they will be true and gentle. If a boy learns bad language from his father he will repeat it just as certainly as he has a tongue in his mouth and if a little girl hears her mother gossip she will gossip just as soon as she meets a playmate. People who devour their food like cattle must not expect their children to have good table manners. Gentlemen and good women are home made. There is nothing on earth for which one ought to be thankful than for having been brought up in the atmosphere of a pure home. Such a home may be narrow and even hard, it may be deficient in material comforts." A man sturdy as an oak once said, "I was the son of poor parents, and from my youth up

Nuts as Food.

There is no doubt that the food value of nuts is not recognized as greatly as the facts warrant. It has been asserted, on the authority of chemists, that the nutritive properties of nuts entitle them to a much higher place than they now occupy as an article of food, it is even asserted that if all other means of nutriment were cut off, man could support life on the nut crop of the world. This statement has been made in some of the best school text-books of Europe, and it appeared in a school book recently published in this country. The rising generation seems likely therefore, to have a higher opinion of the utility of nuts than their fathers entertained.

Why go limping and whining about your corns when a 25 cent bottle of Holloway's Corn Cure will remove them? Give it a trial and you will not regret it.

The popularity of any man in his contact with other men, rests upon the little things that he does for men, the little recognition, the little courtesy, the little favor, the little praise.

Four-year-old Fennel Chambers was so horribly burned Monday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Robert Chambers, a widow, of Tilbury, that she cannot recover. The little girl and her two small brothers were left alone for a short time. They began lighting paper in the front of a stove. The little girl's clothing became ignited, and she and the other two children ran out of the house. Ernest Chauvin, a passerby, heard the children screaming and hastened to them. When he reached the little girl every shred of clothing except her shoes and stockings was burned from the body, and his hands were burned by carrying the child into the house.

Without friendship this life is but misery, and it is so difficult to find a true friend that the search is almost needless; but, if ever you do, it ought to be cherished as an exotic plant.

If a young man wishes to attain success he should honestly endeavor to master the science of the business he has chosen. Without this he must always content himself in the lower walks of his calling. The denial of a few luxuries will buy all the books he requires, and his own diligence may be made to supply the place of a tutor. Without such diligence the best teacher in the world could not turn him into a scholar.
