Parish Notes

The Lenten Services are being fairly well attended, though most of our regular congregation are conspicuous by their absence. The wonder still remains, that whilst certain faithful souls make it their duty and pleasure to attend the services of the church, so many fail to appreciate these aids to the Christian life. Let each ask—Why am I not glad when they say, "Let us go unto the House of the Lord?"

The monthly meeting of the Sunday School Association was held this month in St. George's Schoolroom. A very large number of teachers attended; the Rector presided. A model lesson on "Hearers and Doers," was given by Mr. G. B. Kirkpatrick. Canon Sweeny and Dr. Tucker, the General Missionary Secretary, gave excellent addresses.

The addresses of Professor Jenks, Canon Sweeny and the Rev. C. A. Seager, on Friday afternoons, have been highly appreciated.

The Sunday School Librarian acknowledges with many thanks, gifts of books from Mrs. Welch, Mrs. Boulton, Mrs. C. C. Baines and Mrs. Webb. Will some more of our friends ransack their bookshelves for discarded boys' and girls' books?

The entertainment arranged by the St. Aratha's Guild was in every way a success, both in the numbers present and the popular character of the programme. Every one did their part to the best of their ability and thoroughly succeeded in pleasing an enthusiastic audience.

WHEN YE PRAY, SAY

After the Accession of the King to the throne it became necessary to make certain changes in the Prayer Book. Opportunity was taken at the same time to compare the existing copies with the "Sealed Looks," in order that the new books might be printed "in the most accurate form." The comparison has led to a number of changes, which are for the most part unimportant. In two places "especially" now becomes "specially." "The quick and dead" is now changed into "the quick and the dead." The only change that is of any real importance touches our way of saying the Lord's Prayer. It is only the change of a comma, yet it materially affects the sense. Till recently a comma followed the words "in earth." In all the new books it comes before them, so as to indicate that the words "in earth as it is in Heaven" belong equally to each of the preceding petitions. Thus: "Hallowed be Thy name, in earth as it is in Heaven." The learned Bishop Jebb makes the meaning as clear as possible by printing the first half of the prayer as follows:

Our Father, which art in Heaven,
 Hallowed be Thy name,
 Thy Kingdom come,
 Thy will be done,
 In earth as it is in Heaven.

It is obvious that both force and beauty are added to our Lord's Prayer by this rendering. Thereby our Lord teaches us to pray that His name may be hallowed on earth as it is hallowed by the Heavenly Host on High; that His Kingdom may be as completely established on earth as it is in Heaven, and that His will may be done by us on earth as willingly, readily and perfectly as by His holy angels in Heaven.

If this prayer were offered earnestly by all Christians everywhere, this world would be the abode of "righteousness, quietness and assurance for ever."

Five o'clock tea is an institution which suffers little or no diminution during the Lenten Fast of Forty Days. Those who most appreciate this institution can perhaps best understand how comforting is the four o'clock tea on Wednesday afternoons in the Guild room, where the "Mothers' Meeting" is held. The mothers, who love a cup of hot tea and a bit of cake, are very grateful to those who, week by week for the past three months, have provided this bit of comfort on these cold days, and wish us to thank their kind friends, whose names we have learned
