

A black and white woodcut-style illustration of a three-masted sailing ship, possibly a galleon or a similar historical vessel, sailing on a choppy sea. The ship has full sails on all three masts. In the background, there are dark, rocky hills or mountains under a cloudy sky. The ship is moving towards the right side of the frame.

Les maisons de grès ont reçu de circulaires des fabricants de laines, tweeds canadiens, tricotés, et les avertissant que les commandes