WHEN business is dull the progressive manufacturer does not withdraw his announcement from the proper sphere of advertising; he takes a broader view, realizing the need of keeping his field acquainted with the slogan,
"Business as Usual." Future results always warrant such action.

SELDOM does an active,
progressive man retreat from the field of activity during a critical period.
Rather does he keep his work well advertised, and in so doing reap a rich harvest when conditions right themselves and commercialism starts again on its victorious march.
