

procedures, the Ministry of External Affairs of the receiving State will promptly and officially inform the Embassy of the sending State that the dependent concerned has permission to accept employment, subject to the applicable regulations of the receiving State.

4. It is understood that in professions where particular qualifications are required, it will be necessary for the dependent to meet those qualifications.
5. Authorizations to accept employment may be refused for reasons of public order.

ARTICLE 4

The authorization to exercise a remunerative activity in the receiving State will terminate when the functions of the employee of the Diplomatic Mission, Consular Post or Permanent Mission in said State have ended.

ARTICLE 5

1. Dependents who exercise remunerative activities in the receiving State will not enjoy immunity from civil or administrative jurisdiction with respect to all matters arising out of such activities, and remain subject to the legislation and courts of said State in relation to these activities.
2. In the event that a dependent who has immunity from criminal jurisdiction in accordance with the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations is accused of a