

a temporary position at Upper Canada College in Toronto which unfortunately he could not accept as he would have had to leave Germany at once. He would however, be available in the course of the summer. His amiable personality, his fine culture and wide experience, will make him an asset to any institution that he joins.