190 Yonge St. Canada's Greatest Store. Toronto.

Store Closed All Day--Civic Holiday.

In much the same way as this store sets the pace for Toronto this city sets the pace for Canada. There's more enterprise here, more business, more life, more activity, and more ambition. Toronto has grown to be an important factor in the world's commerce, with a metropolitan swing in everything it undertakes. As a city it stands head and shoulders above other cities; as a community it ranks first and foremost for generous living.

This store is but a part of the busy activity of Toronto. Extensive enlargements and improvements now under way confirm the impression that this business is growing, which means that this is more and more of a trade centre. To-day's holiday finds its largest application in the fact that Toronto is a good place to live in. It is fair to assume that this store helps make it so.

Tuesday morning we'll be ready for business with a host of special values—these among them:

Supernumerary of Teachers.
Dundalk Herald.
Pedagogue Monday and his friends would like to know why, after paying his assessments into the teachers' superannuation fund regularly year after year, he has not yet been granted the usual allowance. As the law now stands a teacher pays $1 a year when he retires he is allowed $7 per year for every year he has taught. If a teacher has taught 20 years he pays in $30 and draws $140 per year as long as he lives. Mr. McLaughlin's application has been under the consideration of the Minister for nearly a year. The only explanation he can get is that it is being considered or that the Minister is out of the city. It will be too bad if through any technicality Mr. McLaughlin is deprived of his share of the fund. Why was his $1 a year not accepted if there was any doubt about his right to participate in it?

THE TORONTO WORLD
It is not the intention of The World because its party, or rather the party that it is most in accord with, happens to be out of power to cry blue ruin. When there are evidences that times are improving, when the prospects are more hopeful, it will say so, whether Liberal or Conservative it is in the power of a Government to materially aid in the development and progress of a country, but it does not believe that good or bad times are at the absolute disposal of any set of men. It rather wishes they were, for then there cannot be a doubt that times would always be good. And there are most hopeful indications now. It is impossible to believe that the Laurier Government will take any such step as to turn towards the good that its predecessors wrought by adopting the National Policy, and, therefore, the people putting patriotism before party have seemingly resolved to make the best of the situation and to put their trust in the future. Immediately after the elections it looked as if public confidence had been entirely destroyed, but the volume of business now being done makes it apparent that hope has succeeded to doubt. During July there was universal complaint of the lightness of travel and of the paucity of business at the watering places. Now everything is lovely, and all are as busy as bees. In our own case with these dollar signs we can see that the volume of business is now being done makes it apparent that hope has succeeded to doubt.
