SENATE PO Chinese Official News inceived in London Confirms the Report, But No Details Are Given and There Are Doubts.

Mr. Brodrick Spoke at a Primrose League Fete and Expressed Himself Hopefully-Thinks the Situation Better Than for Some Days-Britain Will Not Allow Her Interests to 60 Down in Any Part of the World-Unsatisfactory

Londer, Aug. 16, 3.50 a.m.—"The allies are reported to have reached Pekin Monday," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Express, wiring yesterday. He adds: "Chinese official news confirms this statement, but without details."

A Paris message repeats this, but the statement, especially as it emanates from the Minister of France at Pekin, M. Pichon, dafed Aug. 9:

"We have been advised that Li Hung Chang is charged to negotiate telegraphically with the powers. We are ignorant of the events occurring outside the legations. It is surrounded by hostile defenses. How could we negotiate without the diplomatic corps regaining its rights the allies captured Ho Si Wn after a fight with troops under Gen. Tung Fu Siang's personal command. The fleeing enemy, it is added, were immediately pursued in order to prevent them from making a further stand, the cavalry pushing southward to cut off the Chinese line of retreat upon Pan Ting Fu.

In Pekin, the despatch adds, Prince Tuan is having everyone executed who sympaticles with or provisions the foreigners.

CANADA'S NATIONAL RAILWAY.

Length of the Intercolonial Railway, 1355 miles. Cost to the people of Canada, $60,000,000.

It connects the Maritime Provinces with old Canada-in other words, connects Montreal, Quebec, St. John, Moncton, Halifax, Sydney, Charlottetown. The Intercolonial gives Canada all-the-year-round seaports at St. John, Halifax, Sydney, independent of all the other railways in Canada or out of Canada,

The Intercolonial is an essential factor in a Canadian fast Atlantic steamship express, making the shortest and safest line between Canada and Europe and the Western States and Europe. As long as Canada controls the Intercolonial she can make any one of her maritime cities the Atlantic port of this fast steamship express. Give up the Intercolonial and Canada will have to submit to the terms of the railways and the ocean lines. She will be no longer free to pick the best port or to change her port as circumstances require. Her hands will be tied. It is essential to Canada's national existence that she have Atlantic seaports reached by her own railway and not be at the mercy of the Grand Trunk or the Canadian Pacific, both of which roads, tho enormously subsidized by Canada, have deliberately declared that they are strictly commercial, not national, and that they intend to cultivate Portland and Boston at the expense of Canadian ports. The Intercolonial is the highway to the great coal fields, iron beds and iron smelting works now being established in Cape Breton. The iron industry of Cape Breton could be frozen to death by private railways.

The Intercolonial will be an essential factor in bringing Newfoundland into the Confederation.

As it is to-day the Intercolonial is a check in the east on the two big corporations winter and summer; much more so in summer, as now that the Intercolonial comes to Montreal it will be able to handle freight by alliances with boats clear up to the head of Port Arthur.

But once the Intercolonial is put at the Georgian Bay via Ottawa and at the Niagara and Detroit Rivers via Toronto it will be an efficient and everlasting check on the Grand Trunk and on the C. P. R. It will be an effective regulator of these and other roads. But it must be absolutely free of all or any entanglements with the other companies. The effect of this regulating power would be felt clear up to Port Arthur.

The Intercolonial at Georgian Bay will be in touch with the Canadian Northern, the promised rival of the C. P. R. in the Northwest and British Columbia.

The great present object is to keep the Intercolonial free and independent, and next to put it in touch with the rich freight-giving Province of Ontario. Ontario paid largely for it, but has no direct benefit from it.

Fearsome of what the Intercolonial is, still more frightened as to what it may be become, a movement has been started to destroy it, to tangle it up in deals, to create distrust in it, to lead people to believe that a state-owned railway is, if not impossible. a source of political corruption, and that it ought to be got rid of -by giving it over to the Canadian Pacific.

The Intercolonial is Canada's greatest present asset, and its immediate possibilities are still more enormous.

Any man, journal or party that proposes to cripple, alienate or destroy the usefulness of the national railway is an enemy of the nation, a traitor to the people and the friend of the great railway corporations. There is no political crime in sight equal in enormity to this one. And yet it is now in contemplation—has been the object of a conspiracy for years. It has been revived with much fervor within the present year. There are politicians. and newspapers actively engaged in this conspiracy to-day!

Give the C. P. R. the Intercolonial and they can bond it for forty million of dollars, and with forty millions what could they not do in the way of buying up politicians, newspa pers, parliaments.

Give the C. P. R. the Intercolonial and you increase its power by one hundred million dollars; you put the east under the same freight bondage of which the west complains, and you put back the hands of the clock fifty years. We are in a ten times better position than the people of the United States in effecting emancipation from the thraldom of railways by keeping the splendid beginning that we have of a national railway

Hustle the banditti now at work trying to cripple and then alienate Canada's greatest piece of national property.
