Explosion of Boiler Wrecks Detroit Factory, Pinning Scores of Employes Beneath the Fallen Roof-Flames Add to the Horror, Roasting Many of the Victims Alive.

Detroit, Nov. 26.—Twenty-six men are dead, five of them unidentified and so terribly burned and blackened that identification is almost impossible, and 24 other men are lying in the various hospitals of the city suffering from terrible cuts and burns and other injuries, all results of the explosion of one of the boilers in the Penberthy Injector Company's plant, at the corner tor of the Northwest Mounted Police, who of Abbott-street and Brooklyn-avenue, at 9.30 o'clock to-day. Following are the dead: A. E. Hoffman, A. E. Miller, Joseph Coffey, Steven Chrisph, Jacob Keobet, Robert Creer.

The Dead. Louis Henning, Eugene Bertram, Charles Marvin, George Schonor, William Mann, Douglas Dickinson, Patrick Malloy, R. Mulkee, Joseph Koseck, Charles Lydy, Chris. Waldman, John Schwalbe, Peter Doll.

Five unidentified bodies. R. Bryant, A. E. Hoffman, Joseph Coffey, A. E. Miller, Eugene Bertram, course. Edward Bertsch, Charles Marvin, Stephen Crisp, Patrick Malloy, J. Frye and 10 unidentified bodies.

In addition to those more seriously injured, a dozen or more of employes, who suffered comparatively slight injuries, were taken directly to their homes. Eighteen men and boys have not as yet been located, either at their homes or at the hospitals. The five unidentified bodies account for five of these, and the officers of the company say they feel positive that the major portion of the remaining 13 are by to-night at their homes.

To-night a great force of men is searching the ruins by electric light, the Canadian officials of the Northwest and the work will not be stopped until every foot of the debris has been | Territory are taking very seriously and are

The Penberthy Injector Company's plant occupied half a square at the corner of Abbott-street and Brooklyn-avenue. It was composed of two brick buildings, separated by a 16-foot alley. The rear building, in which the boiler was located, and was completely destroyed, was three storeys high buildings, separated by a 16-foot alley. He gave up over rious departments of the rear building when the explosion occurred, but the officers insist that the number was not over 85. The awful crash came without the slightest warning. The floors and roof of the rear building bulged upwards and then crashed down, a mass of debris.

Windows in houses for a block around were broken by the concussion, and flying bricks filled the neighboring yards. Flames broke out from the ruins almost immediately, and the horror of the fire was added to the suffering ones imprisoned.

Caring for the Injured. Calls were sent out for all the ambulances in the city. Pending their arrival, neighboring houses were turned into temporary hospitals.

The Engineer's Escape. Engineer Riley was among the first to be dug out from the wreck. His escape was little short of miraculous. He was knocked to the floor, and one of the smaller testing boilers was blown over him, forming a shield that kept the falling timbers, bricks and machinery from crushing him. The escaping steam, however, burned him frightfully. Riley's first words were:

"How did it happen? The engine and boilers were all right." Gradually the rescuers worked their way downward thru the pile. By this time there were no cries or groans to aid them, for the flames had destroyed those unfortunates who were not killed by the explosion or the fall. But the work of rescue continued with unabated haste. Stretcher-bearer's stood beside the delvers and bore away the burned and blackened bodies. A vacant house adjoining the factory was converted into a temporary morgue. In several cases the charred corpses were so hot when recovered that they

The front building of the plant sustained comparatively little damage, considering the tremendous explosion within 16 feet of it.

There were a dozen girls among the employes on the four floors of the building, but nobody was injured.

Discussing the election frauds, Mr. Ross said it was the case that in both the Conservative and Liberal parties there had been irregularities, but the difference between the two parties lay in the fact that the Conservatives allowed the guilty case.

Canada Greatest Democracy.

The nominee, Mr. Gross, wound up the meeting with a five-minute speech. Canada he declared, was a greater democracy than the United States. Oanadians were under no obligations to the United States. CHAMBERLAIN ACCEPTS CANADA'S MOUNTED MEN

Colonel Evans Leaves Winnipeg To-Day to Superintend the Formation of His Corps-Preference to Be Given to Men

Who Have Seen Service in South Africa. Ottawa, Nov. 26.-The cabinet ministers met in council at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and spent a couple of hours discussing the despatch from the Colonial Office, announcing the acceptance of Canada's offer to recruit a mounted force for South Africa. When council arose, it was simply announced that the terms of the despatch were considered satisfactory.

Chamberlain's Message. The document, furnished to the press from Government House, read as "To Lord Minto, Ottawa: Referring to your telegram of Nov. 21, Imperial government gratefully accepts offer of corps, consisting of not less than 600 men, to be raised on the following lines: (1) Men to be able to ride and shoot; (2) the Imperial Yeomanry rates of pay to be accepted, viz., cavalry rates to date of embarkation and Yeomanry rates subsequently; (3) Canadian government to provide horses, saddlery, uniforms, boots, etc., on repayment. Imperial government to provide arms; (4) officers to be nominated by Canadian government, and their names submitted to Commander-in-Chief on approval of Secretary of State for War; (5) medical conditions to be as for Imperial Yeomanry; (6) preference to be given to men who have had previous service in South Africa and to single men, married men and widowers, with children, to be accepted, provided that they understand that no separation allowance will be issued. "Telegraph as soon as possible whether scheme, as outlined above, meets with approval of your ministers. Chamberlain."

"(Signed) Colonel Evans to Command. Lieut.-Colonel Evans, who is to command the force, will leave Winnipeg to-morrow and arrive here on Friday.

Contracts for the clothing, boots and saddlery will be given out at once. It is understood the period of enlistment will be for one year or till the close of the war. The rates of pay for privates in the Canadian Rangers will be 28 cents enndidate at the election in 1990, but was unseated by the courts for bribery by an agent.

To-night Hon. George B. Foster addressed a full house on public questions. After presenting the claims of the candidate on the electors, he spoke at considerable length on the history of the Liberal-Conservative party, and counselled ail good electors not to desert the principles that have been the watchwords of Conservatives in the past. Hhe showed how faithfully the Conservatives strove for and stood by Confederation for years, till it was accomplished. He then showed that protection had been established in Canada thru the efforts of the Conservatives. He ridicaled the Liberals, who fought against protection from 1878 to 1896, and then, when elected to pewer, adepted the very principles they had so strenuously opposed. He strongly denounced the Liberals for their desertion of their principles, and for the sake of expediency adopted the political platform of their opponents. His third charge against the Liberals was their opposition against the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway. They fought with a vigor worthy of a better cause, and now not a man can be found who will say that it was not a great stroke of enterprise when that great commercial highway was built. He closed a speech of nearly an hour and a half with a very strong pleafor purity in elections and political life, and urged young men to spurn with contempt the men who approach them with
