Cleveland Outing.

The Cleveland Greys are a military organization of Cleveland, organized in 1837, and consisted of ex-service men. In 1912 they visited Canada as a unit in uniform and were entertained in Calgary by the local regiment. Practically all of the men attending the picnic had seen service in France, and spoke highly of their association with Canadian troops. About 150 were present at the picnic, and the hours on Canadian soil were happily spent in Canadian soll were happily spent in games and a baseball match between the single and married men, resulting in a victory for the former, the score being 28 to 21.

HELLO GIRLS, WITH FELLOW-WORKERS. STAGE BIG OUTING

Springbank Park Invaded by 250 Bell Employees On Half-Holiday.

St. Thomas Society.

The Society of the Sons and Daughters of England from St. Thomas held the thirty-eighth annual picnic yesterday and met with great success. The terday and met with great success. The terday and met with great success. The branch of the Bell Telephone Company of London."

Chester 18. nual outing of the Bell Telephone Company of London." This was the "warcry" of 250 employees of the local branch of the Bell Telephone Company's annual picnic at Springbank yesterday afternoon. The merry picnickers left the city by special cars, and when they arrived immediately ran off a list of sports. Some very good results were shown, but no records were broken, although one of the girls won six or seven prizes.

The feature of the day was the tugof-war between picked teams from all branches of the London company. The winners, captained by W. J. Costello, plant chief, certainly did deserve the win, considering that hey were pulling about 500 pounds more than their own weight, and that they were pulling uphill. However, several draws were necessary to decide the winners, and the last pull found Captain Costello's team was best. Following are the names of the winning team: Captain W. J. Costello, R. Bradshaw, anchor; A. Ion, W. Hill, N. Robson, A. King, W. Rodon. The names of the losers are Arthur Fair, captain; L. Duke, anchor; S. Blake, S. Knightly, I. Herbert, W. Crawford, J. Cowan.

At the conclusion of the foot races a ball game between the linemen and the inspectors was, played. It proved to be a very crosely contested one.

Men over 50—J. Grantham, John arnett, John Beavis.

Blind pig race—G. Hughes and Helen and some splendid hitting at the right to expression of the committee's policy from the some splendid hitting at the right time resulted in a win for the inspect. tors by the score of 8 to 7. "Hello" Girls.

"Hello" Girls.

After the ball game the merry picnickers adjourned to the supper, which had been very daintily set by the "Hello" girls on the grass in front of pavilion.

When everybody had had their fill of goodies, one of the best girls' ball games played in Springbank this year was indulged in. Two of the girls chose sides, and played until dark. The scorer could not keep track of the runs, and the batting order sometimes fooled the players themselves. However, it was all in the game and everyone took it as good sport.

ever, it was all in the game and everyone took it as good sport.

While the girls were thus occupied,
the men had the time of their lives trying to hit the pipes in the dummy's mouth. The result of all their efforts was the breaking of only two clay pipes. It may be said that nearly every employee tried his luck, but only one succeeded, and he was the receiver of three perfectly good cigars.

WALKERVILLE WANTS LOWER HYDRO RATE

WINDSOR, Aug. 11. — Protesting against the rates being charged consumers in the town of Walkerville. the council today forwarded an appeal to the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission asking that the present schedule of $37 per horsepower be reduced to $33. Members of the council claim that with a surplus of $50,000, as compared with Windsor's $11,350, there should be a substantial difference in the rates charged the two municipalities. Both are now paying $37.

TOWN PLANNING BODY FAILS TO ASSEMBLE IN FOURTEEN WEEKS

John Cottam, Member, Raises Strenuous Objections,— Hot Argument.

IMPROVE FACTORY SITE

Subway At Childers Street Suggested-Railway Expert To Be Called.

Almost as interesting a time was furnished by the town planning committee last night as was supplied earlier in the day by fractious ball players at Tecumseh Park. John Cottam was the cause of the evening's excitement. As a member of the committee, he demanded to know of Ald. Seabrook, the chairman, why no meeting of the committee had been held for three and a half months.

The meeting last night was called primarily for the purpose of discussing means of crossing the G. T. R. tracks means of crossing the G. T. R. tracks between Highbury avenue and Egerton street and linking up Dundas street and the Hamilton road. Ald. Bridge said that in addition to this a number of local improvements would have to be made to the property there if industries were to be attracted to the

"We have had no meeting for four months," said Mr. Cottam. "If the commission had done its duty and had got down to work four months a you would have no trouble in attracting industries, because plans for such improvements would now be well under way. Who is it who has held up these meetings for the past four months? It is a joke. We have ininsulted the people who have voted for town planning and expected to see it carried out. As members of the town planning commission, our responsibility is such that we cannot go on in this manner. We have been idle four planning commission, one in this manner. We have been idle four months, and I would be glad to have you explain why, Mr. Chairman."

Chairman Surprised.

The chairman was undoubtedly surprised by this sudden charge. He answered, however, that he had received a letter from Mr. Cottom asking him to call a meeting about May 25. "I called a meeting, and who came?" asked Mr. Seabrook. "Mr. Belton and myself. Ald. Cameron Wilson was in the next room and was quite ready to attend, but you did not show up until 8:15, and after staying ten minutes you took your departure, saying that you had more important business. If you had stayed we would have had a meeting, and I therefore think that your remarks are entirely uncalled for."

"Your memory is rather short," reuncalled for."

"Your memory is rather short," replied Mr. Cottam. "I attended at 8 o'clock sharp."

"I sat here for forty minutes, and as "I sat here for forty minutes, and as "I sat here for forty minutes," I sat here for forty minutes, at the there was not a quorum at that I left. The onus is on those who di attend, but it is both unfair and accurate to make a statement of kind you have just made. It is idl try to evade the responsibility of those four months of silence."

You have upset the equilibrium and good feeling of this meeting which existed up to a minute ago with somewhat the control of the question.

existed up to a limited agreement thing entirely foreign to the question for which it was called," Mr. Seabrook responded.

Ald. Moorhead interjected at this point to say that he had attended the meeting out of interest in the question meeting out of interest in the question of opening streets and not to hear the number of meetings they had held.

Attack Renewed.

Other matters were then discussed.
but Mr. Cottam returned to the attack later, when all but the members of the town planning committee had departed. He declared that he wanted an expres chairman, and not an attempt to excuse himself by harping on the one meeting which he had attempted to call. "Is this committee a figurehead to be ignored by the council, or are we to be a part of the administration of the city?" he asked. "I don't intend to continue my membership on a committee that has been asleep for four months, and is then called as a loke to deal with something which anjoke to deal with something which another body already has well under way.

Does the council intend to refer any business to us?"
Ald. Cameron Wilson made a decided.

Ald. Cameron Wilson made a decidedly frank reply to this. He said that in his opinion the council never intended, did not intend and did not expect to intend to refer matters such as sewage systems and the erections of bridges to the town planning committee. These matters being already efficiently flandled by existing bodies.
His idea was that it was to deal with the larger questions of civil construction, such as laying out new subdivisions. Matters of detail would never be brought before the committee. He also believed that Gladstone's remark to Disrael that he "was intoxicated was intoxicate was intoxicate of his own vermight have some application in this instance.

No Communication.

In opening the meeting Ald. Seabrook explained that between Highbury avenue and Egerton street, a distance of four-fifths of a mile, there was no means of communication between Dundas street and the Hamilton road. Two plans to remedy this had been suggested. One that a bridge be erected connecting the two parts of Ashland avenue and the other that a subway be built on Childers street. He favored the Windsor branch: Lloyd Stratham, manager of the Chatham branch.

VOLUNTEER CLINIO.

the subway plan. He pointed out that in addition to this work a number of public improvements would have to be made in the vicinity if it was to be attractive as a factory site. Ald. Bridge said that nothing much could be done without an amorphism to the site of the HELD AT ORPHANAGE said that nothing much could be done without an approximate idea of the cost of the work. City Engineer Brazier stated that at the request of Mayor Little he was already preparing estimates of the two proposals. Ald. Moorhead drew the attention of the meeting to the fact that large expenditures would have to be made for public improvements in the area in addition to the bridge or subway.

Assist Engineer.

A motion by Ald. Bridge that the mayor be asked to request the public utilities commission to assist the city engineer. in making a joint report on the situation to be considered by the town-planning committee and presented at the first regular meeting of the council was adopted.

the council was adopted.

Secretary Gordon Philip of the Chamber of Commerce introduced a new question. He stated that N. Cauchon, question. He stated that N. Cauchon, an eminent railway expert, had made a report on the situation here, in which he stated it would be practically impossible to obtain a union depot. Many citizens, however, hoped that it still could be accomplished, and he suggested that Mr. Cauchon might be asked to attend a meeting of the council so that the matter could be discussed more fully. City Clerk Baker will communicate with him.
